Ill, Marin Man Suicide

James O. Bickford, 64, a retired automobile serviceman, was found dead in his Mill Valley home late yesterday, an apparent suicide.

His wife, Beatrice, made the discovery when she returned to the house at 48 Valley Circle. Bickford's body was slumped on a chair, a .45 caliber bullet in his chest and the revolver on his lap. Mrs. Bickford told police her husband had been despondent because of illness.

Life:

MURDER SUSPECT LODGED IN JAIL

OFFICERS MAKE IMPORTANT CAP-
TURE UNDER UNUSUAL CIR-CUMSTANCES.

Man Ordered Out of Town Proves to Fit Description of Fugitive and
He Is Rearrested.

A man who says his name is Joe Gran, but who is supposed to be Antonio Cavaliere, an Italian wanted in San Jose for complicity with G. A. Cavaliere in the murder of Tony Troia, was arrested yesterday afternoon at San Ardo by Constable Horace G. Towle, upon telephonic information from Chief of Police O. M. Hiserman of this city.

The two Cavallieres, nephew and uncle, respectively, got into a row with Troia at a dinner in the Italian quarter, bottles were freely used by the combatants and finally young Cavaliere fatally shot Troia. Both immediately disappeared and nothing had been heard of them until the arrest of the suspect.

Constable Towle brought the prisoner to Salinas last night. He bears a striking resemblance to the picture of the man wanted, but is several inches taller. He made a number of conflicting statements at the jail last night during a brief interview with the officers and could not give a satisfactory account of his whereabouts on the night of the murder. He is familiar with San Jose and the surrounding country.

Gran's or Cavaliere's arrest came about under unusual circumstances. He passed through Salinas yesterday on the blind baggage of the Shore Line Limited, southbound, in company with James Bickford, a 13-year-old runaway boy. The pair were observed by Chief Hiserman, who took the boy into custody and ordered the man to beat it out of town. Hiserman afterward found a circular awaiting him at his office containing a description and a picture of the man. He therefore telephoned ahead and had him arrested.

Sheriff Langford has notified the Salinas officers to hold him a few days and if he does not come through with a confession a man will be sent from San Jose to identify him.

The prisoner says he came to California from Honolulu four years ago. He is a laborer and last worked on the pipe line at Martinez. Rain interfered with the operations and he left there and went to Tracy, thence to Niles and San Jose. He devoted about two weeks to wanderings in the vicinity of San Jose, visiting Milpitas and Redwood City, and claims to have been in the latter place on the night of the murder. He states that he found James Bickford, his youthful companion, near Milpitas and advised him to return home. The latter declining to do so, he allowed him to accompany him on his trip to Los Angeles. Young Bickford's home is in San Francisco and he will be sent to his parents.

Gran or Cavaliere was examined by the district attorney this morning but nothing was gleaned from him. The lower part of his face is identical with the picture, but otherwise he does not fit the description closely except as to age.

Young Bickford, it is expected, will be able to throw some light on the prisoner's recent past and an effort will be made to get a true statement from him.

Appears to be the correct James Oscar Bickford, age 13, runaway from his San Francisco CA home – in companion with a suspected murderer – “The Californian” (Salinas CA)

FIRST NAMES OF THE SURVIVORS FROM TUSCANIA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Out of the war zone today came the names of hundreds of American boys saved from the torpedoed transport Tuscania, to ease anxiety in the homes of this country. The names are now being sent across the water in a steady stream, and as rapidly as possible are being compiled for publication. Not until the entire list is in will the war department be able to check up and determine those who gave up their lives.

Those thus far announced as from California include John F. G. Equi, 2255 Twenty-fourth street, San Francisco; James O. Bickford, 3721 Peralta avenue, Oakland; George Chaves, 86 Center road, San Jose;

PAST COMMANDERS ARE HONORED AT LEGION BANQUET

Past Commanders of Alyn W. Butler Post of the American Legion were honored last Thursday evening following a regular meeting of the post in Memorial hall. The occasion was also in memory of the late Lieut. Myron E. Lackey, the second Commander of the post, who lost his life recently in an airplane accident.

Nearly 200 Legionnaires, members of the Auxiliary and Past Presidents of the local unit were seated at the banquet tables where Past Commanders and Past Presidents were given seats of honor. The tables were beautifully decorated in the national colors and the Legion colors.

Past Commanders who were able to be present included Irvin D. Elliott, Tony A. Mealia, Wm. R. Stephens, W. T. Eich and M. M. Daubin, each of whom responded with remarks of their activities during their term of office. W. H. Sweat was the first commander when the post was organized late in 1919. He was succeeded by the late Myron E. Lackey.

Others who served as Commanders but were unable to be present included A. M. Charter, now residing in Oakland, Clarence Frederick, now living in Salinas, L. A. Boom, B. H. Leonard, Maurice Mahan and R. F. Brill. I. D. Elliott and Tony Mealia served two terms as commander during different periods of the post's history.

District Commander Leroy Diese of Sacramento and Area Commander Wilson of Marysville were among the department officers present. A large number of out-of-town guests were also present, including large delegations of Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from Fair Oaks and Lincoln posts.

Frank Tropper, commander of the local post, acted as toastmaster and spoke concerning the activities of the Legion during the time Lieut. Lackey was commander.

The committee in charge of the refreshments, which were greatly enjoyed, consisted of Don L. Bass, chairman, O. G. Bitner, W. P. Bryant, G. Bianchi, J. O. Bickford, W. Brugger, I. Beattie, Wm. D. Barris and Joe Barca. Steve Griggs, Legion chef extraordinary, acted as culinary expert.

Two Roseville Men Are Robbed, Beaten

The police here and in Yolo County are searching for two thugs who last night slugged and robbed two Roseville, Placer County, men in Broderick and then escaped in their victims' car.

Leonard Hensley and James Bickford, who were robbed, said the pair leaped on the running board of their car, beat them into semi-consciousness, robbed them of a total of $68 and then threw them from the machine. Hensley said their attackers were Mexicans.

John A. (Jack) Hossfeld

Oct.19, 1928 - Oct.2, 2014

Born to August Hossfeld and Alice Nelson Hossfeld, Jack was a 3rd generation San Franciscan. He attended Mission Dolores, Saint Ignatius College Prep, Santa Clara University and San Francisco State. He served in the Army in Korea as a teletype operator during the Korean War. Jack married Ruth Edna Bickford in 1954, and they raised their children Laurette and Steve in Mill Valley and San Rafael.

Jack was an accountant by trade, but the greatest gift he gave to those who knew him was music. Jack played trumpet, trombone, saxophone, clarinet, and piano, and played them all well. He was a member of various bands in Marin over the years, including People of Note, the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District Non-Marching Band, and the College of Marin Band. He also had an encyclopedic knowledge of the Swing Era and its music.

A couple of years after Ruth's death in 1991, Jack married Maryalis McGuinness, and together they enjoyed many years of adventures and family.

Jack is survived by his wife Maryalis, daughter Laurette (Mike), son Steve (Beth), grandchildren Chris, Sarah, Theresa, Fran, and Daniel, Zoe, Lu, and great-grandchildren Simon and Oscar. Extended family and friends including Zack, Jack, Molly, Jesse, Max, Audriana, Tara, Derek, all of the members of Maryalis' family, the Rogers and Smiths and other dear ones meant a great deal to Jack as well. Grandpa Jack was well loved and will be remembered and missed by all.

A memorial Mass and reception will be held at Nazareth House in San Rafael on Saturday, October 11, 10:30 a.m.

The Hossfeld family is very grateful for the wonderful care, friendship and love provided to Jack in recent years by staff and residents of the Nazareth House. Donations may be made to Nazareth House, 245 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, CA, 94903.

Arrangements entrusted to Kcaton's Mortuary.

Connection with Horning name – “San Francisco Recorder” Saturday 5 Apr 1913 p 11

Much important business was transacted at the last meeting of Cooks' Union No. 44. Trade was reported good, nearly all the proprietors now giving their cooks one day off per week, the same as prior to April 18. The following nominations were made: For president, Charles F. Fleischmann and William Schneider; vice president, O. T. N. Ledwith and George Bickford; recording secretary, H. B. Myers and George Brooks; financial secretary, Anton Balslaw, Stephen Drake and Julius Selmer; treasurer, Louis G. Allan and Louis Furniguer; inside guard, Henry Querin; outside guard, George Porter; business agent, George Bickford, George Rowe and James Cooper; delegates to local joint executive board, J. Brandstetter, O. T. N. Ledwith, Stephen Drake, Charles Cramer, George Bickford and Julius Selmer; alternates, George Brooks, O. E. Henley, A. M. Kelly, George Rowe and Charles S. Smith; delegates to Labor Council, Julius Selmer, O. T. N. Ledwith, William Schneider, George Rowe, O. E. Henley and John Brandstetter; board of trustees, Charles S. Smith, Frank Hicks, T. Marshall and Charles Cramer; executive board, O. E. Henley, J. Schrouth, T. Marshall, Julius Selmer, George Tessier, Charles Cramer, John Schlinski, A. J. Fernandez, Harry Fries, G. Beckhusen, A. M. Kelly. The election will take place Monday, June 25. Polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 9 p. m. The local will hold regular meetings every Thursday at 8 p. m.

Cooks' Union, No. 44, held a spirited election at its last meeting, with the following result: President, Charles F. Fleischmann; vice president, O. T. N. Ledwith; recording secretary, H. B. Myers; financial secretary, Anton Balslow; treasurer, George Bickford; inside guard, Henry Querin; outside guard, George Porter; business agent, George Rowe; delegates to the local joint executive board—O. T. N. Ledwith, Stephen Drake and Julius Selmer; alternates—George Brooks, George Rowe and C. S. Smith; delegates to the Labor Council—Julius Selmer, O. T. N. Ledwith, William Schneider and George Rowe; board of trustees—Charles S. Smith, Thomas Marshall and Charles Cramer; members of the executive board—O. E. Henley, J. Schrouth, Julius Selmer, Charles Cramer, H. Beckhusen and A. M. Kelly. The installation will take place the first Thursday in July. Anton Balslow received an immense vote for financial secretary. Mr. Balslow, at the risk of his life, saved the records of the union while the great fire was raging, and this is the first opportunity the local had of expressing its sentiments on the matter.

Cooks' Union No. 44 met at 1834 Ellis street on Thursday evening with Charles Fleischmann presiding. Eight candidates were initiated and twenty applications received. This union followed the example of the Waiters' Union and sent a letter to the commissary department of the Southern Pacific asking that the Japanese and Chinese help in its restaurants be replaced by white men. O. E. Henley was elected treasurer in the place of George Bickford, who tendered his resignation at a recent meeting. President Charles Fleischmann was elected a delegate to the Labor Council.

George James Bickford was a cook – "San Francisco Call & Post" Saturday 26 Jan 1907 p 9

Cooks' Union No. 44 was in regular session Thursday night, with President Charles Fleischmann in the chair. A delegation from Waitresses Union No. 48 was allowed the privilege of the floor and asked the union to take tickets for the ball Thanksgiving eve. President Fleischmann was elected as delegate to the California State Federation of Labor in Stockton, in January. The following nominations for officers were made, the election to take place December 27: For president, Charles F. Fleischmann, Al King and O. T. N. Ledwith; vice president, Fred Duprey and Lee Tennyson; recording secretary, Frank Holt, Joe Bader and Owen E. Henley; financial secretary, H. B. Myers and Anton Balslow; treasurer, George Bickford; business agent, Stephen Drake and George Rowe; trustees, George Jones, George Brooks, Al Ferrier and Harry Fries; executive board, Henry Fahrman, Charles Wagner, Julius Selmer, William Cress, Ed Mensor, John Desin, Louis Berke and Fred Rusterholtz; delegates to local joint executive board, George Bickford, George Porter, Frank Holt, Julius Selmer, Al King and O. T. N. Ledwith; alternates, George Jones, George Brooks, Ed Mensor, Harry Fries, John Desin and Fred Duprey; delegates to the Labor Council, H. B. Myers, George Rowe, Anton Balslow, Henry Fahrman, Owen E. Henley, Stephen Drake, Joe Bader, Lee Tennyson, O. T. N. Ledwith and George Porter; inside guard, George Brooks; outside guard, George Porter and Louis Berke.

Strike Cases Keep Police Courts Busy

Most of Them Are Put Over Until Later Dates

Light Fines Imposed Upon Pair of Rioters

The calendars of the police courts were filled yesterday principally with cases in connection with the strike, the defendants having been arrested on Saturday and Sunday.

In Judge Weller's court the cases of W. H. Miller, John Farley, Frank Bro-man, Thomas McDonnell and Joseph Phillips, charged with having disturbed the peace, were continued to May 20; Leo T. Harrington, disturbing the peace, to May 21; Louis Peterson, Thomas Smith and Lee Davis, refusing to move on, to May 20; Oscar Price, Joseph Hossman and Max H. Schwartz, carrying concealed weapons, to May 21; George Bickford, assault with a deadly weapon, to May 16.

The cooks' union, local 44, one of the largest labor organizations of the city, held a very large meeting in Jefferson Square building last night, when the following officers were installed for the current term by Past President Charles T. Fleishmann: William Schneider, president; George Rowe, vice president; Joseph Bader, recording secretary; Frank Holt, financial secretary; Louis Fouringuler, treasurer; Steven Drake, business agent; Anton Balslow, O. T. N. Ledurth and George Jones, trustees; Victor Galli and George Porter, sentinels; Julius Selmer, Thomas Marshall, Charles Wagner, George Thomas, James Maxwell and Charles Tanner, executive board; Charles F. Fleishmann, Frank Holt and H. J. Hoehn, delegates to the local joint executive board; George Thomas, M. Grossman and William Schneider, alternates; Charles F. Fleishmann, Anton Balslow, Frank Holt, George Thomas, H. J. Hoehn, Julius Selmer and Steven Drake, delegates to the labor council. After the installation a refined high jinks was held, at which there were present Past President Libby Zeis, May Norton, Cella Rowe, Katie Bischoff and Mrs. S. P. Drake of the waitresses' union, the officers of the waiters' union and those of the bartenders' local 44.

William Schneider, the new president, was the sire of the evening, and was assisted by J. D. McDonough, Ernest de l'Homme, George Jones, O. E. Henly and George Bickford. There was a good program of music, songs, specialties and parlor stories. The principal contributors were Messrs. Conland and Carter, William Douglass, Hazel Balslow and Sarah Lichtenstein.

A very pleasant company gathered on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother to witness the marriage of George Bickford of San Jose and Miss Nina Williams of Oak Park, who were united by Rev. H. L. Bell. A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bickford were present, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Refreshments were served, and all went away wishing the bride and groom a happy life. Mr. and Mrs. Bickford left yesterday for San Jose, their future home.

WIFE NAMES TWO WOMEN IN SUIT

OAKLAND, March 19.—Lily M. Morris objected to her husband having two affinities at one time and filed suit this morning for divorce. She names Mrs. George Bickford and Edna Trotten as the affinities. Among the amusements of her husband, the wife claims, was choking his eldest daughter and abusing Mrs. Morris when he was in his cups. His wife states that he was under the influence of liquor nearly every night.

Mrs. George Bickford is 1 of 2 women having simultaneous affairs with Charles E. Norris, the husband of Mrs. Lily M. Morris - "San Francisco Bulletin" Saturday 19 Mar 1910 p 2

AFFINITIES NAMED IN DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Charles E. Norris Alleges Other Women Captured Her Husband's Affections

OAKLAND, March 19.—Two affinities whom she knew by name and others unknown are said to have divided the affections of Charles E. Norris, according to the complaint of his wife, Lillie M. Norris, who brought suit for divorce against him today on the ground of extreme cruelty. The two alleged affinities Mrs. Norris is able to name are Mrs. George Bickford and Edna Tratten. So open were his relations with Mrs. Bickford, Mrs. Norris charges, that Bickford wrote to her begging her to keep her husband away from his wife.

Mrs. Norris makes other allegations

Mrs. Norris makes other allegations against her husband. He used to beat and abuse her frequently and was generally in a state of intoxication. What money he did not spend for liquor, she asserts, he gambled away, so that she was compelled to take in washing to support herself and their three little children. On one occasion, Mrs. Norris declares, he almost choked their daughter, Oro, to death.

The following summarizes the charges for divorce

"San Francisco Call & Post" Sunday 20 Mar 1910 p 28

Accusing her husband of punching her nose on several occasions with his clinched fist, of choking their eldest daughter Ora, of bestowing illicit love upon Mrs. George Bickford and Edna Tratten, and of going home drunk, Lillie M. Harris instituted suit this forenoon in the Superior Court for a divorce from Charles E. Harris on the ground of extreme cruelty. The wife sums her husband up in her complaint as a worthless spendthrift and drunkard, as well as a man of gross morals.

James O. Bickford

James O. Bickford, a San Francisco boy aboard the Tuscania at the time of the sinking of that vessel, is a member of the Two Hundred and Thirteenth Squadron. He is the only son of Mrs. Vina Horning, 124 Highland avenue.

“San Francisco Examiner” Saturday 9 Feb 1918 p 2

363D AND 347TH ARE ON THEIR WAY; CITY READY TO GREET THEM

San Francisco's boys are coming home!

The 363d Infantry and the 347th Field Artillery are on their way.

Both units left Camp Merritt today on that eagerly looked-for homeward jaunt across the continent.

Mayor James Rolph today received a telegram from Colonel Cavanaugh informing him that the 363d and 347th had departed from Camp Merritt and informing him that there would be but one stop for a parade en route. This will be at Reno, Nev., according to Colonel Cavanaugh, where headquarters company of the 363d will march.

With the announcement of the departure of the two San Francisco regiments for the Pacific Coast, added energy was thrown into the preparations that are already on foot for their reception—a monster reception that will eclipse the homecoming celebrations that have so far been held in any American city.

ARRIVAL UNCERTAIN.

The exact time of the arrival of the units here is problematical. At the demobilization camp at the Presidio today it was stated that orders had been received to make ready for their arrival next Monday. From other sources it was learned that the returning San Francisco heroes can hardly be expected before next Tuesday.

All this, however, is of little importance, as compared with the fact that the San Francisco lads are actually on their way—will soon be among their families and loved ones and will receive the tribute of a city which feels a just pride in their glorious achievements.

The returning troops, numbering in all 2204 men, are coming here by the following route:

From Camp Merritt, N. J., via the Erie Railroad to Jersey City, via Central Railroad to Boundbrook, via Philadelphia and Reading Railroad to Philadelphia, via Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad to St. Louis, Mo., via Wabash Railroad to Omaha, Neb., via Union Pacific Railroad to Ogden, Utah, via Southern Pacific Railroad to San Francisco.

HOW BOYS WILL MARCH.

The boys wish to march before home folks in their best military costume. The relatives have agreed with the chairman of the parade committee that at the sound of a trumpet they will clear the regimental ranks and march in a body as the escort to honor their boys.

Henry M. Owens, chairman of the parade committee, has issued orders appointing officers of kinfolk. The women acting as captains of their respective companies will wear sleeve bands on their right arm. The 347th Field Artillery will march in alphabetical order with staff band and headquarters company ahead. Supply Company will be in the rear of the regiment. The following have been appointed by Henry M. Owens to lead the regiment:

Relative kinfolk division of infantry organization: Joseph S. Edelmann, marshal, Mrs. A. E. Drendell, Colonel.

364th Infantry, Company C, Captain, Mrs. J. Simmons; Company L, Mrs. Grimmer, 348th. Field Machine Gun Battery; Company A, Mrs. Victor Perazzi; Company C, Mrs. M. McNerney. Relative Division of the 347th Field Artillery Organization, O. M. Pollock, Marshal; Mrs. Samuel Hayes, Colonel, 405 Capp street; Headquarters Company, Mrs. M. G. Sorich; Battery A, Mrs. J. A. Robertson; Battery B, Mrs. M. Kerr; Battery C, Mrs. J. Barrett, Mrs. M. Lane; Battery C, Miss Florence Hayes; Battery D, Mrs. H. Schmidt; Battery E, Mrs. A. Pollock; Mrs. F. W. Smiley, Battery F; Mrs. C. Murphy, Mrs. E. McLaughlin, Battery G; Miss Jennie Son, Battery H; Miss Lillie Reeves, Battery I; Marion Summerville, Battery K; Miss Mable Dorn Hurst, Battery L; Mrs. Vina Horning, Battery M; Miss Clara L. Cambell, Supply Company, Mrs. E. J. Bailey and Mrs. Elmer DeGraff, hospital corps, Mrs. P. S. Bennett.

SUPREME COURT DECISION

S. F. No. 10543. In Bank. December 26, 1924.

G. L. WILKINSON, as Administrator of the Estate of Elizabeth G. Wilkinson, Deceased, Plaintiff and Respondent, v. THE UNITED RAILROADS OF SAN FRANCISCO (a Corporation), Defendant and Appellant.

Appeal by defendant from an order of the Superior Court of San Mateo County, John L. Hudner, Judge, granting motion for new trial in an action for damages for death. Affirmed. Myers, C. J., Lennon, J., and Waste, J., dissent.

On rehearing (67 Cal. Dec. 536; see, also, 42 Cal. App. Dec. 376).

For Appellant—Wm. M. Abbott, K. W. Cannon, Ross & Ross, Ivores R. Dains.

For Respondent—Hugo D. Newhouse, Russell P. Tyler.

The defendant has appealed from an order of the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county of San Mateo, granting plaintiff's motion for a new trial, after a verdict by a jury in favor of the defendant in an action brought by the administrator to recover damages for the death of the deceased, Elizabeth G. Wilkinson, an intestate, alleged to have been caused by the negligence of the defendant in operating its interurban railroad between San Francisco and San Mateo.

The complaint alleges that the defendant corporation, maintained and operated a double track suburban line between the city of San Francisco and the city of San Mateo, over the private right of way of said corporation and passing through the town of San Bruno; that on the 3d day of July, 1920, said corporation carelessly and negligently maintained, controlled and managed a certain station at this right of way in the vicinity of the town of San Bruno; that the negligence consisted in this, that the station was so constructed that the entrance was on the side facing the tracks and the other three sides consisted of blank walls; that the said side of the building was approximately six feet from the westerly rail of the westerly track; that in order for a passenger to board a northbound car it was necessary to cross the westerly track and there was no opportunity to stop, look and listen for approaching or passing cars; that the overhang of the cars was three feet; that the station was so constructed that the motorman could not observe any person approaching and desiring to board a northbound car; and that on July 3, 1920, the deceased, Elizabeth G. Wilkinson, while in the act of crossing the westerly track near the San Bruno crossing was struck by one of the cars of defendant corporation, sustaining severe injuries from which she died. As a second cause of action it was alleged "that on and in the vicinity of the station" near the San Bruno crossing the defendant corporation displayed numerous signs bearing the words "Cars Stop Here"; that at the time and place above mentioned the defendant corporation, by its agents, servants and employees, so negligently and carelessly maintained, operated and controlled a southbound car at a high and excessive rate of speed and at a rate of speed in excess of thirty-five miles an hour, failed to stop said car at the station notwithstanding the signs displayed and that such negligence and carelessness caused the injuries and death of the deceased, Elizabeth G. Wilkinson.

General and special demurrers were interposed to each count. Defendant's demurrer to the first cause of action was sustained and that to the second cause of action overruled. The answer of defendant corporation, to the second cause of action set up the defense of contributory negligence as the proximate cause of the injuries sustained. A verdict for defendant corporation was rendered by the jury, upon which verdict judgment was entered for defendant. Plaintiff interposed a motion for a new trial, which was granted, and this is the appeal taken from the order granting said motion for a new trial.

Motion for a new trial.

The accident out of which the action arose occurred on July 3, 1920, in San Mateo county near the San Bruno crossing at a station or waiting room maintained by the appellant upon its own private right of way south of the point where the Bay Shore road crosses the tracks of the United Railroads and the Southern Pacific Company. According to the testimony the station or waiting room is 200 feet south of the San Bruno crossing and 116 feet south of the point where the Bay Shore road crosses the parallel tracks of the appellant and the Southern Pacific tracks, which are to the east of appellant's tracks. The station or waiting room is a structure about eight feet wide and ten feet long, with three blind walls, the easterly side being open and facing the westerly rail of the tracks. At about 11 o'clock a. m. on the day above mentioned appellant's northbound interurban car was approaching the station and was stopping to allow a passenger to alight. At this juncture, as a southbound interurban car was approaching the station on the inside or westerly track, which was nearer the station and about ten or twelve feet from the north end thereof, the deceased, who had been sitting in the station, stepped from the platform intending to board the northbound car and was instantly struck by the right corner of the bumper of the southbound car. As a result of the injuries sustained, she died some three hours later.

The notice of intention to move for a new trial was upon five grounds: (1) insufficiency of the evidence to justify the verdict; (2) the verdict is against law; (3) error in law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the plaintiff; (4) errors in law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the plaintiff; and (5) errors in law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the plaintiff, to-wit, the giving to the jury the instructions and each and every one of the instructions requested by the appellant. After the submission of the motion and hearing the argument thereon the motion for a new trial was granted.

We will at this point state the evidence bearing on the points relied upon for reversal.

James P. Walsh, who was a passenger on the northbound car, riding in the rear end of the car on the platform and leaning through the windows nearest to the inbound track, testified that his car was stopping to let him off at the station; that he could see the southbound car coming from San Francisco before it reached the crossing, which was about 225 feet from the station; that the southbound car, going between 30 and 35 miles an hour, gave no warning signals and did not stop at the station; that he saw the deceased, who was carrying a basket, about two feet in front of the "cabin", but did not see the car strike her; and that after the car passed she was lying about four feet from the westerly rail of the westerly track, between the south end of the station and a fence 14 feet to the south thereof.

Frederick Horning, the motorman who was operating the southbound car which struck the deceased, testified: "I first saw the lady just as she stepped out of the waiting station. She came right out of the northwest corner of the waiting station. My car came over the highway, and when she stepped out it was ten or twelve feet from the station. When I first saw the lady she was about three feet from the westerly rail of the westerly track. I immediately reversed my car which is commonly known as slugging and threw on the air. . . . The car was in the neighborhood of forty-five feet long, may be a little over. Has an overhang or overlap on either side of the rails of three feet. The distance from the waiting station to the track I should say was about six feet, or about three feet between the car and the station. She stepped right into the clearance when I first saw her. She made one step which brought her in a position where the car came up to her." He also testified that he was going about fifteen miles an hour at the San Bruno crossing and that before he crossed he blew the whistle twice and rang the foot gong; that he then increased the speed "five notches" and when ten or twelve feet from the station the deceased stepped out of the station; that "she neither looked to the right or left. She had her head down and had the package in one arm and a package in the other, and never looked to the right or to the left"; that he only stopped the car if he got a signal from the conductor or unless someone was in sight to take his car; that he could not see anyone inside the station but had seen people at other times step out of the station for the purpose of getting on the car; that he was going about fifteen miles an hour and after he put on the brakes the car went about sixty-five feet. The passenger above mentioned testified that the southbound car stopped about 275 feet south of the station, and Sebastian de la Maggiora testified that when he saw the southbound car backing up after the accident it was about 150 or 175 feet from the station. Otto Jacobsen, the accident it was about 100 or 110 feet from the station. Otto Jacobson, who qualified as an expert, judging the comparative distance interurban cars of the type used will go after the brakes are applied and the current reversed, testified that if the car traveled a distance exceeding 200 feet after the application of the air brakes and the reversal of the motors it must have been going at a speed in excess of thirty miles an hour.

William T. Hunter, the conductor on the southbound car, testified that the whistles were blown for the San Bruno crossing and that the speed was about fifteen miles an hour. Anna E. Finnegan, a passenger on the southbound car, testified that she also heard the whistle at the San Bruno crossing and after it passed the crossing she saw "a lady walk out and then I heard some little rumbling noise". Frederick W. Webb, the motorman on the northbound car, which stopped at the station, testified that as the front end of his car was passing the station he noticed a lady was standing at the inside of the station, that she started to pick up some packages on the bench; that his attention was attracted to the southbound car by the whistle sounded before it reached the San Bruno crossing, and that the speed was possibly eighteen miles an hour. Lewis Eugene Jones, the conductor on the northbound car, testified that he had signalled his motorman to stop at the station to allow a passenger to alight; that just as the car was in the act of coming to a complete stop this passenger stepped off and just as he stepped off he noticed the other car and the deceased at the same time, and that she was just in the act of stepping out of the station when the southbound car came into view.

1. As to the first ground of the motion for a new trial, that the evidence is insufficient to sustain the verdict, it is sufficient to say that since the order granting the new trial was a general one and did not specify that it was

Text submitted 3 Feb 2024 for Vina's Find A Grave 54733526:

Vina S. Williams was the daughter of Richard C. Williams (born in England) and Ellen A. Burston (born in Utah). Her mother's last husband was Gaylord A. Benjamin.

Vina's middle initial is always found as "S." In the 1880 census, listed as Silina Williams, age 3, born California, she lives in Plymouth, Amador County, California, with her parents Richard and Ellen Williams and four siblings.

Miss Vina Williams of Oak Park married George James Bickford of San Jose on 10 April 1894 in the home of her mother in Sacramento, Sacramento County, California, as reported in the Sacramento CA "Union" of Thursday, 12 April 1894, page 6.

George James Bickford was born 9 September 1859 in New York and died 3 May 1941 in San Francisco, San Francisco, California. He worked as a cook in restaurants and hotels. James Oscar Bickford was born 11 February 1896 in San Jose, Santa Clara County, California. In 1918 wartime newspaper articles, James is described as the only son of Mrs. Vina Horning. His California birth records list his parents as George Bickford and Carrie Williams. Vina had an older sister, Carrie Marie Williams, who married George Sidney Pritchard on 28 December 1898.

The 1900 census has not been located. In the 1910 census, Vina Bickford, age 33, born California, status: married, a restaurant waitress, lived in San Francisco, San Francisco, California at 81 Bruce Avenue with her mother Ellen M. Bielfeld (as indexed) or appears to read Cuthbert, and Ellen's grandson William H. Erickson, age 6. Vina says she has given birth to two children, one of whom is living.

In 1910, her husband George A. "Beckford" resides at 72 Bruce Avenue in San Francisco CA with a son named Oscar, age 9. Vina's son Oscar J. Bickford, age 14, lives with his mother's sister Carrie Marie Williams Pritchard and husband George Pritchard in Riverside, Riverside County, California.

In March 1910, Mrs. George Bickford makes the newspapers when she is named as one of two women involved with Charles E. Norris, alleges his wife Lillie M. Norris, who is requesting a divorce.

On 7 September 1910 in San Francisco CA, Vina Bickford was granted a divorce from George Bickford, as published in the San Francisco CA "Examiner" of Thursday, 8 September 1910, page 4.

Nina S. Bickford married Frederick Augustas Horning in Sacramento, Sacramento County, California, obtaining a marriage license in September 1911, as reported in the Sacramento CA "Star" of Monday, 18 September 1911, page 8. California marriage records report a 1912 marriage date.

According to his 1918 World War I draft registration and his wife Jacoba Maria Verhoevn's 1921 U.S. naturalization request, Frederick was born 28 April 1873 in Corvallis, Benton County, Oregon. According to his California Death Index record, Frederick was born 28 Apr 1865 in Oregon and died 15 August 1954 in San Francisco County, California. He listed his age as 45 in 1920.

When her son James Oscar Bickford, a private in the U.S. Army in the 213th Aero Squadron, sailing to France during World War I aboard the troopship SS "Tuscania," survives the ship's torpedoing and sinking in the North Channel between Scotland and Ireland on 5 February 1918, his mother is reported as Mrs. Vina Horning of 124 Highland Avenue, San Francisco CA – the address she resides at through at least the 1950 census.

In the 1920 census, Fred Horning, age 45, born Oregon, a motorman on the street railroad, lives with wife Vina Horning, age 43, born California, at 124 Highland Avenue, San Francisco, San Francisco County, California.

Frederick Horning first petitioned for divorce in San Francisco CA in May 1916; the divorce was granted in May 1922.

In the 1923 San Francisco CA city directory, Vina Horning is listed with husband Fred A. Horning at 124 Highland Ave. Fred is a motorman.

Vina Horning married Emory Charles Jeans, likely around 1924.

In the 1925 San Francisco CA city directory, "Emery" C. and Vina Jeans reside at 124 Highland Avenue, San Francisco CA. He is a conductor.

In the 1930 census, Emory and Vina Jeans live at 124 Highland Avenue, San Francisco, San Francisco County, California. Vina, age 44, born California, father born England, mother born Utah, reported she was age 18 at the time of her first marriage. Emory, age 44, born Missouri, was a streetcar conductor.

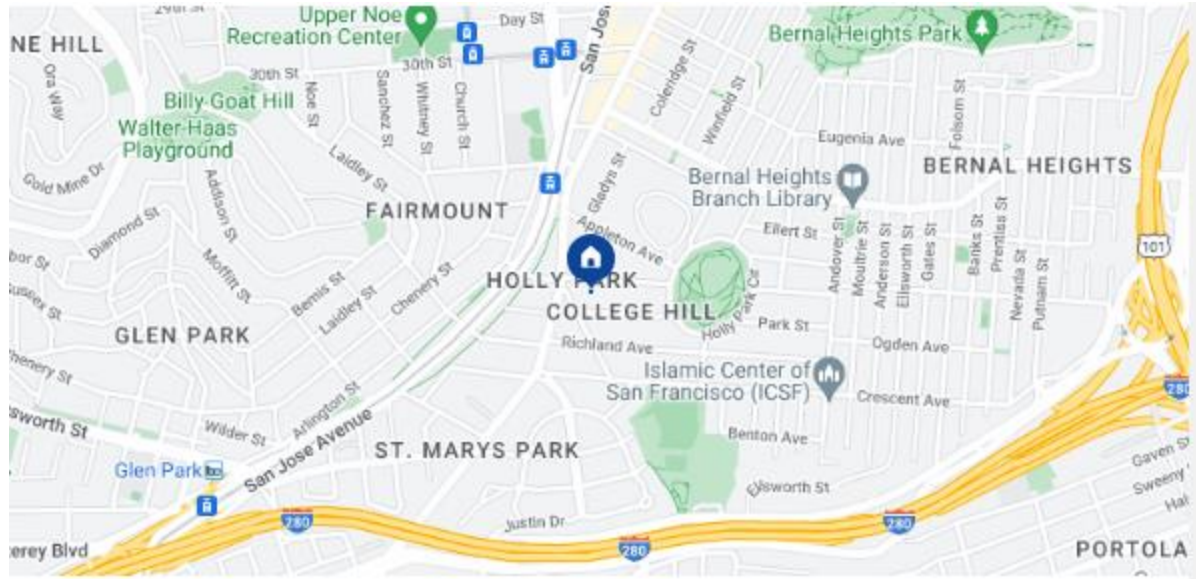

In 1940, living at 124 Highland Avenue in San Francisco CA, Emory Jeans, age 53, born Missouri, motorman for a street railway company, lived with wife Vina, age 62, born California. Also in their household were her two grandchildren, Ruth Edna Bickford and Robert Elmer Bickford, the children of her son James Oscar Bickford and his first wife, Ruth Edna Haughwout, who had died in 1936.

In 1950, still at 124 Highland Avenue, San Francisco CA, "Emery" C. Jeans, age 64, born Missouri, a streetcar conductor, lived with wife Vina S. Jeans, age 72, born California.

124 Highland Avenue, San Francisco CA – James’s mother Vina resided here in 1918 and through the 1950 census – as of Feb 2024, value of about $1.2 million -

Mother: Vina S. Williams Bickford Horning Jeans, 22 Nov 1876 CA – 3 Jul 1951 San Francisco, San Francisco CA.

Daughter of Richard C. Williams (1843 England – 1 Jan 1893 Sacramento, Sacramento CA, F: 106459106). He married Ellen A. Burston (15 Aug 1865 UT – 30 Jul 1950 Sacramento Co. CA, F: 106458955). Burston is listed as the maiden name of Vina's mother on Vina's CA Death Index record.

Ellen A. Burston was the daughter of Willilam & Maria Burston; she lived with them in White Oak, El Dorado CA in the 1860 census. Ellen is found with a surname indexed as Bealfeld but appears to read Cuthbert in the 1910 census of San Francisco, San Francisco CA, in which daughter Vina Bickford resides with her. Ellen marries Gaylord A. Benjamin by 1920. They reside in Diamond Springs, El Dorado CA – “Galor” A. Benjamin (70 WI, farmer) & wife Ellen B. Benjamin (64 UT, parents b. England) & his mother-in-law Maria Wheeler (83 England), a widow who emigrated in 1853 & was naturalized in 1854. Gaylord died 11 Feb 1931, buried in Sacramento City Cemetery, Sacramento, Sacramento CA, F: 158802839, James's CA birth record was amended with a “supplemental name report” as the original did not list his name, and it lists Carrie Williams as his mother. But – Vina Williams had a sister Carrie Williams. - Vina & George married in 1894, presumably making James, born 1896, her son. He is listed as the only son of Vina Horning in 1918.

But the use of the name Carrie Williams on his birth record raises some questions. In one case, "Carrie" is indexed as "Connie." The name is scrawled on the marriage license with George Bickford.

Vina's middle initial is always found as S. – and in the 1880 census, she is listed as "Silina" Williams. One Ancestry.com family tree names her as "Carrie (Alvina)."

Mrs. Vina Horning of 124 Highland Ave., San Francisco CA is listed as James's mother in the "San Francisco Examiner" of 8 Feb 1918.

Nina S. Bickford married Frederick A. Horning in 1911. Their marriage license application appears in the "Sacramento (CA) Star" Monday 18 Sep 1911 p 8.

Frederick sued for divorce in May 1916 in San Francisco CA, charging her with cruelty. The divorce was granted in May 1922.

According to his 1918 World War I draft registration and his wife Jacoba Maria Verhoevn's 1921 U.S. naturalization request, Frederick was born 28 April 1873 in Corvallis, Benton County, Oregon. According to his California Death Index record, Frederick was born 28 Apr 1865 in Oregon and died 15 August 1954 in San Francisco County, California. He listed his age as 45 in 1920.

In the 1918 CA Voter Registration: Mrs. Vina S. Horning, Socialist, housewife, at 124 Highland Ave., San Francisco

In the 1922 CA Voter Registration: Mrs. Vina Horning, Republican, housewife, at 124 Highland Ave., San Francisco

In the 1923 San Francisco CA city directory: Fred A. & Vina Horning, residing at 124 Highland Ave., he employed as a motorman.

Circa 1924, Vina Horning married Emory Charles Jeans.

In the 1925 San Francisco CA city directory, "Emery" C. Jeans & wife Vina Jeans reside at 124 Highland Ave.; he is a conductor.

Emory Charles Jeans, son of John Henry Jeans & Sarah Elizabeth Williams, born 23 Nov 1885 Troy, Lincoln MO & died 9 Jul 1967 Sacramento, Sacramento CA, F: 54733525. His obituary in the "Sacramento Bee" Wednesday 12 Jul 1967 p 36 notes 2 of his surviving grandchildren as Ruth Bickford Hossfeld (misspelled Hosfeld) & Robert Bickford. Emory had married Bertha A. Mendenhall 3 Jul 1917 in Alameda Co. CA. They divorced in May 1923.

In the 1930 CA voter registration list, Emory Jeans (conductor) & Mrs. Vina S. Jeans, housewife, both Republicans, lived at 124 Highland Ave., San Francisco CA.

Vina's sister Carrie Marie Williams married George Sidney Pritchard on 28 Dec 1898 in Sacramento Co. CA. She was born 25 May 1875 CA & died 16 Mar 1967 Sacramento Co. CA. Her CA Death Index reports her mother's maiden was Burston. In the 1950 census, George S. Pritchard (77 CA) lived with wife Carrie M. (74 CA), neither employed in Sacramento, Sacramento CA.

Buried in Odd Fellows Lawn Cemetery & Mausoleum, Sacramento, Sacramento CA.
