4 KANSANS ON IT

Were Members of Engineers Battalion on Lost Transport.

Thos. A. Ashby of Liberty, Kan., Landed at Ft. Ellen, Scotland.

At least four Kansans were on board the fated transport, Tuscania, when it was sent down by a German submarine off the northern coast of Ireland Tuesday night. They were Thomas A. Ashby of Liberty, Vernon E. Babcock of Walnut, Purl H. Marshall of Columbus, and W. F. Ragie of Salina. The first three were members of Company E. Sixth battalion of the Twentieth regiment of engineers and former employes of the Bell-Long Lumber company, whose main office is at Kansas City. Mo.

Among the first list of survivors—forwarded from Fort Ellen, Islay, Scotland—was the name of Thomas A. Ashby of the Sixth battalion, Twentieth engineers. This list indicated that thirty survivors reached the Scotlish coast, while the main forces of the survivors were landed at two Irish ports, Buncranna and Larne. The fate of the other two Kansans in this battalion probably will be made known by reports of the missing, to be given out later today by the war department.

LIBERTY BOY AMONG SURVIV-ORS OF TUSCANIA TROOPS

G. W. Ashby Received Two Messages Today, one from K. C. Recruiting Station and One from Chicago Red Cross Announcing Safety of His Son in Ireland

Tom Ashby, mentioned in the Associated Press dispatches in today's Journal as being a member of a military unit aboard the Tuscania, is a second cousin of Alex Ashby of Coffeyville, and a son of G. W. Ashby, lumber dealer of Liberty. Tom Ashby enlisted in the Sixth Battalion of the Forestry department at Kansas City last December. The boat which was torpedoed sailed from New York on the 23d of January. Tom Ashby is a graduate of the Montgomery County high school and of the State university. He was employed by the Long-Bell Lumber company for two years and was in that concern's employ at Augusta when he enlisted. His mother is dead. He has a sister, Miss Beryl, living at Marshfield, Mo.

G. W. Ashby, Tom's father, received two official notices of his son's presence aboard the ill-fated ship today. One came from army headquarters at Kansas City—the other came from Chicago and was from either the Red Cross or the military headquarters there, he could not tell which. Both messages said Tom Ashby was aboard the Tuscania, but that he was one of the survivors and had been landed safe on the Irish coast.

Tom Ashby is 24 years of age and unmarried. The Journal talked with G. W. Ashby over the phone today, and with Alex Ashby of this city, and both feel that the war has indeed come home to them, with the news that came to them today. Relatives did not know that Tom was on the torpedoed ship until they learned it from The Journai.

Augusta Young Men on Tuscania

May Have Lost Life In Sinking Of The Ship

Augusta Young Men May Have Lost Their Lives on the Liner Tuscania, Sent to the Bottom of the Sea by Hun Topedo.

TOM ASHBY, PORTER SMITH AND PEARL MARSHALL WERE ON THE SHIP.

Letter From Ashby to A. R. Peckham Tells That Former Long Bell Employes Were Members of Company E of Twentieth Engineers.

Three Butler County boys—two of them from Augusta, may have been victims of a German torpedo, which sent the liner Tuscania to the bottom of the sea, yesterday.

Tom Ashby,

Porter Smith.

Pearl Marshall.

These names may appear in the casualty lists, tho friends of the three men are hoping that they were among the men who escaped with their lives.

A letter, from Mr. Ashby to A. R. Peckham, tells that the three men were members of Company E, Twentieth engineers, and today's dispatches gave the information that Company E was on the Tuscania.

Casualty list will not be available for several days, in all probability, so it will be some time before it will be known whether the three men escaped.

All three were employes of the Long Bell Lumber Company. Mr. Ashby and Mr. Smith were at the Augusta office, Mr. Smith going to Leon some months before enlisting in the army. Mr. Marshall was at Towanda for the Long Bell.

"Augusta (KS) Daily Gazette" Thursday 7 Feb 1918 p 1

The Journal is carrying this evening news of one of the first disasters of the war. The sinking of the Tuscania while not attendant with a comparative large loss of life will serve to bring home in an impressive manner the fact that we are at war. The further fact that a Montgomery county boy, Tom Ashby, of Liberty, was on the ill fated ship serves to bring the war to our very dors. This is but the beginning doubtless and as the days grow into weeks and the weeks to months the public and the homes that have contributed sons and husbands may as well get ready for just such shocks as broke on Coffeyville last! night.

Ashby Worked Here.

Tom Ashby, son of G. W. Ashby of Liberty, one of the American troops on board the transport Tuscania, recently torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the war zone, is known in this city. was formerly employed here as bookkeeper for the Long-Bell Lumber company, leaving a year ago to work for the company at Augusta, Kan. was one of five former Long-Bell employes who were aboard the ill-fated The company has over 200 of its former employes in the army and last Christmas President R. A. Long sent each of them a good sized check as a present.

Tuscania Survivor Worked Here.

Tom Ashby, one of the men saved, when the transport Tuscania was sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Ireland, worked in Coffeyville several months, and has a cousin living here. Tom was employed by the Long-Bell Lumber company. The cousin is Alex Ashby. The young man left the employ of the lumber company here about a year ago. is the son of G. W. Ashby, a Liberty Tom enlisted at lumber dealer. Kansas City last December in the Sixth Battalion of the Forestry department. OUR "TOM!" FIRST OUT ON TOP.

In that terrible disaster last Tuesday on the Irish coast, when the Tuscania was lost, by a German U-boat, there were 2,996 people on board. Of these 2,106 were American officers and soldiers, crew 190. Total loss, 113. On Wednesday there were eighty one Americans in hospitals. Among the first names reported was a Kansan, and he Tom Ashby of Liberty, graduate of Montgomery county High school, class of 1913, and a top basket ball player; and later successful lumberman. Tom is a son of G. W. Ashby, pioneer, big farmer and lumberman of Liberty in this county. His physical training evidently aided him in the crises.

Ashby Receives Official Notice.
Yesterday evening at six o'clock G.
W. Ashby of Liberty, father of Tom
Ashby, who was on board the Tuscania when that ship was submarined, received the following telegram:

"Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.

G. W. Ashby,

Liberty, Kansas.

Officially reported that Tom Ashby was saved from the Tuscania.

McCain, Adjutant General."

Grandson of Late Col. Forsyth Mrs. G. W. Ashby, mother of Tom Ashby, the Liberty soldier boy who was on the Tuscania, and who died in July, 1905, was, before her marriage Miss Grace Forsyth, daughter of the late Col. A. P. Forsyth, of Montgomery county.

SMITH IS SAFE IS WORD COMING

Word Comes From Porter Smith, Former Augusta Boy, Who Was on the Tuscania.

HE IS SAFE AFTER DIS-ASTER.

Word From Him Accounts for Three of the Butler County Men on the Transport.

Word has been received from Porter Smith.

His friends here have received notice that he escaped from the Tuscania disaster of a week ago. Mr. Smith is safe on English soil, says word from a sister, in Missouri to Mrs. Otis Robinson, of this city.

Mr. Smith, who formerly was with the Long Bell here and at Leon, was one of four Butler County boys who were members of Uncle Sam's army, aboard the Tuscania, when it was sent to the bottom by a German sub.

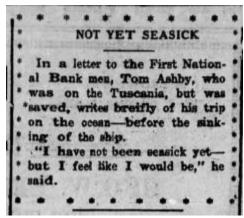

Tom Ashby was safe in Scotland at last report. With Mr. Ashby was Purl Marshall, of the Towanda yard. This leaves only Mr. Babcock, of the El Dorado yard, who has been heard from, tho his name is not given among the missing.

The disaster, which promised to strike close to home, now probably will leave Butler County unscathed.

Tom Ashby, one of the men on the steamship, Tuscania which was sunk one week ago last Tuesday night, was one of the lucky ones and his name appeared in the list of survivors. Tom, whose home is in Liberty, Kansas, is a cousin of John Ashby of this city.

TOM ASHBY Saved from Torpedoed Tuscania.

Among the first survivors reported from the Tuscania, was that of Tom Ashby of the Engineers. He writes all permited. But when the waves cast him on shore, or the boats picked him up he was reported to have been left on an island off the Scottish coast. Omitting personal matters the following is as much as passed the censor. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ashby of Liberty, received this a month after they were written:

American Camp [On active service with Y. M. C. A. American Expeditionary Force]

Somwhere in England, Feb. 11, 1918-Dear Home Folks: You understand we cannot write very much. read of the American troop ship -being submarined. I was on that ship and landed after an all night session in the water, but it was a paradise it seemed when I went ashore. The people took us in their homes-nothing too good could be done for us. We were certainly thankful. No one could know, nor can we express our gratitude and thankfulness to have been cast into such kind peoples' hands.

I am feeling very well after it all. So don't worry over me. We will be at our work very soon, I hope. Of course we lost all personal things so I will have to ask you to send me a box. (And he asked liberally and the box will be filled to the limit). He then adds: "The above I need most." Then, "If you put anything else in the box, put candy, sugar, etc. Be sure to pack in wooden box screw on the top. Send box at once." Then his personal to home folks.

TOM ASHBY,

Co. E. 6th Bat., 20th Eng. A. E. F., via New York. (Second letter).

Somewhere in England, Feb. 12.—Dear Home Folks: This has been a cold, rainy day. I am feeling well—all we Long-Bell boys are safe here in this camp and had a happy reunion The two things over here that remind one most of home are the "Ford" and the English saprrows. I wish you could see things as I see them here.

Don't ever think a cent given to the Y. M. C. A. or Red Cross goes astray. If it wasn't for them I don't know what we boys would do.

Under the circumstances we landed under (when the Tuscania was sunk by the kaiser's submarine) I have been able to see much of this country. Some of it simply wonderful, other parts not so good, however I will have to wait and tell you when I get home. * * Tell the Independence people I can't write very often.

T. ASHBY WRITES FROM OVER THERE

First Letter Comes From Augusta Boy, a Survivor of the Tuscania Disaster.

WRITES TO LONG BELL MANAGER.

Landed Twelve Hours After the Disaster, According to Word Received Here.

The first letter from Tom Ashby, a survivor of the Tuscania disaster, has been received by H. E. Uncapher, manager of the Long Bell Lumber Company. Mr. Ashby is resting after his terrible experience, "somewhere."

The letter follows.

On Active Service with American Expeditionary Force.

"My Dear Mr. Uncapher:

"I am here, safe and sound. You've to read the papers, of course, in regard to the ship being submarined. I was there. I landed safely twelve hours later. I cannot tell you my experience. Only we drifted ashore, where good people took the best of care of was. We had so much to be thankful if or.

"Only a few landed where I did. I have not seen the other Long Bell boys, but we pray that they are all safe.

"I hope we get to work soon, after I rest up a bit. I am feeling fine, tho, under the circumstances.

"I trust you are all well. I can't write much. Tell my friends that I am here safe and sound and won't be back until it is over. If there are any write-ups in the papers of the Long Bell boys, please send them to me. Trust you and Mrs. Uncapher and the boys are all well and happy, With Regards,

For Twelve Long Hours Tom Ashby Played Fish Former K. U. Student Writes From England After Escaping From Tuscania "I played fish in the water for twelve hours before I was picked up," is the way Tom Ashby, a former student at the University-who was on g the troop ship Tuscania describes his escape in a letter to the Sigma Nu fraternity. He was landed on the Irish coast S where the people gave him assistance and treated him kindly. After recovering from the effects of his long swim, he was sent to England, where he is still stationed. No indication as to what part of England he was in, was given in the letter. His company was badly disorganized and many were lost. They are stationed in England until it can be reorganized and the missing men replaced. They expect to be on their ti way to the front soon. Mr. Ashby was in the University th in 1913 and is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity.

"The Lovely Spot in Ireland."

Tom Ashby of Liberty writes to his sister, in the language of his shipmate Freeman Chilton of Portland, who went down into old ocean with the sinking Tuscania.

"Never will I forget, hereafter, the words of the song 'There's a Lovely Spot in Ireland.'

"I sure know that spot and, believe me, it is lovely, though you mightn't think so. It is the spot where I first landed after the sinking of our transport."

Mr. and Mrs. Elon Hobley of Independence, have received the following letter from Tom Ashby, who was on the Tuscania when it was torpedoed, and who enlisted in Co. E. Sixth Bn. 20th Engineers.

France, April 1, 1918. Dear Helen and Elon: Both your letters were received yesterday. I enjoyed reading them, so do it again.

I thought we'd never get any mail, but finally received a little. Your letters were written the latter part of January.

We have been moving around considerable, hence we've seen a great deal more country than most of the U.S. boys. Still we are not at our lumber work.

There is a beautiful old French city, full of parks, flowers and long shady lanes. I can go up town evenings and Sundays. I took in the city yesterday and attended a French Easter service in an old cathedral This particular building is nearly 800 years old. Everything here is strange and interesting.

I have some time trying to talk to these French people. I have a French book, so I hunt out my desires, word by word. I wish you could be here just for a day. However, I sincerely hope your home is not broken up and that you may do your bit without entering the service as a soldier.

Had a lovely two-day trip last week in a side door pullman. Oh, the modes of travel they have over here. Of course transportation is a big problem and we are glad to ride any fashion. You'd be surprised to see how good naturedly the boys take their hardships, after all, it's a wonderful lesson of sacrifice and what a man really can do, and after the war is over, I for one among thousands of others, will return home to meet the things of every day life with a heap broader smile than we ever dreamed of before.

I am always more than glad to hear from you folks. It's such a joy to receive letters away over here. You can never know how I appreciate them. The mail is irregular, so write to me whether you always get my letters or not.

i got some of the best candy from my sister. Elon, you asked what i need. Well, writing paper and a fountain pen, I believe would be the most desirable, so shoot.

Well folks, if Kaiser Bill says the word before the smaller part of your family gets over here, I'll bring you back a Dutch doll. Here's hoping you get the doll. Write soon, please. Sincerely.—Tom.

Letter From Tom Ashby.

Manager Rapp of the Long Bell Lumber Co. received the following letter from Mr. J. W. Deal of Kansas City. which will be of wide interest in Coffeyville as it is from Tom Ashby, the Liberty boy who was aboard the Tuscania when it was torpedoed off the coast of Scotland. The letter follows:

April 5, 1918.

Mr. J. W. Deal, Kansas City, Mo. Dear Sir:

I have received two letters from you since coming to this camp. The last letter today with the picture sent you by Mr. Rapp. You have no idea how glad we Long-Bell boys are to hear from you folks at home. I also received a letter from Mr. Long. I showed the letter to my staff officers as they are all lumbermen and were all very much interested in Mr. Long's letter.

All we boys are well, and are doing some good hard training at this camp. I don't know when we will get in the woods. We are in a beautiful old French city, and have three hours in which we are allowed to go up town each evening. We also have Sundays off. No telling how long we'll be here though.

Last Sunday I attended a French Easter service in one of the oddest cathedrals in Europe. It certainly was interesting, although rather strange to a "yank."

It has been raining most of the time here. The fellow who said "Sunny France" never was here.

Our mail is very irregular. Some letters arrive in three weeks and others it takes two months. I have received about twenty letters and four nackages thus far.

Bill Ecrwick, son of the Long-Bell man in Chicago is in the 6th battalion. He is certainly a jolly good fellow. He and Porter are in the same company. We Long-Bell hows are going to have a group picture taken tomorrow, and shall send you all one when they are finished.

I wish you could peek in on we boys when we are in an uptown cafe trying to order some French dainties. We all have a French book so hunt out our wants one by one. It does not take long to learn enough French so we can get along though.

We can't get tobacco in France except where we are in reach of an American canteen. So far we have always been near a canteen.

You no doubt have received some of my letters written after we landed in England and have heard all about our sea-bath. I received a story in "The Saturday Evening Post" by "The Saturday Evening Post" Irwin S. Cobb about the Tuscania. He was on the Baltic just ahead of us. The story was rather amusing to we boys who were on the Tuscania. What puzzles me is how Mr. Cobb could see so much about the affair for if the Baltic ever made twenty knots per hour she certainly made it when the explosion occurred at our boat as she was out of sight almost before we could get up on deck and believe me that was not very long.

I am glad to hear that the company is having such good meetings of the different retail sections. Well we boys over here hope to participate in the meetings some sweet day, but before that day arrives Long-Bell is going to have a meeting in Berlin. There won't be so many of us as you have in your Oklahoma City and Wichita gatherings, but the whole city will know we are there know we are there.

I am trying to hold my writing pad on my knee as I write so please excuse blots, etc.

I received a letter from Mr. J. A. Foresman, also com Mr. S. W. Baxter. It certainly our hearts good to know that you hink of us and can find time to whole.

Our bunch now consists of Sgt.

Unless Dame Rumor, who seems to be in the exclusive employ of the Kaiser, ceases her activity in Coffeyville this paper may have to open a German Lie department. Yesterday phone calls came to this office for particulars on the alleged sinking of an American transport with heavy loss of life. No less than a score of calls came over the phone so that the lie gained pretty wide circulation. The last previous report of sinking of American transports was a much bigger lie than this one. It emanated from Berlin and said vorty transports carrying Yanks had been sunk at sea. That was a lie worth while and we suggest to Dame Rumor that if she is going to work for the Kaiser she ought to watch the Berlin news closer and try and emulate the home office. The truth is there has been lost at sea since the United States entered the war just 219 brave American boys, practically all of them on the Tuscania, which Tom Ashby of Liberty was aboard and survived. Our losses at sea has been a little more than one person to every ten thousand soldiers transported overseas. But go to it, Dame Rumor, there isn't a more fruitful field than the one you have chosen to lie in and there are still some people who believe you for a short time.

There were 215 casualties on board Tuscania, so this account is close to accurate – "Coffeyville (KS) Daily Journal" Tuesday 27 Aug 1918 p 4

361 Varieties In City Garden

The garden of Mr. and Mrs. loyd A. Cassady, 1515 Classen rive, is a lovely, colorful, garen this season of the year. A ombination of iris and peony looms in effective mass plantags makes it particularly specacular.

Growing in the small garden re over 300 varieties of iris, 61 : arieties of peonles. For spring olor, the blossoms of 3,000 bulbs nake a flashy accent for the nany interesting shrubs, planted or specimen effects and on the premise line to provide privacy or the little garden. One unusual tree is that of the Ginkgo, whose fan-shaped leaves have a habit of falling simultaneously rather than fluttering down to the ground singly, and over a period of time The base of the tree is night-lighted, creating a dramatic garden effect.

One cannot write about the garden without including the important, neatly designed, redwood tool house. Inside on the shelves are galvanized metal covered containers (all painted with black letters naming the contents like bone meal, peat moss, etc.), neat as a canister set in a kitchen cupboard.

set in a kitchen cupocaru.

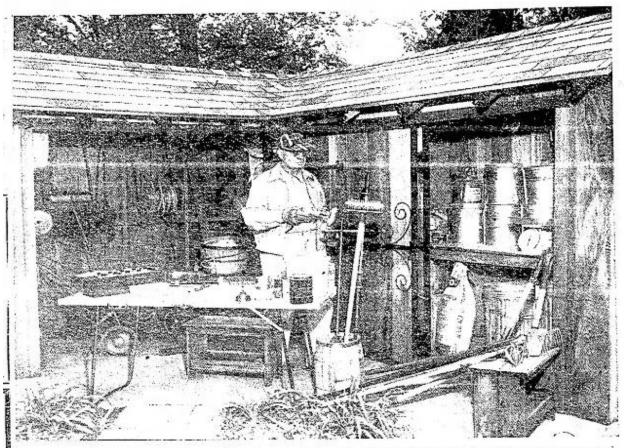

Large metal hinges hold the doors in place, and ornaments of the same material in fleur de lys design decorate the projecting roof joists. Statues of St. Anthony and St. Francis having lights are spotted on two of the outside walls. Two redwood benches adjacent to the building welcome visitors to tarry and visit with Mr. Cassady while working at this hobby

An ornamental fountain, spewing trickles of water provides an illusion of coolness

Walks along borders make for safe walking when viewing the many blossoms. Chairs for relaxing are on the lawn area.

It is a very clean garden having excellent maintenance with lots of interesting plant material, including most of the newer varieties of iris.

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

John Forsythe Ashby (March 26, 1929 – May 10, 2001) was an American bishop in the Episcopal Church.^[1]

Early life and education [edit]

Ashby was born in Tulsa, Oklahoma, on March 26, 1929, son of Thomas Albert Ashby and Margaret Mote. ^[2] He received a bachelor's degree in Psychology and Sociology from Oklahoma State University in 1952 and a master's degree in divinity from the Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest in 1955. ^[3] Between 1966 and 1967, he studied New Testament ethics as a member of Pembroke College, Cambridge in England and was awarded a Master of Arts in 1967. He was awarded a Doctor of Divinity from the Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest in 1981. He married Mary Carver on August 12, 1954, and together had two children.

Ordained ministry [edit]

Ashby was ordained priest in December 1955 and became vicar of St John's Church in Durant, Oklahoma, and St Peter's Church in Coalgate, Oklahoma. In 1959 he became rector of St Luke's Church, in Ada, Oklahoma, where he remained until 1981. He was also a chaplain in the Oklahoma National Guard and held the rank of lieutenant colonel.^[4]

Bishop [edit]

On February 14, 1981, Ashby was elected on the sixth ballot as the second Bishop of Western Kansas during a special diocesan convention. He was then consecrated on May 21, 1981, at St. John's Military School in Salina, Kansas. He led the Episcopal Diocese of Western Kansas until his retirement in 1995. [5][6] In 1986, he travelled to Guam to serve as interim bishop of the Episcopal Church in Micronesia. [7] In 1992, as an ecumenical gesture, he named a Roman Catholic priest an honorary canon. [8] He retired in January 1995. He died in 2001 [9]

Parents' marriage: 25 Dec 1887 Montgomery Co. KS

Spouse: Margarerite/Marguerite/Margaret Mote Ashby Cassady, Apr 1899 "Clarks" NE (1900 census) but listed as 1 Apr 1904 on her tombstone and 1 Apr 1903 in her obituary – 26 Jun 1979 Tulsa, Tulsa OK [or Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Co. OK).

Daughter of John G. (1860-1947, F: 19304812) & Jessie F. Mote (1862-1958, F: 19304810). In the 1900 census for Clarksville, Merrill NE, John G. Mote (37 IN, Nov 1862, father b. OH, mother b. NC, married 12 years, a teacher) lived with wife Jessie M. (36 IA, Mar 1864, father b. OH, mother b. NY) & children Clarence (9 KS, Oct 1890), Paul R. (3 NE, Nov 1896) & Margaret (1 NE, Apr 1899). Her mother had given birth to 5 children, 3 of whom were living. In 1910, John G. Mote (43 IN, father b. IN, mother b. SC, in his 1st marriage, married 22 years, a school teacher) lived in Broken Arrow, Tulsa OK with wife Jessie F. (41 IA, father b. OH, mother b. NY, in 1st marriage, given birth to 5 children, 3 of whom were living) & children Clarence (20 KS, engineer at a light plant), Paul R. (12 NE) & Margaret (11 NEO. In 1920, the family lived in Mounds Creek OK – John G. Mote (51 IN, father b. IN, mother b. SC, superintendent of a private school), Jessie F. (39 IA, father b. CT, mother B. OH), Clarence (28 KS, engineer, gas) & Margaret (20 NE).

Age 29 in 1930, indicated age 20 when 1st married (she was 22 when married Tom). Following her divorce, she married (apparently) Floyd A. Cassady (24 Sep 1894 – 7 Sep 1975, F: 100106537).

In the 1940 census of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Co. OK, Floyd Cassady, 45 MO, a salesman for a manufacturer of water meters, lived with wife Margaret (34 NE) & son John "Cassady" (i.e. Ashby), age 11, b. OK.

But – on 10 Apr 1949, Floyd A. Cassady married Mrs. Margaret Cassady in Oklahoma Co. OK. So, perhaps there was a "technical error" with their original marriage ceremony (documentation could not be located.

In the 1950 census, Floyd A. Cassady, 55 MO, salesman of water meters, lived with wife Margaret (46 NE) in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Co. OK.

Her tombstone reads Margaret Cassady. She is buried in Rose Hill Burial Park, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Co. OK.

Spouse Find A Grave: 100106336

Marriage: Tom A. Ashby, age 27, resident of Sapulpa, Creek OK, married Miss Margarerite/Marguerite Mate, age 22, resident of Sapulpa, Creek OK, on 10 Nov 1920. Her name is spelled Margarerite on the application, Marguerite on the signed documentation about the marriage ceremony. Divorced 14 Feb 1933 Bristow OK with custody of minor son John awarded to Margaret. –

Children:

 John Forsythe Ashby, 26 Mar 1929 Tulsa, Tulsa OK - 10 May 2001 Tulsa, Tulsa OK. Age 1 in the 1930 census. Custody awarded to his mother in his parents' 1933 divorce. The Rt. Rev. Ashby became bishop of the Episcopalian District of Western Kansas 1981-1994. "Daily Oklahoman" (Oklahoma City OK) 11 May 2001 p 16 – d. age 72, graduate of Oklahoma State University 1952, master's degree in divinity, Episcopalian Theological Seminary of the Southwest in 1955, ordained priest Dec 1955, elected bishop of western Ks in 1981. Chaplain in OK National Guard for 22 years until retired from the Guard in 1981. Retired as bishop Jan 1995.

Siblings:

• Elizabeth (also listed as Edith) Beryl Ashby Guy, 29 Jul [her TX death record says Jun] 1890 KS – 24 Aug 1981 Dallas, Dallas TX, Wife of Lemuel Pomeroy Guy (1886-1959, F: 42348434). "Independence (KS) Daily Reporter" 11 Jun 1912 p 8 – "The crowning social event of the week" will be the wedding of Beryl Ashby to Lemuel Guy of Paris MO at 8p..m. on 12 Jun 1912 at the bride's beautiful country home at the Verdigris River bend, southeast of Independence, on the spacious veranda surrounded by pink rambler rose bushes in full bloom. In Sep 1912 the couple reside in Harris MO. In Aug 1919 L.P. & Beryl Ashby Guy reside in the Ozarks, at a Cedar Lawn home of 240 acres. In Mar 1957 they live in Liberal KS. – Died of lung cancer. She was a widow & owner of a lumber yard. Buried in Liberty Cemetery, Liberty, Montgomery KS. F: 42348424
