

TUSCANIA

Wiseman, Guy Edgar
1895 WI – 1972 TX

Guy E. Wiseman, above, arrived here this week to assume charge of the Green Bay district WPA. He comes from Menomonie, Wis., his home city, where he headed the WPA program since 1935. At Green Bay he succeeds Frank R. Bell as district manager, following reorganization of the state setup and discontinuance of districts in Menomonie and Madison. Before joining WPA he worked a year and a half with WERA and eight months as director of CWA in La Crosse. For 13½ years prior to joining the public works program he was a civil engineer with the state highway commission Eau Claire division.

A veteran of the World war with 18 months' overseas record, Wiseman was with the 107th supply train that was aboard the troopship Tuscania which was torpedoed off Ireland on Feb. 5, 1918. He has maintained a close affiliation with the Tuscania Survivors organization and last year was president of the northern Wisconsin club. He is a member of the American Legion and holds charter membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars and 40 and 8 society.

Wiseman is married and has an 18-year-old daughter, Yvonne, a student at Stout Teachers college, and a son, Gerald, 14, a high school student.

Members.

At the meeting of the American Legion on Tuesday evening, the members of the Legion troop of Boy Scouts, scoutmaster and assistant scoutmasters were invited to be guests of the Hosford-Chase post No. 32, at its club rooms at its next regular meeting, March 21. Scoutmaster "Bye" Olson will present his group of 18 scouts at the club rooms and arrange for a program of scouting activities as carried on by the boys. Music and stunts will be given and a feed will be provided by the post.

Guy E. Wiseman, chairman of the March 17 dance committee, announced that tickets are already on sale for the dance and that indications were that a successful party would be held. A large number of merchants have donated prizes to be given out between dances, either desirable articles of merchandise or a certain amount of money to be spent in trade.

The possibility of drawing the pot of gold brought a large number of Legionnaires. The number belonged to P. L. Daugherty, but as he was not present, the amount, swelled by the evening's collection, will be up at the next meeting.

Wiseman Doesn't Attend Annual Tuscania Reunion

Because of duties that keep him busy at his desk as director of the district WPA office, Guy E. Wiseman, Menomonie, was unable to attend the National Tuscania Survivors' association reunion at Sheboygan yesterday to pay tribute to the 225 comrades who were lost. Wiseman is one of the survivors of the ship and the only one from here. It was 18 years ago Wednesday evening that the British transport Tuscania, sister ship of the ill-fated Lusitania, was churning through Irish waters with 1,500 troops of the American expeditionary force, bound for the front.

The huge vessel was spotted by Commander Wilhelm Meyer peering through the periscope of U-77, of the German submarine fleet. Almost instantly a torpedo was gurgling close to the surface toward the giant target.

With a shocking detonation, the bomb punctured the only transport carrying American troops that was damaged during the World War. Panic reigned momentarily. The ship went dark. Soldiers fumbling with lifeboat cords were spilled into the icy water.

For three hours the ship remained afloat. Meanwhile, English destroyers picked up the survivors and landed them at Londonderry, Larne, and in Scotland. The Tuscania also carried 1,200 officers and sailors.

Praises Work of Those Who Helped Save Trout

George Jensen, district conservation supervisor under the WPA, today expressed praise for the efforts of Guy E. Wiseman, district WPA director; Harold B. Apel, county conservation warden, and Pres. William Siefert and Sec. John Gisness of the Fish and Game association, in directing the work that saved the hundreds of trout in the rearing pond here from being washed away when the water of the Red Cedar river was at a high stage. When the water raised sand bags were placed at the low points to keep the fish in. It is believed by Jensen that few trout were lost.

Sees Big Game in Dunn County

An interesting sidelight on his trip to Ashland and Superior last week, was narrated yesterday by Guy E. Wiseman of Menomonie. Wiseman drove his daughter, Yvonne, and two of her friends to Ashland for a Young People's conference, he and Mrs. Wiseman going on to Superior, through beautiful wooded country all the way. Wiseman says, "All the way to Superior along that picturesque route, the only wild animal we saw was an otter, near Port Wing. Coming back, when we were just north of Wheeler on 25, we saw a big deer." Wiseman continued that the deer stood still for several seconds and then bolted away. He expressed his surprise and amusement that one has to leave the "big game" territory of the north, and come back into Dunn county to see the really big game.

Mrs. Guy Wiseman and son, Gerry, returned Sunday night from Superior where they had spent the week with Mrs. Wiseman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Iver Pederson, and while there attended the wedding of Mrs. Wiseman's sister, Miss Lorraine Pederson, to Vern Wright of Superior. Mr. Wiseman and daughter, Yvonne, spent the week end there. Donald Pederson, Mrs. Wiseman's brother, returned to Menomonie with them and will be here most of the week.

Legionnaire Given Medal

Guy Wiseman Awarded
Silver Star 23 Years
Following Citation

For his "zeal and courage" shown 23 years before, an American World war veteran was honored Tuesday night.

Guy E. Wiseman stood at attention in the Legion building Tuesday evening, flanked by fellow Legionnaires, as Captain Ralph Drum ribboned his chest with red, white, and blue of the Silver Star and Victory Medal decorations he had earned 23 years before.

It was at a place called Gesnes. Not a large city, not even much of a town, but a shot-torn French village that had seen the hand-to-hand fighting of Americans and Germans wrest its ownership back and forth until its masonry was pitted and scarred with war wounds.

German Guns Swept Road

Along the hillside which swung about the town were the German gun emplacements, in position to sweep the road with a murderous artillery fire.

And it was at one of those times when the German infantry had fought its way into possession of Gesnes that orders came from the headquarters base at Epinonville to send a man through to a certain location to direct a radio station.

Wiseman, then a corporal in company A of the 107th supply train, got the order. And foot to the floorboard, he drove his battle-worn army truck along that road as shrapnel gashed the air about him—and did his job.

Got Through Unscathed

"Look at that guy over there—he's going to get his head blown off," a doughboy piped as he worked to set up the radio station amid prayers that a direct hit would be ward off. But somehow he got through the fire-barrage and unscathed.

And then in Oct. 1919, came a citation by command of Major General Lasiter, chief of staff, honoring him with the Silver Star "for zeal and courage in driving a truck through shelled areas while on detached service in Oct. 1918 with the 128th infantry signal corps." He got that medal Tuesday night. It was Oct. 1941.

Wiseman, Green Bay manager of the second district of WPA had never applied for his Silver Star, third highest decoration which the United States can give, in all the ensuing 22 years.

Did Something About It

But a short while ago local American Legion officials discovered that fact—and decided to do something about it. Clarence Dashnier, commander of Sullivan Post No. 11, did what he could, and Brown County Service Officer and fellow Legionnaire George K. Nitz did the rest. And the Silver Star came back from Washington—and with it the Victory Medal of war service.

In attendance as Captain Drum, national president of the "Red Arrow" division, decorated Wiseman were over 200 service men and members of the auxiliary in a county-wide gathering.

Many Commanders Attend

Lawrence Kramer, commander

Veterans of Foreign Wars, Clarence Noble post No. 2037, and Herbert Goethe, commander Disabled American Veterans Russell Leicht chapter No. 3 represented the other two local service organizations.

Several members of the newly organized state guard units in Green Bay were present also. From Company G were Captain Arthur Daharsh, Captain Amos Adamek, and Second Lieutenant Ray Labelle, while from Company H was Captain Fred Stimpson.

Reunion Recalls Tuscania Sinking

The annual convention of the National Tuscania Survivors association will be held Feb. 7 and 8 at Wisconsin Rapids. Guy E. Wiseman, Green Bay, former Menomonieite, is a member of the association and, if possible, he will this year attend the reunion of the group, in which he has always taken a keen interest. The meeting this year, in a time of war and national emergency when such events as the torpedoing of the troopship Tuscania off Ireland on February 5, 1918, are again in the public mind, recalls one of the notable chapters of the World war.

Survivor of Tuscania Plans for Retirement

MENOMONIE — From the time of his retirement from the Menomonie Brick Company Jan. 31, Guy Wiseman has been planning and preparing for a trip he and his wife are going to take to the southwestern part of the country.

For 15 1-2 years Wiseman had been general manager of the company. "I was also salesman and purchase agent and called on lumber yards within a 200 mile radius of here," he comments.

He joined the brick company in 1946. It had been closed four years during the war and was to be re-activated. When asked how he got into the company, he replied: "They offered me the job of running it, and I took it."

PRIOR TO his job with the brick company, Wiseman was for two years superintendent of the shipyards in Kewaunee. He was also district manager of the Works Project Administration for 10 years and was affiliated with the Wisconsin Highway Commission for 14 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman came to Menomonie in 1923 and the next year bought their house at 401 12th Ave. West. They have two children, a daughter, Yvonne, who is now married and living in Arizona, and a son, Gerald, an oil well logger in California.

Guy served in the army during World War I. "I enlisted on the day we entered the war — April 7, 1917," he tells, "and served for 37 months."

The highlight of his army career came on Feb. 5, 1918. "I was on the Tuscania off the north coast of Ireland in the Baltic Sea," he explains. "It was about dusk when our ship was torpedoed and sunk. Luckily, though, most of us were rescued by a British ship."

Wiseman has an oil painting of the Tuscania. The painting was done from a photo taken the same day the ship was torpedoed.

THE TUSCANIA Survivors Club was organized after the war and still exists with its headquarters in La Crosse. In 1941 Wiseman served as president of the organization.

In the past seven years the Wisemans have done extensive traveling in the southern part of our country and in Mexico. They are contemplating living in Arizona or Southern California so they can be close to their two grandchildren.

They intend, though, to return to Menomonie this summer. But they never want to spend another winter in the midst of so much snow.

17 Members at Reunion of Last Man's Club

Seventeen members of the Last Man's Club were on hand to answer roll call as the organization met in its 44th annual reunion in the Skogmo Skyroom here Sunday.

Attending the festivities were Oscar Pederson, Spokane, Washington; Henrick Horne, Milwaukee; Albert Smith, Minneapolis; Guy Wiseman and Alfred Bruson, Menomonie; Oscar Solie, Cornell; Robert McCarty, New Auburn; and Edward Paul, H. A. Doege, Hans Horne, Arthur Lunde, Ed Pederson, Oscar Bjork, Eugene Brazeau, George Borgenheimer, Frank Peloquin, Edward Adams and Harold Jenkins, all of Chippewa Falls.

Elected was Oscar Solie, as president Harold Jenkins is permanent secretary-treasurer.

Circuit Judge Clarence E. Rinehard was a guest of the club and presented an interesting talk.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Robert Wiseman

Miss Helen Reetz was born May 2, 1875 at La Crosse. She came with her parents to the town of Auburn in 1883. On November 15, 1893, she was united in marriage to Robert Wiseman. The following year they settled on a farm in the town of Sand Creek where they lived until they moved to Menomonie in 1921. In 1930 they moved to Elk Mound. To this union were born 10 children, five sons and five daughters. Eva preceded her mother in death about two years ago. EDWARD REETZ, a farmer residing about four miles from Bloomer, dropped dead at his daughter's wedding. Mr. Reetz and his wife were watching the dancers when they were invited to join the party. The old couple waltzed a few times around the room when suddenly Mr. Reetz fell to the floor and expired a few minutes later. It is supposed that his death was due to heart trouble, brought on by over exertion. He was 60 years of age and had resided at that place for the past twenty-five years.

Guy's maternal grandfather dropped dead at the wedding of his parents – "Watertown (WI) News" Wednesday 22 Nov 1893 p 6

THE FATAL DANCE

Edward Reetz Dies at His Daughter's Wedding.

HIS HOME IS 4 MILES FROM BLOOMER

Himself and Wife Were Waltzing When Suddenly Mr. Reetz Fell to the Floor Dead.

Edward Reetz, a farmer who resided about four miles from Bloomer, dropped dead Wednesday night at his home.

The wedding of his daughter was being celebrated and a dancing party was in progress. Mr. Reetz was apparently well, and, with his wife, was watching the young people as they danced merrily around the room. Finally the bride's parents were invited to join in the dance. They objected at first, but after some persuasion had been used, arose from their seats and began to dance to the strains of a genuine old country waltz. All went well at first but they had danced but a few times around the room when suddenly Mr. Reetz's arms fell at his side and before anyone had time to assist him or even to realize what the trouble was, he had fallen to the floor. The guests gathered around the prostrate man and it was soon ascertained that he was dead.

Mr. Reetz was about 60 years old and has been a resident in this county a number of years and has a number of friends here.

It is thought that death was caused by heart trouble, and that the excitement of dancing caused palpitation.
