Hit Them Back

The Germans needn't think that they can frighten away our soldiers by sinking a few of our ships, that's not the way it makes an American feel when some one takes a crack at him. Instead, the real American gets fighting mad and wants to take a harder crack right back at the hand taht struck. That is the fine spirit evinced by Perry Howard, a well known Puyallup boy, who was aboard the ill-fated Tuscania.

At the present time, Howard is ill in a hospital in England and liable to be discharged because of his physical condition. Does he want the discharge? He most emphatically does not. Let him tell you folks how he feels about it:

Dear Sister:

I will try and write you a few lines to let you know that I am not so very bad off even if they have got me in a hospital for the first time in my life.

You know I already had the rheumatism in my bones to start with and I guess that it took just what I went thru that night they put a hole in our ship, to bring it out on me. I have not been able to write for about two weeks. My arms were so stiff that I could hardly use them. My right hand is nothing extra now, as you can see by the writing. I am getting better every day now, tho.

They are saying that I might be discharged on account of my rheumatism, but I want to get back at those Germans if I can before they ship me back, for dumping me in the water that night. We lots a bunch of fine fellows then.

I hear that all our mail is going to France and that they are holding it for us there, so I don't know when I will hear from you. I suppose that Cecil (Perry's brother) will go right straight thru to France, so I won't be able to see him over here, but I will when I get across, if they let me go. I would like to get away from here as it is awfully damp and no place for a rheumatic.

My company is still here, as they haven't all their clothes yet. We lost everything that we ever had when they got us. I was surely mighty glad that Cecil did not come with us. That was the only U. S. transport that they have gotten so far. I suppose that you read all about it in the papers. I know that it was in the New York papers.

With love, from your brother,
PERRY.
