Welch Is Probable Choice for President of Master Plumbers

Election of New Yorker as Head of State Association Freely Predicted as Delegates Meet for Final Session

CONVENTION TO CLOSE WITH BANQUET, BALL

Election of Stephen Welch of the Bronx as president of the New York State Association of Master Plumbers for the coming year was freely predicted at the closing session of the annual association convention, held in the Spanish room at the Arlington hotel this afternoon. Welch has been vice president of the association during the last year and has also served the organization in a number of other capacities. Delegates also predicted the choice of New York as the convention city for 1927.
