SERIAL NUMBERS ASSIGNED TO COUNTY'S DRAFT REGISTRATION

Drawing Will Take Place in Washington in Manner to be Given Out Later

Following is a complete list of the names of all who registered in Churchill County on June 5th for the selective draft, together with the serial number which has been assigned to each.

At the present time it is not known how or when the selection will be made, but it is admitted that the drawing will be held in Washington and that it will be made by serial number instead of by name, thus eliminating all possibility of fraud in the selection. Hence each person registered should read the list and memorize his serial number in order that he may know when he is called and be ready to answer the summons.

S. R. O. IS SIGN
AT RECRUITING OFFICE

Station Deluged by Long Line Of Applicants; 102 Nevada Men Accepted in 9 Days

The busiest place in Reno today is, without doubt, the army recruiting office. By nine o'clock twelve men were waiting for examination there and each hour saw a steadily increasing line of applicants, each of them anxious to choose his branch of the service before the posting of the draft names makes this impossible.

Sergeant Moire and his assistants, Privates McCoy and Noble, are putting in about the busiest time of their life, hustling the men through the examination, providing meals and transportation and getting them off to the Coast.

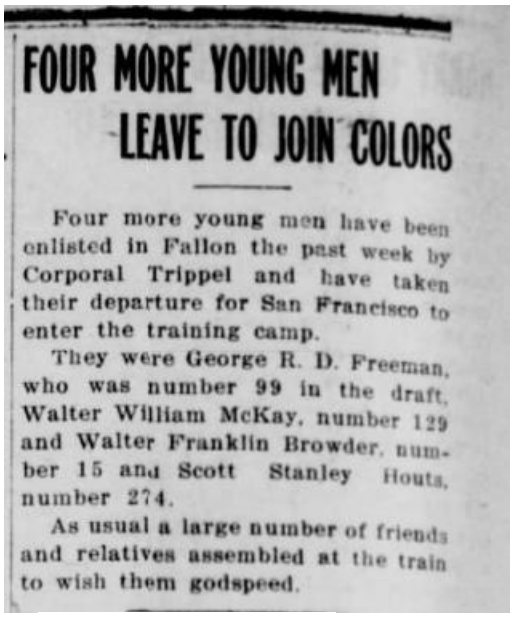

In the nine-day period ending with midnight, Sunday, 102 applicants had been accepted, forty-six from Reno and Sparks, and fifty-six from other parts of the state. With four exceptions the men had all registered for the draft. Following are the names of the men accepted in the four-day period since midnight of the 25th, with the exception of the Reno men which are given in a separate column:

John Stevens, Frank Hobson, Sparks; Philip Shearer, Frank Carr, Augustus Kelly, Edgar Dryer, John Sullivan, John Stackpoole, George Jarvis, William Walsh, Robert Bilyeu, Tonopah; Alvah Henig, Pearl Gregory, Millo Massotti, Harold Foley, Robert Harding, California; Leslie Gaustad, Elbert Cummings, Fred Johnson, John Randall, Norman Bell, Winnemucca; Lee Higgins, Alvin Mustard, Walter McKay, George Freeman, Stanley Houts, Fallon; Clarence Taylor, Murray Williams, Battle Mountain; Clarence Wise, Wesley Barth, Yerington; Chris Kentera, Manhattan; William Davis, Roop; Floyd Gallup, Thompson; Archie Allen, Lee Grandon, Mark Finney, Jack Saslaw, Elko; John Smith, Harry Brown, Daniel Crump, Edward Markham, Ben Hopson, Neal McCarthy, William Russell, Dave Barker, Clifton Hyland, Willis McConnell, Philip Parry, George Leatherman, John Teasdale, Ely.

Infantry leads the list with thirty-two, followed by medical corps with twenty-nine; signal corps, four; quartermaster corps, British army and Tenth engineers, two each, and Eighth engineers, one.

They were George R. D. Freeman, who was number 99 in the draft, Walter William McKay, number 129 and Walter Franklin Browder, number 15 and Scott Stanley Houts, number 274.

As usual a large number of friends and relatives assembled at the train to wish them godspeed.

Men From Everywhere.

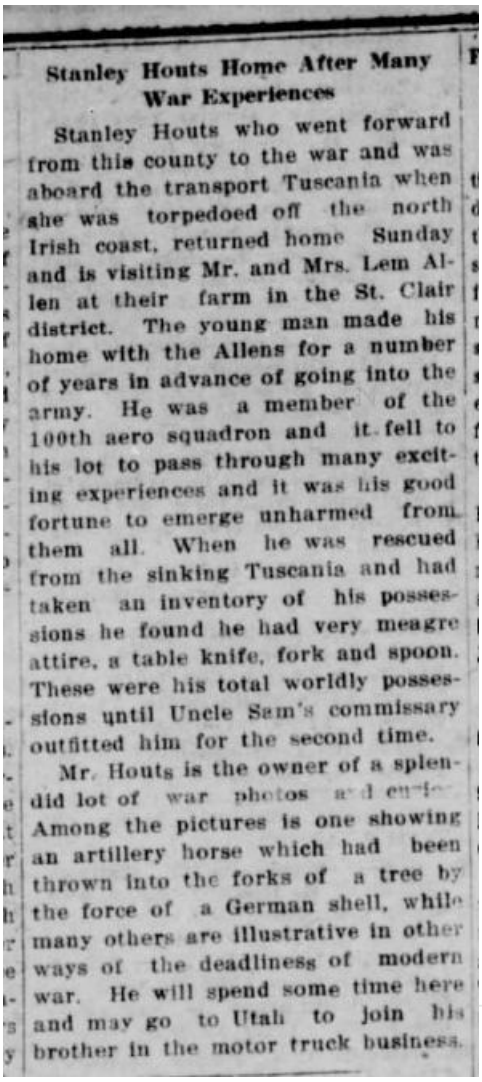

The stories of the tennis championships, traveling entertainers making the rounds of American rest camps, bus tours of London and receptions at ports of debarkation have already been told in America. A single instance will reveal to American fathers and mothers how generously American boys in England are being cared for and entertained in what otherwise might be a very dreary wait for the day when they go "over there."

The boys on a recent river trip voted "many thanks for a splendid time" to White and his committee, and scrawled their names over two menu cards.

The register might be that of a political convention, no state seems to be absent from the list. Some of them follow: Lee D. Young, Indiana; Howard J. Bloy, New Jersey; W. R. Clayton, North Carolina; A. R. Matsinger, Pennsylvania; Douglas Guthiel, Wisconsin; George E. Clarke, Brooklyn; Milton Bennett, New York; Anton V. Alm, Los Angeles; Wm. N. Caton, Kansas; J. A. Bode, Oklahoma City; L. W. Grosskamp, Milwaukee; J. A. Rose, Concord, Mass.; Eugene H. Canhur, Boston; E. C. Martin, Waukon, Iowa; Sergeant Jos. B. Sarnowski, Buffalo; Gordon Craig, Scranton, Penn.; Norman J. Nelson, Washington, D. C.; Stanley S. Houtz, Fallon, Nev.; Chester W. Pratt, Minneapolis; Albert G. Smith, Brockton; H. H. Huffman, Topeka; David Fogwell, Kenosha, Wis.; Frank E. Henshaw, Alexandria, Ind.; Richard J. Mills, Oakland, Cal.; B. A. Freeman, Pasadena; W. Yates, Paterson, N. J.; K. G. Ovenby, Paducah, Ky.; J. D. O'Brien, Pittsburg; L. B. Caryl, Scranton; William R. Shriner, Houston, Texas; E. C. Moore, Orlando, Fla.; Daniel E. Feehan, New Orleans; Leland D. McCormic, Utica, N. Y.; Oscar S. Stutler, Williamstown, W. Va.; Lawrence Krauss, Plainfield, Conn.; George B. Rockwood, Bennington, Vt.; W. G. Sanderson, Chicago—and so the list runs. It is typical of the extent of the reception to Yanks here.

The statesmen of England and the statesmen of America realize and assure one another of a need for closer union and mutual understanding. "Jimmy" White is telling the mothers and fathers of America this story in a direct personal way through their boys.

Stanley Houts Home After Many War Experiences

Stanley Houts who went forward from this county to the war and was aboard the transport Tuscania when she was torpedoed off the north Irish coast, returned home Sunday and is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lem Allen at their farm in the St. Clair district. The young man made his home with the Allens for a number of years in advance of going into the army. He was a member of the 100th aero squadron and it fell to his lot to pass through many exciting experiences and it was his good fortune to emerge unharmed from them all. When he was rescued from the sinking Tuscania and had taken an inventory of his possessions he found he had very meagre attire, a table knife, fork and spoon. These were his total worldly possessions until Uncle Sam's commissary outfitted him for the second time.

Mr. Houts is the owner of a splendid lot of war photos and curios. Among the pictures is one showing an artillery horse which had been thrown into the forks of a tree by the force of a German shell, while many others are illustrative in other ways of the deadliness of modern war. He will spend some time here and may go to Utah to join his brother in the motor truck business.

HORACE NORTON WINS DFC

For heroic accomplishment in leading his squadron through intense anti-aircraft fire to a successful attack on its target Feb. 20, Lt. Horace K. Norton, on duty with the 15th air force in Italy, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

His squadron was the only one of eight to get through the heavy enemy fire and accomplish the mission, his mother, Mrs. Ellen Queen Norton, Ventura, has learned.

His brother, Pfc. Charles E. Norton, a paratrooper, who was taken ill two months ago while fighting on Luzon, has returned to duty. He recently sent his mother a white and gold prayer book given to him by a Filipino family. The prayer book was brought to this country by a priest whom he helped to liberate from a prison camp near Manila.

GRAND JUNCTION MAN KILLED IN DENVER.

Henry Clay Houts, until about one year ago a fireman in the employ of the Denver & Rio Grande and a resident of Grand Junction, fell from the seventh floor of the new Symes block now in the course of construction in the city of Denver, Monday afternoon and was instantly killed. Houts was employed on the building and was at work on the seventh floor on a narrow platform when he lost his balance and fell to the fourth floor, striking on the top of his head. His skull was crushed to a pulp, and his shoulders and collar bones were splintered horribly.

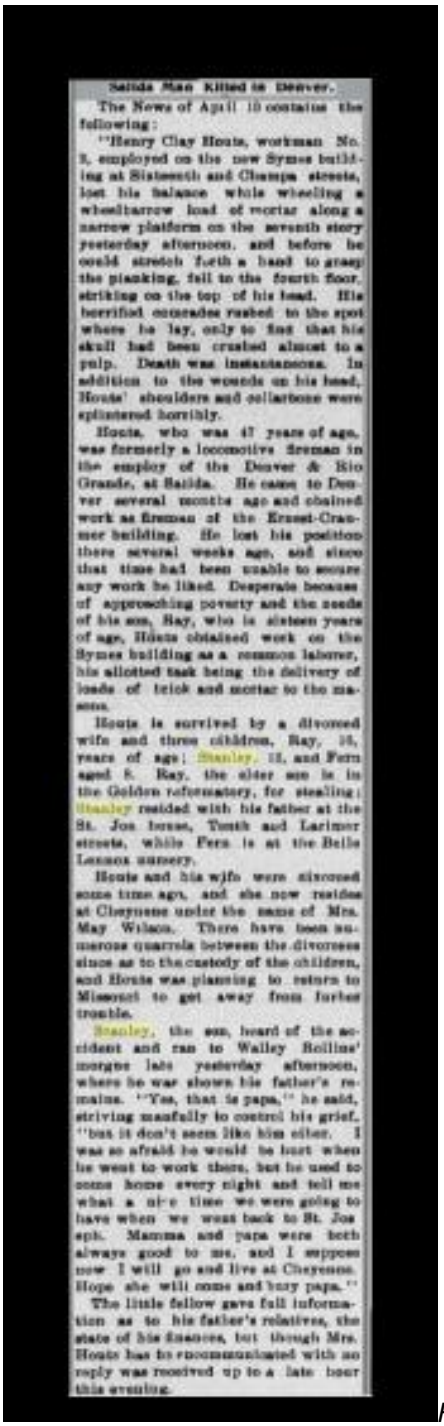

Houts quit the road several months ago and went to Denver to accept a position as fireman of the Ernest & Cranmer building. He lost his position a few weeks ago and accepted work as a common laborer on the Symes building until he could get enough money to take his children and go to St. Joseph, Missouri, where he formerly resided.

Houts is survived by a divorced wife and three children.

The family resided in Grand Junction about two years and Houts was well known in local railroad circles, and has numerous friends here who will regret to learn of his untimely and horrible death. Houts was 47 years of age.

Salida Man Killed in Denver.

The News of April 10 contains the following:

"Henry Clay Houts, workman No. 8, employed on the new Symes building at Sixteenth and Champa streets, lost his balance while wheeling a wheelbarrow load of mortar along a narrow platform on the seventh story yesterday afternoon, and before he could stretch forth a hand to grasp the planking, fell to the fourth floor, striking on the top of his head. His horrified comrades rushed to the spot where he lay, only to find that his skull had been crushed almost to a pulp. Death was instantaneous. In addition to the wounds on his head, Houts' shoulders and collarbone were splintered horribly.

Houts, who was 47 years of age, was formerly a locomotive fireman in the employ of the Denver & Rio Grande, at Salida. He came to Denver several months ago and obtained work as fireman of the Ernest-Cranmer building. He lost his position there several weeks ago, and since that time had been unable to secure any work he liked. Desperate because of approaching poverty and the needs of his son, Ray, who is sixteen years of age, Houts obtained work on the Symes building as a common laborer, his allotted task being the delivery of loads of brick and mortar to the masons.

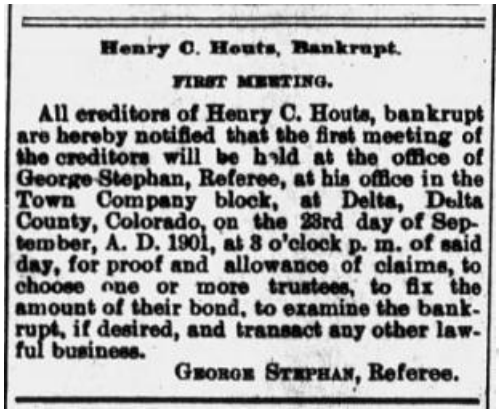

Houts is survived by a divorced wife and three children, Ray, 16, years of age; Stanley, 12, and Fern aged 8. Ray, the elder son is in the Golden reformatory, for stealing; Stanley resided with his father at the St. Jos house, Tenth and Larimer streets, while Fern is at the Bells Lennox nursery.

Houts and his wife were divorced some time ago, and she now resides at Cheyenne under the name of Mrs. May Wilson. There have been numerous quarrels between the divorcees since as to the custody of the children, and Houts was planning to return to Missouri to get away from further trouble.

Stanley, the son, heard of the accident and ran to Walley Rollins' morgue late yesterday afternoon, where he was shown his father's remains. "Yes, that is papa," he said, striving manfully to control his grief, "but it don't seem like him either. I was so afraid he would be hurt when he went to work there, but he used to come home every night and tell me what a nice time we were going to have when we went back to St. Joseph. Mamma and papa were both always good to me, and I suppose now I will go and live at Cheyenne. Hope she will come and bury papa."

The little fellow gave full information as to his father's relatives, the state of his finances, but though Mrs. Houts has been communicated with no reply was received up to a late hour this evening.

Her father was born in Kentucky, May 12, 1825 and her mother in Clinton County, Missouri, August 1, 1837, representing one of the pioneer families in that section of Northwest Missouri. Her mother is now living at a venerable age in Saline County, Missouri. Learns Death of Former Resident

Mrs. Helen Hall and son Ronald, and Bruce Laub from Rosamond, visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Blaz Bronzan, Sunday. Mrs. Hall also told us of the passing of Mrs. Isa Burger Hoffman, wife of Lionel Hoffman of Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Isa Burger Hoffman is remembered here by her many friends, as Mrs. Calvin Burger and the mother of Leo Burger, also deceased. Mrs. Hoffman fell into a coma Sunday evening at her Long Beach home. She was removed to the St. Mary's Hospital in Long Beach, where she passed away Thursday evening, April 24.

Mrs. Hoffman sufferred a stroke in April "45" on Mother's Day, when she received word, her son, Leo Burger, was lost in action on the submarine "Snooks" in the China Sea. Since that time Mrs. Hoffman has grieved and suffered heart attacks, which caused her death.

Mrs. Isa Burger Hoffman was very active in the Eastern Star here at the time she made her home here, with Mr. Calvin Burger and son Leo who are both deceased and was a well known family of Monolith and Tehachapi.

Mrs. Hoffman was buried Saturday at 3 p.m. from Morelands Mortuary in Lynwood, Calif., and interred in the Rose Hills Cemetery of Los Angeles.

She leaves her husband, Lionel Hoffman of Long Beach, a sister, Bertha Houtz of Los Angeles and a brother, Jack of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mother: Caroline May Missemer Houts Wilson, 1869 or 1870 MO – 19 Jan 1938 Los Angeles Co. CA

Her father was Adam Missemer (ca. 1829 PA, also found as 21 Dec 1827 -). It is unclear who her mother was. One suggestion online was Caroline Ellittsabeth Schoener.

One of the difficulties in tracing her life is that "Missemer" is misspelled in a variety of ways – Misner, Missmer, Messmer.

Her brother (half-brother?) Otto C. Missemer's obituary is copied above. His mother & that of his sister Valeria Rose Missemer Zimmerman (1874 or 25 Oct 1875-29 Sep 1951, F: 140718761) was Louann Riley (1837-1925).

Otto was born 1878 MO & died 1958 CA. Valerie R. Zimerman (54 PA) is listed in Jeannette, Westmoreland PA in the 1930 census, with husband Robert M. Zimerman (75).

In the 1880 census for Platte, Andrew Co. MO, conducted 14 Jun 1880, Adam M. MISNER (51 PA) & Louann (42 PA) had several children in their household, including Mary, age 10, the closest name/age to Caroline.

Caroline had the surname Wilson by the time Stanley sailed on Tuscania 24 Jan 1918.

In the 1932 CA voter registration lists, Caroline May Wilson, a Democrat, lived at 1183 ¼ W. 25th Place.

Her tombstone is inscribed "Beloved mother."
