Funeral 14th
At Merced

From The Merced Sun Star

Harold P. Adams, 56, co-owner of the Wenrich Lumber Co., Merced, died March 12 at his home, 101—27th St., following a brief illness which forced him to his bed Wednesday afternoon.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Mission Chapel, Ivers and Alceon, with Rev. David McMartin officiating. Entombment was in Evergreen Mausoleum.

Mr. Adams came to Merced 17 years ago. In 1924 he purchased his father's interest in the Wenrich company and since that time has been active in the business. He was a member of the Merced American Legion Post and was active in civic affairs.

Besides his widow, Stella McFall Adams, the deceased is survived by an infant son and three other sons, Robert, Richard and Martin, and one daughter Ruth, all at home; his step-mother, Mrs. Mabel Adams, Palo Alto; two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Sargent, Piedmont; Jean Adams, Palo Alto; two brothers, George K. Adams, Walnut Grove; and Irving N. Adams, Oakland.

Winters relatives attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wyatt and Mrs. C. S. Chambers, and Roy F. Wyatt of Esparto.

Adams was well-known locally, as he operated the plant of the Noah Adams Lumber Co. over 20 years ago.

Winters Friends Anxious

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WINTERS (Yolo Co.), February 9. Harold P. Adams, private of Company E, Sixth Battalion, Twentieth Engineers, formerly of Winters, was on the transport Tuscania and friends here are as yet in doubt as to his safety.

Adams had been in charge of the Noah Adams Lumber Company yard here for the past three years. In December he enlisted with the engineers and reported at Washington immediately for instruction. The lumber yard was sold by Adams, Sr., to F. B. Chandler, as due to scarcity of experienced lumbermen he was unable to find a suitable manager.

Only Stepmother, but Shock Was as Great

"Happy? Words cannot express our happiness," Mrs. Noah Adams, 401 Haddon Road, Oakland, said as she was told that her son, Harold Adams, had been reported saved. "We've lived through the dreadful uncertainty with the assurance that our government would look after the boys and would inform us at the first moment. It was a glorious moment."

I am proud that we have been able to give our sons—for we have two sons in the war. Irving is probably now fighting in France. We heard from him last in England but understand one of his chums, who is in the same regiment, was wounded. It has been a great sacrifice but we can bear it with fortitude knowing that they will nobly defend the honor of their country and flag.

Though I am only a stepmother, it has been as hard a sacrifice to me as to any real mother. They are my boys and I know that their country will be proud of them. Harold was saved that he might do great things for his country's honor.

Letter From Harold Adams

Some weeks ago, just following the torpedoing of the transport Tuscania, a paragraph letter from forty or fifty Winters friends of Harold Adams was sent to him, congratulating him on his escape from the sea as he was on this transport, and of course, other news and good wishes were in the paragraph letter.

The other day Charles Chambers received a reply to the letter, which is here published.

A. E. F., April 16, 1918

Mr. Charles Chambers and People of Winters, Cal.

Dear Friends:

I would have quite a task before me if I attempted to acknowledge individually all the paragraphs of your letter received to-day, so I am taking the liberty of asking you to consider this a reply to each one. I have however even a greater task to tell you how agreeably surprised I was to hear from all of you and also to express my appreciation of your remark congratulating me upon my escape from a "sea disaster."

I hope to be fortunate enough to escape all war perils ahead and return to Winters to relate some of the experiences I have had "over here" and also tell you of some of the interesting things and amusing sights I have seen

I am not permitted to say what part of France we are in or anything pertaining to the nature of the work we are doing, but I can say that we are housed in tents, sleep on "Duch Boards" and straw and are as comfortably situated as a bunch of soldiers could expect to be in a foreign land. However, we have no P. G. and E. to supply us with light so am writing this by the illumination of a single candle.

It is a great satisfaction for all of us away off here to know that you people back home are so willing and strong in your support of all war measures urged and adopted by the government. We also appreciate your generous assistance and donations to those organizations that are trying to make life for the boys over here as comfortable and pleasant as possible. It would be difficult for you to realize what many of our men, especially those up in the front line,

There is a splendid spirit of co-operation and determination to win the war manifested by the boys on this side and all are anxious to accomplish the things that they have been sent over to do with credit and honor to the United States.

Hoping that it will not be such a great while before I shall have the pleasure of seeing you all again, and wishing you the best of health, prosperity and happiness, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,
Pvt. Harold P. Adams.

Musical Festival Is Held In Merced

MERCED, May 16.—The first annual Merced County school musical festival was held at Bear Creek Park Saturday with eighteen elementary school musical units and eleven high school groups participating.

The program included numbers by orchestras, glee clubs, a cappella choirs, bands, school choruses, the all county elementary school chorus and the Los Banos and Merced drum corps.

Mrs. Frank C. Hale, chairman of the Merced Womens Club music committee, presented awards to more than 100 elementary school pupils who successfully passed the music appreciation and memory tests recently conducted by the schools and the club. Mrs. A. W. Meany of the women's club also took active part in arranging the program.

Eldridge D. Barrett and Frank Haldemann, Jr., were members of the American Legion committee, co-sponsors of the program. Harold P. Adams had charge of erecting the platform in the center of the field, and Fredrik W. Steen, Merced schools music instructor, was music chairman.

CHAMBER HEADS ELECT REICH AS PRESIDENT

Victor P. Reich, publisher of the Merced Express, was elected president of the Merced City Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the directors Tuesday night. He succeeds W. H. Lemmon, who served two terms.

R. A. Jones, mayor of Merced, was chosen vice president to succeed Harold P. Adams, and I. A. Pedreira succeeds W. J. George as treasurer.

John Roth and Homer Griffin were appointed to serve on the committee arranging for the annual city and county chamber banquet to be held in the Women's clubhouse on January 17.

Adams, who presided over the earlier part of the meeting, appointed Val G. Preston to investigate ways and means of removing unsightly garbage dumps along county and state roads. The large dump near Planada on the Yosemite highway drew the particular attention of the directors.

The standing committees members will be appointed for the year in the near future.

◆ Mr. Harold P. Adams, who has been confined to Merced hospital for the last six weeks, is now convalescing at his home.

Wife:

MRS. HAROLD P. ADAMS of Hollister, whose wedding was a social event of the week at Winters, where she formerly made her home. She was Miss Letta Mae McFall, daughter of Mrs. Flora McFall.

WINTERS (Yolo Co.), July 1.—The marriage of Miss Letta Mae McFall to Harold P. Adams was solemnized June 25th in the presence of eighty guests Rev. J. J. Wilson of the Christian Church officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Flora McFall and the late T. E. McFall, Yolo County pioneers.

Adams was formerly of Winters, where he managed the Noah Adams Lumber Company, but is now a resident of Hollister and manager of the Hammond Lumber Company. He served in the World War and was a member of the Seventeenth Company, twentieth engineers, and was on the Tuscania when it was torpedoed and was picked up by a U. S. Destroyer.

The ceremony took place beneath the rose arbor, where the bride's sisters, Mrs. E. J. Reader and Mrs. W. E. Ketchum of Sacramento, plighted their troth. This arbor is said to be the largest in the world growing from one stem.

After felicitations, luncheon was served. The happy couple left by auto on a trip to the Yosemite, after which they will make their home in Hollister.

This is Stella Mae McFall, not Letta - Harold was rescued from Tuscania by a British Royal Navy destroyer, not a U.S. ship - "Sacramento Bee" Saturday 1 Jul 1922 p 16

WINTERS

Miss Stella McFall, daughter of Mrs. T. E. McFall of Winters, is to wed Harold P. Adams of Hollister, the ceremony date being set for June 25th. Eighty invitations have been issued. Adams is an employe of the Hammond Lumber Company.

Miss Stella McFall Honored by O. E. S.

Miss Stella McFall of Winters who, on Sunday, will become the bride of Harold P. Adams of Hollister, was the recipient of a bridal shower on Friday night at the Winters Eastern Star lodge room by the members of that order. Miss McFall is Patrol of the order, and the compliments in her honor testified that her service in that capacity has been appreciated, and that her departure to a new home will be regretted. Many beautiful and useful furnishings and adornments were presented and felicitations tendered the bride-to-be at the close of the business session.

McFall-Adams Wedding Third and Last in Family

In a beautifully appointed out-of-door bridal bower, canopied by the famed gigantic rose arbor of the T. E. McFall home at Winters, scintillating with glittering myriad lights subdued in pink, Miss Stella Mae McFall and Harold P. Adams of Hollister, exchanged mutual pledges of fidelity last Sunday night. June blossoms, effectively arranged in hanging baskets, with streamers of pink and lavender tulle, combined admirably with fern and foliage to enhance the attractiveness of the wedding bower. Rev. H. H. Wilson, pastor of the Christian church, read the service in the presence of 80 guests, using the ring ceremony. Miss Beatrice Day rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march. The radiant bride, a brunette, was gowned in peach colored Canton crepe and carried lilies of the valley, orchids and bride roses in her shower bouquet. She was unattended, save for the dainty flower girl, Jean Adams, of Oakland, sister of the groom. She was gowned in white and carried a basket of bride's roses.

Mrs. John de Griffin sang "I love you truly," congratulations and banquet following. The bride and groom left for an outing in Tahoe resorts. Afterward they will reside in Hollister, where Mr. Adams is employed by the Hammond Lumber Company. Mr. Adams is the son of Noah Adams of the N. Adams Lumber Company of Oakland, and is a man of sound principles and in all respects worthy. The bride, born, reared and educated in Winters, is one of the general favorites with old and young, and is a niece of the Wyatt family, old and respected pioneer residents. Her father, the late T. E. McFall, was a resident of this section for more than 35 years.

This is the third and last marriage to be solemnized in this family under the rose tree, as three daughters and four sons have gone to homes of their own.

Mrs. McFall will keep possession of the old homestead on East Main street, though she will spend much of her time among her children.

The flower girl was Harold's half-sister Jean Adams – "Woodland (CA) Daily Democrat"

Ruth Adams Is Fall Bride Elect Of Thomas Stofle

Ruth Adams had surprise news for her companions Monday evening. When the Zeta Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi gathered at the Leslie Jones home, Ruth passed the sweetmeats and thereby revealed that she is the bride-elect of Thomas Stofle of Merced.

Ruth is the only daughter of the late Harold P. Adams and Mrs. Adams of Merced. She has four brothers, Robert, who now makes his home in Walnut Grove, Richard, a student at Fresno State College, and Martin and Michael Adams.

A graduate of Merced schools, Ruth studied for two years at the College of the Pacific. She listed membership in Entre Nous and Job's Daughters during high school days, and now is a member of the Venture Club, in addition to her sorority affiliation.

Thomas is a son of Mrs. Pearl Stofle of Merced, and his sister is Mrs. Marshall Love. He is a graduate of Le Grand High School, and later attended the University of California at Davis. A civilian employee on the island of Wake at the outbreak of hostilities in the Pacific, Tommy was a Japanese prisoner for 44 months. He is presently engaged in the contracting business here.

A wedding date has not been set, though their marriage will take place in the early fall.

Michael H. Adams Married in Orange

ORANGE — The First Presbyterian Church of Orange was the setting for the wedding of Michael H. Adams, formerly of Merced, and Miss Marlene Aspling. Rev. Arvid Carlson of Santa Cruz officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Aspling of Orange and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Harold P. Adams and the late Harold P. Adams of Merced.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white silk organza with a scooped neckline edged in scalloped lace. The chapel-length train was attached to the A-line skirt. The gown was appliqued with Chantilly lace and beaded with seed pearls.

Her elbow-length veil was caught to a headpiece of lace petals edged in seed pearls.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Barton Aspling, matron of honor and Misses Valerie Hon and Marcia Wisusik. They were dressed in long-sleeved gowns of orchid organza trimmed with white lace. Accenting the gowns were white picture hats.

Attending the bridegroom was Barton Aspling, best man, with Richard Adams of Huntington Beach and Robert Adams of Walnut Grove, his brothers, ushering guests. Candlelighters were Susan Ahlstrom and Nancy Lochrie.

Following the ceremony a reception for 300 guests was held at the church. After a honeymoon in Hawaii the couple will reside in Orange.

The bride is a teacher in Orange and a graduate of Chapman College.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Merced High School and California State University, Fresno, and is employed by the City of Orange.

Attending the wedding from Merced were the bridegroom's mother and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stoffe and sons, John and Jim. Also present were the ushers' respective wives, Mrs. Richard Adams of Huntington Beach and Mrs. Robert Adams and daughters, Susan and Claudia of Walnut Grove.

NOAH ADAMS RITES HELD

Funeral services were held today at the First Unitarian Church for Noah Adams, prominent Eastbay lumberman, who died at Merritt Hospital Sunday.

Adams, president of the Noah Adams Lumber Company of Oakland, was born at Freeport, Ill., in 1857. He had lived 30 years in California and 28 years in Oakland.

Prior to moving to California he had operated retail lumber yards in Minnesota and the Dakotas.

He was treasurer of the First Unitarian Church and was active in civic, charitable and church affairs.

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Clarence E. Reed at the First Unitarian Church. Interment was at Mountain View Mausoleum.

Adams is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mabel L. Adams; two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Sargent and Jean Adams; three sons, George K. Adams of Walnut Grove, Harold P. Adams of Merced and Irving N. Adams of Oakland; and two sisters, Mrs. Susan Bissell of Dubuque, Iowa, and Mrs. Frances Parker of Pasadena.

NOAH ADAMS DIED IN OAKLAND SUNDAY

Noah Adams, 77, father of Harold P. Adams, a former resident of Winters, and manager of the Noah Adams Lumber Company station at Winters in about 1910, passed away in Oakland Sunday. He was a native of Illinois and operated extensively in the lumber business in several California cities. Funeral services were held Tuesday at the First Unitarian church, Oakland. Besides the widow and son mentioned he leaves two sons, two sisters, and two daughters.

The remains were entombed in the mausoleum at Mountain View Cemetery.

Mrs. Flora McFall attended from Winters, Ray McFall from Suisun, the W. W. Ketcham family from Modesto and Alfred McFall and family from San Francisco.

Mabel Bloom, 85, pioneer teacher, dies

Mrs. Mabel L. Bloom, 85, mother of the late Mrs. Jean Adams Stafford of Los Altos, died yesterday at a local rest home after a brief illness.

Mrs. Bloom was a pioneer California school teacher. She came from her native Boston, Mass., home with her family when she was 10 years old, crossing the Isthmus of Panama on that journey.

After being educated in the public schools of Oakland, she taught in the late '80s and up to 1900 at the Glenwood School in the Santa Cruz Mountains and in Santa Barbara. After the turn of the century, she returned to Oakland, where she taught in the public schools for a number of years.

She had lived in Palo Alto for 13 years out of the past 16.

She married for the second time when she was 80, and since her husband's death three years ago, had lived at 342 Addison Ave.

Adison Ave.

Surviving her are four stepchildren, Josephine Adams Sargent, Berkeley; George K. Adams, Walnut Grove; Irving N. Adams, Oakland, and John Bloom Jr., of Mill Valley. She was the aunt of Robert H. Atkinson and Hal M. Atkinson, both of Piedmont, and Mrs. Betty Atkinson Griffith of San Francisco.

Private services will be held at 2:30 p.m., Monday, at the Roller and Hapgood chapel, 980 Middlefield Rd., Palo Alto. The Rev. F. Danford Lion, pastor of the Palo Alto Unitarian Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Alta Mesa Memorial Park.

Romance Will End in the Wedding of Doctor and Nurse

WITH the issuance of a marriage license to Major William H. Sargent, former commandant of Base Hospital No. 1 at St. Nazaire, France, and to Miss Josephine Adams, a Red Cross nurse during the war, the announcement was made today by the families of the couple that the pair will be married Thursday noon at the home of the bride, 396 Vernon street.

Miss Adams is the daughter of Noah Adams, president of the Noah Adams Lumber Company, while the doctor is a practicing physician in this city.

Following the wedding at which the Rev. F. J. Van Horn of the First Congregational Church will officiate, the couple will go south on their honeymoon.
