MARSHALL BOY
AMONG THE SAVED

NEWTON W. WIGINGTON, ONE OF THE TROOPERS ON THE TUSCANIA.

OFFICIALLY REPORTED

ADJUTANT GENERAL McCAIN
WIRES WIGINGTON'S MOTHER
THAT HE WAS SAVED.

Mrs. Alma R. Wigington, who resides on South Carter street, this city, received the following telegram from the Adjutant General, at Washington, bearing the glad tidings that their son, Newton W. Wigington, was among the survivors of the ill fated Tuscania:

Washington, D. C. 7:29 p. m.

Feb. 9, 1918.

Mrs. Alma Wigington,
302 S. Carter St., Marshall, Texas.

Officially reported that Newton W. Wigington was saved from the Tuscania.

Signed, McCAIN,

The Adjutant General.

Newton W. Wigington volunteered his services to the government early last fall, but was rejected in the physical examination, but later, when the second draft was called he was accepted in the service. He arrived home on December 11, to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Brown, and again left to report for duty on December 14. This young soldier who is just 29 years of age, moved here with his family from Madill, Okla., about four years ago, and was engaged in the barber trade while living in Marshall. His father is R. Wigington.

Two of his brothers, Messrs. Floyd and Sam are connected with the Messenger force and they make their home with their parents here.

When the sinking of the Tuscania was first reported it was understood that none of the Texas boys were among the passengers, but later it was learned that quite a number were included in the list.

Young Wigington's relatives were not aware that he was on the Tuscania, and the first information they had to this effect was when they received the telegram.

Had returned home from Camp Travis TX for his sister Charlotte's funeral - "Marshall (TX) Messenger" Monday 11 Feb 1918 p 1

FUNERAL SERVICES

The funeral services of Mrs. Lottje Brown, who died last Monday morning, were held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Wigington, on South Carter street, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. W. H. Carter, pastor of the Grange Hall Baptist church, conducted the services, and the burial was made in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Brown's brother, N. W. Wigington, a United States soldier, stationed at Camp Travis, San Antonio, came home to attend the funeral.

LETTERS FROM A TUSCANIA SURVIVOR

Newton W. Wigington of Marshall,
Writes His Home-folks of His Experiences.

Somewhere on the Atlantic.
Mr. Ed Wigington,

Marshall, Texas, U. S. A.

Dear Father, Mother and Loved Ones:

I am well, and hope you are all in good health. Well, mamma, I am a long way from you tonight, far out on the great ocean deep, trusting in the protection of a loving Savior in this hour of danger, and in the hours to come. May His richest blessings be with you until we meet again.

Your loving son,

N. W. WIGINGTON.

P. S.—February.—Well, the ship I was on—the Tuscania, was torpedoed last night at 5:30, and we were out in a life-boat until 10:30, and those were the darkest hours in all my life. Do not worry about me—the Lord is with me, and will carry me through, and bring me back to you in due time.

NEWTON.

February 11, 1918.

Dear Mother and All:

Have just time to write you a few lines, to let you know I am well.

We were in three storms coming over, and the ship seemed as if it would go under at every big wave, which were rolling from 10 to 30 feet high, and would toss the ship sideways and down. At last we were torpedoed about 5:30 on Tuesday evening, and had to take to the life boats. We were in the boats about three and a half hours. The ship did not sink for three or four hours after it was torpedoed. The wind was high, and the sea very rough before we were picked up. There were 2,400 soldiers aboard, and the best we can now figure, 210 were lost. With much love,

Your son,

NEWTON W. WIGINGTON.

Three-part letter, first written "somewhere on the Atlantic" – then the day after the Tuscania sinking – then on 11 Feb 1918 – very close estimate of 10 casualties to the actual 215 - "Marshall Messenger" Tuesday 5 Mar 1918 p 6

Letters have been received here by homefolks from Newton W. Wigington saying that he was well and all O. K. on the other side of the water. Newton was one of the survivors of the Tuscania that was torpedoed and sunk by a German U-boat. He said that the boat was torpedoed at 5:30 in the evening and they were in the lifeboat until 10:30 before they were rescued and it was the darkest hours in his life.

"Shreveport (LA) Times" Friday 8 Mar 1918 p 8

Mrs. Alma Wigington is in receipt of a telegram announcing the safe arrival at Charleston, S. C., from overseas of her son, N. W. Wigington. Mr. Wigington was on the ill-fated Tuscania when that ship was torpedoed off the Irish coast. He was in the water five hours before he was rescued.

Impossible to live 5 hours in the ocean - "Marshall (TX) Messenger" Friday 20 Jun 1919 p 3

In 1918, Marshall man determined to be survivor

A Marshall boy, Newton W. Wigington, was one of the survivors of the sinking of the Tuscania, according to the Feb. 11, 1918 Messenger.

He was the son of Mrs. Alma R. Wigington of South Carter Street. He volunteered his services to the government early last fall, but was rejected in the physical examination, but later when the second draft was called he was accepted in the service. He arrived home on Dec. 11 to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Brown and again left to report for duty on December 14. This young soldier who is just 29 years of age, moved here with his family from Medill, Okla. about four years ago, and was engaged in the barber trade while living in Marshall. His father is R. Wingham.

He Stole Her.

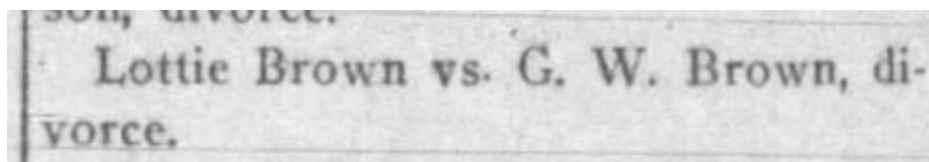

A youthful, but brave couple alighted from the south bound Katy today and soon made their way to the court house where they made their wants known to the license man. They procured the proper papers and hastily located Squire Brown and commanded him to tie the sacred knot—to make fast the tie that would mean that the bride would become the property of the groom and no longer counted stolen goods. They were Oscar Bynum and Lottie Wiggleton of Asher. Bynum made his get-away out of Asher by vehicle and took the train at Konawa. The bride came all the way without hat or bonnet and the groom left behind his stiff collar and pretty tie. They seemed happy and brave after the ceremony, and mingled on the streets with the throng of busy people. May they square it with the old folks at home, is the News desire.
