NAME CHANGED TO FIT ARMY RECORD

Charles O. Dean Shows Honorable Service After Enlistment as Frank Howard.

Because the records of the army, where he served honorably for twenty months, show his name to be Frank Howard, Charles O. Dean yesterday filed in superior court a petition to change his name to Frank Howard.

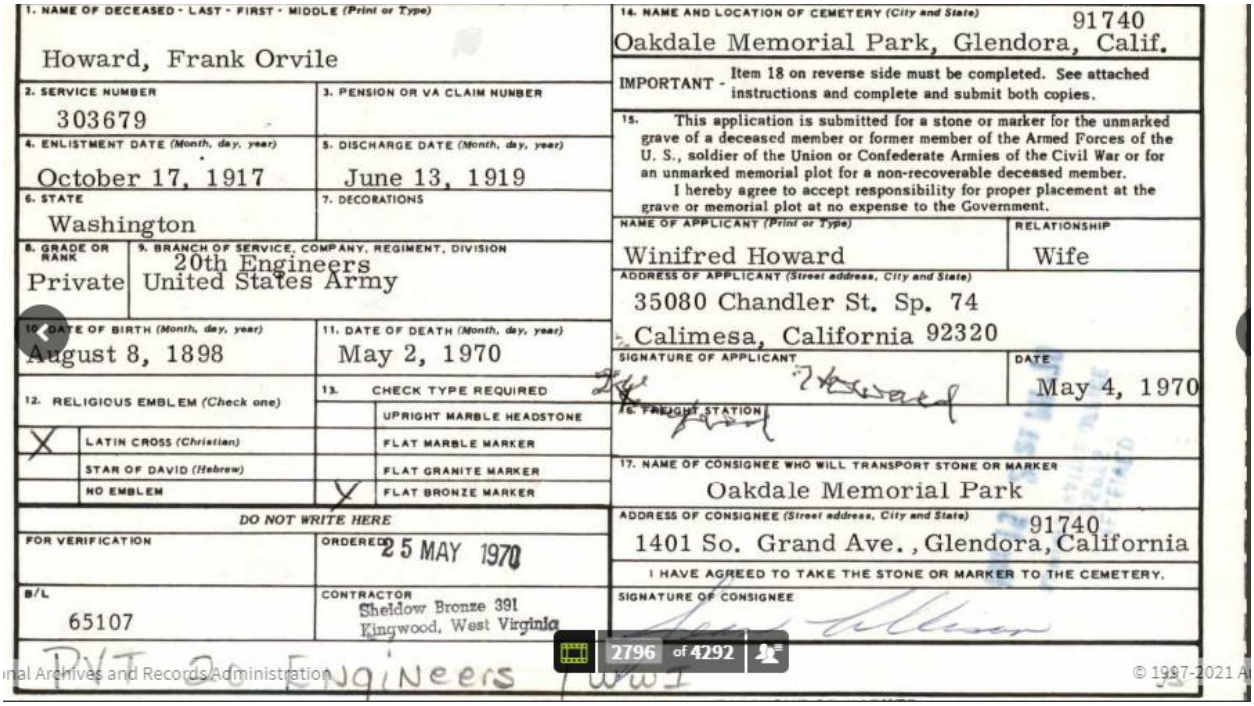

Dean's petition is a recital of an adventurous career.

He was born August 18, 1898, in New York state. His mother's name was Margaret E. Dean. In 1907, he relates, his father disappeared and was never seen again. At the age of 11 young Dean ran away from home, landing eventually at Yakima. When he was 14 he assumed the name of Frank Howard, which he has used ever since.

At the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the Sixth battalion of the Twentieth engineers. His regiment went over on the transport Tuscania, and he was thrown into the water when the ship was torpedoed. After a long service overseas he returned to this county and was discharged June 17, 1919. Two months before this, however, another little event of importance to him occurred. He went to Everett and married Miss Nan Eva Fields. His wife attached to his petition her permission that his name be changed, because the change will affect her as well as him.

It had been planned several weeks ago to observe the occasion by an open house smoker, at which all veterans of foreign wars, whether or not members of the post, were to be invited, but owing to alterations being made to Elks' hall, where the meeting was to be held, it had to be postponed.

NEW SUPERIOR JURY STARTS FALL TERM WITH A CONVICTION

F. H. Fleenor Decreed Lazy Husband; Testimony Is Taken In Marl Case

SUMMON WITNESSES FOR STOHR MATTER

Verdict of guilty in the Frank H. Fleenor lazy husband case, tried yesterday by the September superior court jury before Judge Ralph C. Bell, started the fall term of court. Today it is in full swing, with another jury ready for instructions at adjournment of court this noon.

Calvin S. Marl is on trial today on a speeding charge. The well-known Everett-Seattle stage driver has been tried in this case once before, but the jury was unable to reach an agreement. That was in June. The case was hotly contested at that time, and the same arguments were of course used this morning.

Silvius Underhill, charged with making threats to kill, was supposed to appear for trial this morning, but he was not in court, so his case was allowed to go over to afternoon. Tomorrow two cases are set for trial: that against Clarence A. Stohr, and one brought from the city court by A. Marcuson.

A. Marcuson.

In the Stohr case, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Q. A. Kaune this morning secured permission from Judge Bell to endarse as witnesses Josephine Bishop, Ruth Branstrom, R. B. Hassell, Ida Cook, Guy C. Alston, Q. A. Kaune, James McCulloch, Claude Weatherbee, James Myrick, Jim Hill, N. S. Berridge, F. M. Gregory, J. B. Moncur, Mrs. J. B. Moncur, Frank Howard, Nan Howard, and Betsy Golden. Miss Bishop, who is 15 years old, is now in the state school for girls at Grand Mound. Judge Bell signed an order that the superintendent of the school produce Miss Bishop in court tomorrow morning at 9:30.

Winifred Rohan, plaintiff, vs. L. J. Rohan, defendant.

The State of Montana Sends Greeting to the Above Named Defendant:

Three new divorce complaints and one divorce decree were included among the filings in the office of the clerk of the district court yesterday. Grace Blythe asks for divorce from Milton B. Blythe on the ground of failure to provide. They were married in Iowa in 1911. Although he earns $50 a week at his trade as a printer, she says, he contributes nothing to her support.

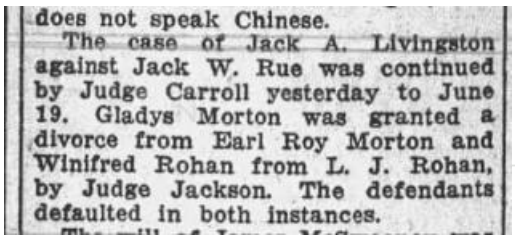

Winifred Rohan charges failure to provide against her spouse, L. J. Rohan. They were married in Utah in 1920.

May Matthews charges extreme cruelty in her suit against Edward F. Matthews. They were married in Anaconda, April 25, 1919. She has a child by a former marriage whom Matthews formally adopted. She asks for divorce, attorney fees, court costs, the custody of the child and the restoration of the little one's name, Harvey.

In the suit of Carl S. Johansen against his wife Annie the defendant was granted a decree of absolute divorce on her answer to her husband's complaint. She was also granted custody of the minor children.

In the divorce suit of Clara McGee against Ray McGee, the defendant has filed a demand that the case be transferred to Powell county, where he resides.

BUTTE COUPLE MARRIED WHILE AT STATE FAIR

Joseph Rohan of 624 South Dakota street and Miss Elsie Satterthwaite of 16 East Agate street were married in Helena yesterday, according to a telegram received in Butte last night. They were known to be in attendance at the state fair, but not even their relatives had an intimation of their plan to be married at this time.

The bridegroom is employed by his brother, Leo Rohan, in the Iona pool hall, 76 East Park street, who said last night that he did not know of the wedding until informed by the Standard that it had taken place.

ATTORNEY GETS IN ROW WITH THE COURT

George Tooleand Police Magistrate Exchange Some Heated Remarks.

Attorney George D. Toole and the Butte police magistrate had a little tilt in the city court yesterday that brought out heated statements from both. The judge remarked that some attorneys ought to be in jail, and the attorney retorted that he thought that idea applied to some judges, or words to that effect. It all came out of the case in which Joseph Rohan of 607 South Dakota street was charged with resisting an officer.

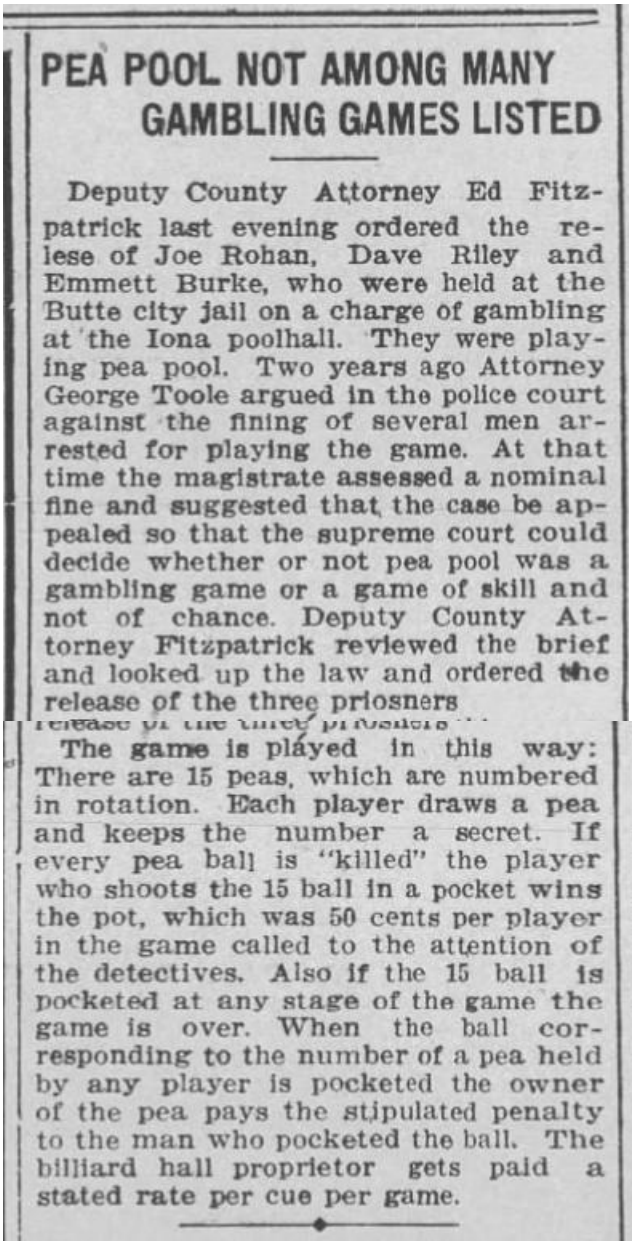

It seems that Rohan was talking to his wife and his sister, Mrs. Josie Leonard, at the corner of Main and Park streets, in front of the State Savings bank, when Officer Moran requested them to keep the sidewalk clear, as it was alleged they were blocking traffic by the positions they occupied on the sidewalk.

It was alleged that Rohan not only refused to move, but that the second time he was asked to vacate his position he made remarks any one would resent. The defense claimed that the officer was unwarranted in taking the action he did.

The clash between the court and the attorney came when the latter was examining the officer who made the arrest. Mr. Toole was several times warned by the court that he was liable to a jail sentence, but the attorney said that he would sooner take a jail sentence than fail to avail himself of his rights in a court of law.

The hearing wound up by the court fining the defendant $25 and notice of appeal was immediately given.

PEA POOL NOT AMONG MANY GAMBLING GAMES LISTED

Deputy County Attorney Ed Fitzpatrick last evening ordered the relese of Joe Rohan, Dave Riley and Emmett Burke, who were held at the Butte city jail on a charge of gambling at the Iona poolhall. They were playing pea pool. Two years ago Attorney George Toole argued in the police court against the fining of several men arrested for playing the game. At that time the magistrate assessed a nominal fine and suggested that the case be appealed so that the supreme court could decide whether or not pea pool was a gambling game or a game of skill and not of chance. Deputy County Attorney Fitzpatrick reviewed the brief and looked up the law and ordered the release of the three prisoners

The game is played in this way: There are 15 peas, which are numbered in rotation. Each player draws a pea and keeps the number a secret. If every pea ball is "killed" the player who shoots the 15 ball in a pocket wins the pot, which was 50 cents per player in the game called to the attention of the detectives. Also if the 15 ball is pocketed at any stage of the game the game is over. When the ball corresponding to the number of a pea held by any player is pocketed the owner of the pea pays the stipulated penalty to the man who pocketed the ball. The billiard hall proprietor gets paid a stated rate per cue per game.

BADLY TREATED FOUR ASK FOR A DIVORCE

Elsie Rohan must have had something more than six years of strenuous married life, according to the complaint she filed yesterday against Joseph Rohan in an action for divorce. They were married in Helena in September of 1912. She declares he is of a very jealous disposition, quick tempered and dangerous to have around, and is always scolding, finding fault, swearing at her and accusing her of intimacy with other men. He even objected to her visiting relatives or going to dances and places of amusement. Once he refused to let her go to a show with her own mother. One time, when she came home from a party, he beat her up. His conduct drove her from home, she says, and while she was away he refused her any money to live on. Later he professed penitence and she returned to him, only to have the old course of treatment continued. She asks for alimony and counsel fees.

Rohans Settle Their Financial Matters and Property Rights Out of Court.

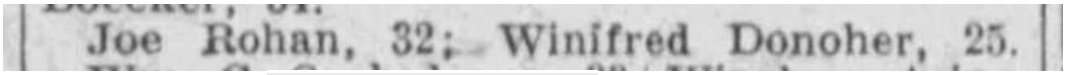

LONG STORY OF CRUELTY

False Accusations Against Character and Many Other Troubles Stated.

After more than four years of unhappiness in the married state, Elsie Rohan yesterday secured from Judge Dwyer a decree setting her free from Joseph Rohan and allowing her to take back her maiden name of Elsie Satterthwaite. Her complaint in divorce charged her husband with cruelty. He came back with an answer denying everything and making counter charges and asking divorce on his own account. To the answer she made a reply and for a while it looked like there might be a breezy trial in court. Yesterday, however, when the case came up, Rohan's answer and cross-complaint were withdrawn at request of his attorney, and the wife withdrew her reply. Rohan refused to plead further, and after hearing the testimony of the wife, the decree was signed, giving her the divorce. In it she waives all claims to property, suit money, attorney fees and alimony. All that had been arranged satisfactorily out of court.

The parties were married in Helena in September of 1912. The woman said her husband was of a fault-finding disposition and was always scolding and swearing at her and making false accusations against her character. He objected to her visiting relatives or going to dances or shows with them, and on one occasion would not let her go to the theater with her mother. He refused to give her money to buy the necessities of life. In December of 1917 he ordered her from the house. Three months later he made up their differences by promising to behave better toward her. But two days after the reconciliation she said he made her go to a lawyer's office with him to arrange for a separation. Various other acts of cruelty were charged against the man.

Luke was killed along with two of his children when a half dozen sticks of dynamite exploded beneath the bed they were laying on or playing near at their home at 367 E. Granite Street.

Multiple witnesses testified at the coroner's inquest that Luke had threatened to take his own life and "take his children with him." His wife Lolita had passed away the previous January and he was struggling to take care of three children under five years of age. The afternoon of the explosion, Luke had visited St. James Hospital with Anita and asked that the children be taken into a children's home. The priest told him his case would be taken care of and to take the children home. Luke had also asked a neighbor to borrow his car so he could take the children to the children's home in Helena.

Luke's mother Margaret, who lived at the home with Luke's stepfather, testified that Luke and his stepfather James "never quarreled." James Duffy testified he and his stepson fought frequently.. Margaret insisted that Luke had expressed no despondency and that "an enemy" of Luke's had entered the home and planted the dynamite.

A coroner's inquest ruled that the deaths were the result of "a person or persons unknown."

Luke's children Anita and Edmond were interred in the same grave as Luke. His surviving child, an 18-month-old daughter, was placed in the custody of Luke's cousin.

OFFICERS PROBE EXPLOSION FATAL TO THREE

WHERE THREE MET DEATH IN GRUESOME TRAGEDY

Here is a scene of the bedroom in the Luke Duffy home on East Granite street where Duffy and two of his children, Anita, 5, and Edmond, 3, were killed last night when a charge of dynamite exploded under the bed in which they were lying. The cross shows the corner where the boy's body was jammed against the rafters. It was necessary for firemen and police officers to jack up a section of the roof before the child's body could be dislodged. The bodies of the father and the girl were thrown across the floor.

TWO THEORIES HELD IN TRAGEDY IN BUTTE FAMILY

County Attorney Is Making Inquiry in Death of Luke Duffy, Children, in Explosion Last Night.

Two theories, one that Luke Duffy, 28-year-old miner, blew himself and his two children to death with dynamite, the other that a fourth person placed the dynamite under Duffy's bed with murderous intent, were being checked by county authorities today as the aftermath of an explosion which about 9 o'clock last night cost the lives of Duffy, his 5-year-old daughter, Anita, and his 3-year-old son. Jim Duffy, stepfather of the dead man, is being held by the county attorney's office for further questioning regarding the deaths of the trio, while sheriff's officers under Undersheriff Angus McLeod were seeking to establish proof that Luke Duffy blew himself and two children to death.

Members of the county attorney's staff declared this afternoon that they have evidence that Jim Duffy, the stepfather, threatened several days ago to "blow the whole family to hell," and that he was seen around the St. Lawrence mine yesterday. Undersheriff Angus McLeod said that his men had uncovered the fact that Luke Duffy yesterday afternoon told Tom Rogers, pumpman at the Emma mine and next-door neighbor, that he intended to kill himself and the children.

Jim Duffy was arrested on East Park street several blocks from the scene of the tragedy by Special Investigator John P. Kelly and County Attorney H. J. Freebourn. Kelly said that Duffy at that time admitted that he was in the basement of the house at the time of the explosion, and that he was awakened by falling bricks. Jim Duffy admitted, according to the investigator, that he and his stepson had quarreled yesterday.

Duffy declares, according to Undersheriff McLeod, that he had nothing to do with the blasting.

Luke Duffy, according to county records, has been held at the county jail at various times during the past two years. On several occasions, Undersheriff McLeod said, he was arrested and jailed for asserted threats to kill himself and his family.

Mother Tells Story.

"My God I don't know what happened. I was getting the baby ready for bed when the explosion occurred. Luke and the other two children had just left the room about 10 or 15 minutes before. It is too terrible. I am afraid that I will lose my mind," said Mrs. Margaret Duffy, mother of the blast victim, who, with Duffy's infant child, escaped from the house a moment after the explosion.

"Luke was cheerful enough as he left the front room to go to bed. He had been drinking heavy for the last week though and was mourning Lola's (his wife) death throughout the day, but I can't believe that he did this terrible thing."

Mrs. Duffy, after spending the night with relatives, returned to the scene of the tragedy this morning. She was accompanied by relatives and after entering the house she collapsed. She was again taken to the home of relatives and medical aid summoned. It is feared that shock and grief may prove fatal to her.

Had Been Despondent.

Mrs. Duffy stated that her son had worked steadily up until about a week ago. Since his wife's death last January she stated that he was moody much of the time and several times expressed a desire to join the mother of his children in death.

Other relatives of Duffy who visited at the Duffy home today also expressed the opinion that Duffy had been in a despondent mood for several months since his wife died.

Today Lolita Duffy, 18-month-old baby girl who was carried from the wrecked and burning building by her grandmother, faces life an orphan and with the seal of tragedy upon her. At the home of relatives this morning she prattled and played upon the floor.

A few minutes before 9 o'clock last night a half-dozen calls were turned in at the Quartz street station that a fire was burning at the East Granite street address.

Firemen from the Quartz and Arizona street stations rushed to the scene to find interior of the brick house a mass of ruins. There was no fire burning when they reached the scene, they said. Hand chemicals were sprayed about the floors of the first and second stories as a precaution against the flames breaking out.

At almost the same time policemen were advised by telephone that an explosion had cost the lives of three persons. Detectives Jack Duggan, Bart Riley, Gerry and Rodda hurried to the scene.

Policemen and firemen both said they found the body of Duffy sprawled on the floor near the bed on the second floor, blocking the entrance. A portion of the right leg had been blown away, they said. Fire had burned away hair and the body was virtually unclothed.

Nearby was the body of Anita Duffy. She was unconscious. She was rushed by police to St. James hospital where she died two hours later without regaining consciousness. The body was badly mangled and burned.

Authorities said they found what was left of the 3-year-old son imbedded in the ceiling. The body was blown to a pulp. It was necessary for firemen using jacks and axes to pry the body from the ceiling.

Debris Covered Floors.

The floor of the room on the second floor front was an inch thick with burned debris from the walls and ceilings. Windows on three sides of the structure were shattered by the blast. Strangely, however, the mattress on the bad was only slightly damaged, principally from the flames.

While firemen and police rummaged through the ruins, scores of persons milled about in the street in front of the building. They remained at the scene after midnight, many loitering about until daybreak this morning.

Coroner Mike Salot and Fire Chief Fred Martin personally took charge of the situation. They spent nearly two hours after the blast guarding the house.

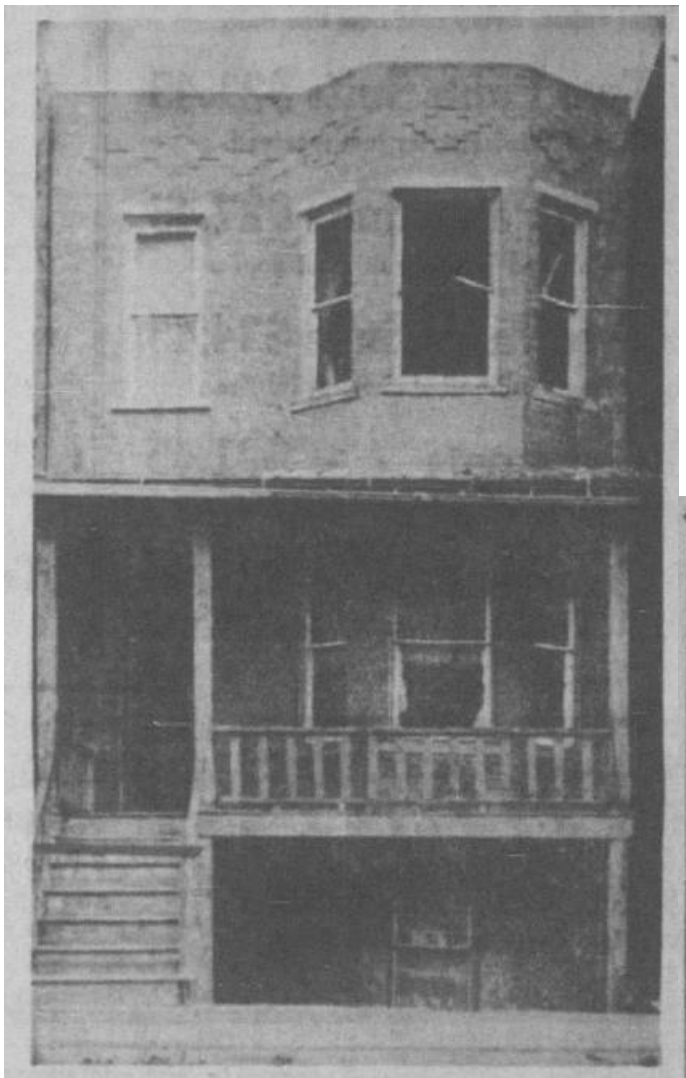

Bodies Removed.

Employes of the Gateway mortuary removed the bodies of the father and son. Police this morning expressed the belief that the father and two children were together in one bed. They declared that dynamite had either been placed under the bed or in the mattress. There was no way of telling how many sticks had been placed, they said. However, judging by the force of the explosion, several policemen said that possibly half a dozen sticks had been used.

The front room on the first floor directly under the quarters in which the explosion took place, was badly damaged from the concussion. Debris was scattered about this room. However, and adjoining room to the one in which the blast took place, and toward the rear of the house, was not seriously damaged. It was in this room that Mrs. Margaret Duffy, mother of the man that was killed, and an 18-month-old child were resting. Neither were harmed. The child was the youngest of Duffy's.

Surviving relatives include his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Duffy; one daughter, Lolita Margaret; two sisters, Mrs. Carl B. Olson of Rathaway, Mont., and Mrs. Roy F. Hogan of Orofino, Idaho; two aunts, Mrs. John Reilly and Mrs. William McQuinn of Butte; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Fitzpatrick of Anaconda; a grandmother, Mrs. Margaret McBride of Butte, and two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Annie McCarry and Mrs. Kate Runkle, both of Butte.

GUARDIANSHIP OF SURVIVOR IN BLAST TRAGEDY SOUGHT

Echoes of the explosion tragedy at the home of Luke Duffy, young Butte miner, several months ago in which he, his three-year-old son and five-year-old daughter were torn to bits in a dynamite explosion, were heard yesterday in Judge J. J. Lynch's courtroom at the hearing of petitions for the appointment of guardian for Lolita Duffy, 18-month-old sole surviving member of the family, who escaped the explosion.

Winifred Rohan, a cousin of the deceased Duffy, and Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzpatrick, mother of Duffy's dead wife, both seek letters of guardianship of the person and estate of the infant daughter that survives. The child is at present in the custody of Mrs. Mary Phillips, county humane officer.

Charges of incompetence in caring for the child were hurled during the hearing by the contesting parties. Claims of both parties were taken under advisement at the conclusion of the hearing and a decision will be announced some time next week by the court, it was stated.

Mrs. Ronan is also petitioning for letters of administration of the estate of Luke Duffy, valued at some $1,500. The hearing was continued to next Saturday.

COUSIN OF FATHER GUARDIAN OF BABY

Judge Lynch Signs Probate Order in Estate of Luke Duffy.

Guardianship of Lolita Margaret Duffy, 21-month-old survivor of a death blast which killed her father, Luke Duffy, her 3-year-old brother and her 5-year-old sister, was awarded to Mrs. Winifred Rohan, a cousin of the father, in an order signed in probate court today by Judge J. J. Lynch. Petitions for the guardianship of the child were filed in court and argued Saturday afternoon by counsel for Mrs. Rohan and Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzpatrick, grandmother of the child.

The petition of Mrs. Fitzpatrick was denied. Mrs. Rohan's bond was set by Judge Lynch at $2,000.

The baby has been in the custody of Mrs. Mary Phillips, secretary of the Montana Humane society, since the explosion which rocked the east side neighborhood and caused the death of her father, sister and brother. The children's mother died several months before the explosion.

MRS. WINIFRED ROHAN NAMED GUARDIAN FOR BLAST VICTIM'S CHILD

Mrs. Winifred Rohan was yesterday ordered appointed guardian of the person and estate of Lolita Duffy, 21-months-old baby, whose father, Luke Duffy, and 3-year-old brother and 5-year-old sitser were killed in a dynamite explosion in their home on East Granite street several months ago. Judge Jeremiah J. Lynch issued the order in probate court.

The matter had been under advisement since last Saturday, following a lengthy hearing in which the claims of Mrs. Rohan, a cousin of the deceased father, and Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzpatrick, Anaconda resident and grandmother of the baby, were heard in probate court. Both women sought custody of the child and its estate, amounting to some $1,500 in insurance on its father's life. Mrs. Rohan's petition for letters of administration for the estate of Luke Duffy will be heard Saturday.

Doris Flanigan and Brandan Rohan Wed

The marriage of Miss Doris Flanigan, the youngest daughter of William J. Flanigan and the late Mrs. Viola Flanigan, and Brendan Joseph Rohan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rohan of Butte and nephew of Mrs. Jack Duggan, was solemnized at St. Theresa's Church Saturday morning, July 2 at 10 0'clock. The Rev. A. J. Harrington received the marriage vows and celebrated the nuptial mass which followed. The bride was given in marriage by her father and her only attendant was a life long friend, Miss Lillian Boetticher of Helena who formerly lived in Whitehall. Patrick Harsted of Butte was best man.

William Flanigan, brother of the bride was the usher and Buddy Riebhoff served the Mass. Mrs. Cy Hotrum was at the organ, and Mrs. Ted Bisch, sister of the bride, sang, "On This Day O Beautiful, Mother," "O Sacred Heart" and "Panis Angelicus." The altar was adorned with pink gladioli and extra flowers in baskets were a gift of Mrs. Dan Quinn. Mrs. James Mullen decorated the church for the ceremony. The church was crowded with relatives and friends.

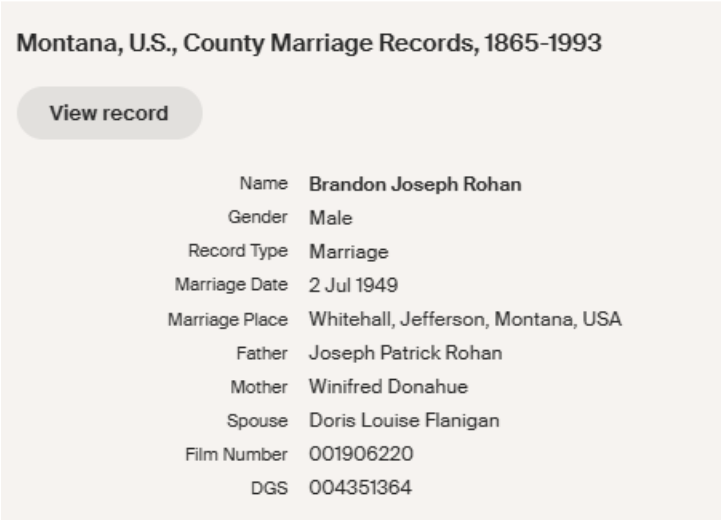

An informal breakfast was served immediately after the wedding at the Flanigan home and this was followed by a reception until late afternoon. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Annie Pankovich assisted the bride's sisters, Mrs. Ted Bisch and Mrs. Robert E. Bennett in serving.

The bride and groom are spending their honeymoon in Salt Lake City and will be at home in Butte on their return, where the groom is employed as an electrician.

Mrs. Rohan grew to young womanhood in Whitehall and was a member of this year's graduation class from the Whitehall high school. The groom is a graduate of Boy's Central high in Butte and served two years with the United States Armed forces during the late World War II.

WED IN CHURCH — Mrs. Joseph Hightower, who before her marriage Saturday in St. Mary church was Miss Marjorie Rohan, daughter of Joseph Rohan of 31 East Copper.

Dignity and beauty marked the wedding solemnized Saturday morning at St. Mary church, when Miss Marjorie Rohan, daughter of Joseph Rohan, 31 East Copper, became the bride of Joseph Hightower, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hightower of Missoula.

The Rev. J. A. Rooney officiated at 11 o'clock before an altar adorned with standards of late spring blossoms and cathedral candles.

Miss Peggy Semmens and Miss Eileen Connors were bridesmaids and David Freeman of Missoula was best man. The flower girls were Irene Reise and Billie Jean Reise.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory Burmie satin. The close-fitting bodice with tiny buttons down the back was fashioned with wedding ring waistline and yoke of marquisette. Chantilly lace formed the effect of a ruffled Bertha collar and the long tight fitted sleeves extended into points over the wrists. The back peplum of self-satin in large bow effect was a distinctive feature of the gown. The skirt fell into a cathedral train and the finger-tip length veil of illusion was attached to a cap arrangement of self-lace to match the gown. The bride's bouquet was of orchids and sweet peas.

A reception followed at the Rohan home, 31 East Copper. Arrangements of brilliantly-hued flowers and fern decorated the rooms and a large number of friends called.

The couple left for a trip to Seattle and Vancouver and upon their return will make their home in Missoula.

The bride attended Butte high school and Montana State college at Bozeman and prior to her marriage was employed by the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company.

Mr. Hightower attended Montana State college and is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is employed as office manager by the Hightower-Lubrecht Construction company in Missoula.

MRS. DEAN GETS FUND

Successful in Case Against Bank in Supreme Court.

VERDICT FOR FULL AMOUNT

Alleged That Name Signed to Checks Was Forged by Her Son—Bank Claimed That Plaintiff Was Guilty of Negligence.

After deliberating from 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon all through the night until 8 o'clock this morning the jury in the case of Mrs. Anne M. Dean of Phoenix against the Onondaga County Savings bank returned a verdict of $561 in favor of the plaintiff, the full amount sued for.

Some interesting questions of law were involved in the case. Mrs. Dean, who is 82 years of age, had $850 on deposit in the bank. Of this amount $550 was withdrawn on checks presented by her son, Orville Dean, and containing her signature. Mrs. Dean said that she never signed the checks and that her name was forged to them. The son disappeared soon after and never came back.

Mrs. Dean sued to recover the money paid on the checks. The bank claimed that it was not liable. The bank has a rule that when money is withdrawn the passbook must be presented by the depositor. Mrs. Dean lost her book. She claimed that it was stolen from her and the bank alleged that she was guilty of contributory negligence in losing it. In charging the jury Justice Devendorf said that where an order and passbook are presented at a bank and the person is identified as the one to whom the order is payable, such payment is valid. He said the bank also had a duty to perform and if the jury found that it was not the signature of Mrs. Dean on the order the question of the bank's negligence came in. He charged further as follows:

"If Mrs. Dean lost her passbook through her own negligence she cannot recover. If it is her fault the bank cannot be compelled to pay, as no one is obliged to pay because of the mistakes of another. Your verdict must, if you so find, be for the defendant. The responsibility of a savings bank is different from that of a discount bank, such as a national or State bank. When a discount bank accepts a forged paper and gives money on it the bank is bound to make it good to the depositor.

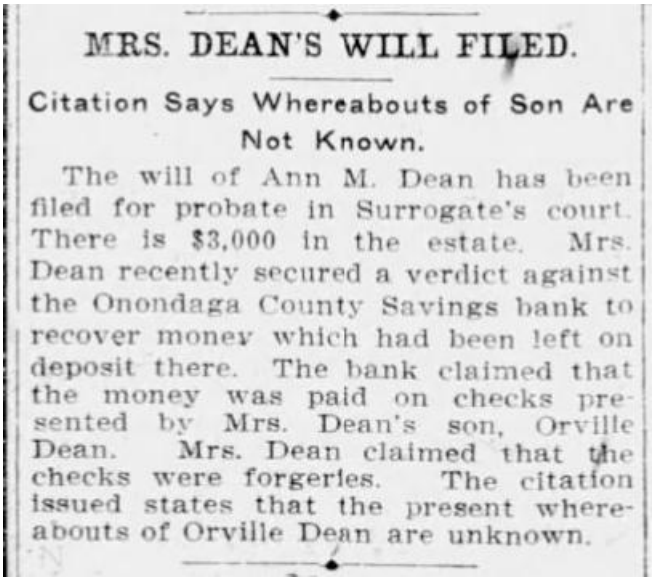

"The passbook system places the responsibility on the depositor. The depositor must not leave the passbook about carelessly, but must exercise judgment and precaution against loss. But if Mrs. Dean did her duty in this respect then the jury should determine if the bank took proper precautions to guard against fraud.

"If the signature to the order was genuine Mrs. Dean cannot recover. If she did not exercise proper care against the loss of the passbook, she could not recover if the bank discharged its duty. If it was not her signature, if she had exercised proper care of the passbook and the bank had failed to take proper precautions against fraud Mrs. Dean is entitled to a verdict for the full amount and interest."

The case was tried in Part I of Supreme court, where a sealed verdict was reported at 10 o'clock this morning.

DEANS IN NEW FIGHT

Two Sets of Children Claim Property Left by Mother.

WILL AND CODICIL OFFERED

In Gift to Son Mrs. Dean Expressed Hope That Amos Would Become Sober and Industrious—He Says That His Mother's Papers Were Lost.

The Deans are at it again. The Phoenix family which has the reputation of being engaged in more litigation than any other family in Onondaga county are now scrapping among themselves in Surrogate's court as to the disposition which should be made of the property of Ann M. Dean, who died recently at Phoenix.

Attorney Ira P. Betts appeared yestermorning with a will of Mrs. Dean which day with a will of Mrs. Dean w hich Glass. Attorney Otis M. Reilly was on hand with a codicil to the will which he asked to be probated. Mr. Betts said his clients knew nothing about the codicil and Mr. Reilly said his clients were under the impression that the will had been either lost or destroyed.

Mrs. Dean had been married twice and there were children from bota marriages. Nathan A. Dix, Mrs. Ella Peck and Mrs. Nora Kinslow are children of the first marriage and Amos G. Dean and Orville Dean are children of the second marriage. Orville is the young man who is said to have secured $500 from his mother's deposit in the bank on forged notes. His present whereabouts are not known.

In the will Mr. Dix, Mrs. Kinslow, Ella Peck and Amos Dean are each given $500. The gift to Amos contains the following clause: "And it is his mother's prayer and request that he become and remain a sober and industrious man." The will gives Orville Dean $25, $200 to the Tract society of Rome and $100 to be invested and the income paid to the chair factory at Phoenix as long as it remains in Phoenix.

The codicil to the will gives Amos remains in Phoenix.

The codicil to the will gives Amos Dean a house and lot at Hinmanville. The will was made in October, 1904, and the codicil was executed two years later. Now Amos claims that his mother gave him a bill of sale of all her property but the Hinmanville property before her death. Among the property included in the bill of sale is a house and lot in Phoenix.

Amos Dean says that the bill of sale given him by his mother, the deeds to the property, the will, a certificate of bank deposits and notes his mother held became lost. The codicil was with them, but that remained.

Now Dix says that the house and lot in Phoenix which Amos says his mother transferred to him was not Mrs. Dean's to give. Dix says that the property belonged to him. Amos is in possession of the property. He went to the house the day of his mother's funeral and the others say he has refused to let them enter the house. Dix is now bringing a suit to eject Amos.

Amos has secured an order preventing the bank from paying out any money belonging to Mrs. Dean. Surrogate Glass received the will yesterday and the case was adjourned to September 23d.

MAKES THE BANK PAY

For Money Which Was Withdrawn From It on Forged Checks.

DEAN ESTATE WINS ACTION

Son of Plaintiff Alleged to Have Been the Forger—Mrs. Dean Has Died Since Trial of Case, Which Jury Decided in Her Favor.

Supreme Court Justice Irving R. Devendorf has held that the Onondaga County Savings bank must remunerate the estate of Mrs. Ann M. Dean for the money taken from her account in the bank on what she said were forged checks presented by her son.

The amount involved is $550. Mrs. Dean had the money on deposit in the bank and it was withdrawn by her son, Orville L. Dean. Mrs. Dean claimed that the checks presented by her son upon which he secured the money were forged. She demanded the money, was refused, sued and got a judgment at the hands of a jury in Supreme court.

The bank asked that the verdict of the jury be set aside and a new trial ordered. It was claimed by the bank that no recovery could be had unless it was shown that the officers of the institution responsible for the payment of the money were negligent. It was said that Dean had been properly identified as the son of Mrs. Dean by another depositor, the checks, apparently, were good and the bank was not at fault. It was argued before the court that for the benefit of savings banks in general it would be bad policy to allow the plaintiff to recover.

Attorney O. M. Reilly stated for Mrs. Dean that Mrs. Dean had signed her name as a depositor as "Ann M. Dean" while the signatures on the checks were "A. M. Dean." There was a long argument before Justice Devendorf on the matter. Mrs. Dean has died since the case was tried.

In the decision of Justice Devendorf he says the question of whether the bank had exercised care and diligence was passed upon by the jury and he saw no reason for disturbing the verdict.

Father: Orville Longfellow Dean, ca. 1837 Phoenix, Oswego NY or 2 Dec 1869 Lysander, Onondaga NY – 16 Feb 1925 Glendora, Los Angeles CA.
Son of Samuel Dean (1811-1903) & Anna Goodfellow ["Goodfellow" on Orville's CA Death Index, but found as Ann Matilda Eno (1827-1909, F: 88426800), whose 1st marriage in 1851 was to Marvin J. Dix).
A barber in the 1900 census.
Married Florence Wells on 14 Sep 1898 in Pompey, Onondaga NY.
In an article in the Seattle WA "Post-Intelligencer" of Saturday, 27 Sep 1919, page 4, Frank Howard, asking to legally change his name from Charles O. Dean, said that his father disappeared in 1907, never to be seen again.

The Syracuse NY "Herald-Journal" of Friday 30 Jul 1909 p 9 discusses the will situation of Orville's mother Ann. The headline reads "Deans in New Fight."

"The Deans are at it again. The Phoenix family which has the reputation of being engaged in more litigation than any other family in Onondaga county are now scrapping among themselves in Surrogate's court as to the disposition of which should be made of the property of Ann M. Dean, who died recently at Phoenix."

The article explains that one attorney came to court with the will, and another attorney with a codicil, with one not knowing about the other. Ann Dean had been married twice. By her 1st marriage, she had Nathan Dix, Mrs. Ella Peck & Mrs. Nora Kinslow.

By her 2nd marriage, she had Amos G. Dean & Orville Dean. "Orville is the young man who is said to have secured $500 from his mother's deposit in the bank on forged notes. His present whereabouts are not known."

The will gave her 4 children – Nathan, Ella, Nora & Amos – each 4500. Orville was willed $25. The will was dated Oct 1904; the codicil dated from 2 years later. According to the will, Amos Dean got the house & lot in Hinmanville NY. Amos claimed he had a bill of sale already, but Nathan said the house is his. When Nathan & others tried to enter the house, Amos refused them entry.

In Jul 1909, the NY Supreme Court ruled that the Onondaga County Savings Bank must reimburse the estate of Mrs. Ann M. Dean (Orville's mother, now deceased) with the $550 obtained by her son, Orville L. Dean, who forged her name to checks in order to get the money from her deposits. The original charge against Orville had been brought by his mother.

Living with wife Adeline (b. ca. 1880 NY) in Solano Co. CA in the 1920 census.

Spouse: Winifred M. (Winnie) Donoher Rohan Rohan Howard, 14 Jun 1897 Butte, Silver Bow MT – 21 Dec 1971 San Rafael, Marin Co. CA.
SSN 564-28-6389.

Daughter of Michael Donoher (1872 Ireland [tombstone, but birth registration lists 1867] – 1927 MT, F: 156072808) and Mary E. Keegan (1865 Ireland – 1898 MT).

Sometimes her 1st name is spelled with 2 "N's" – Winnifred.

Winifred Donoher married Leo Joseph Rohan on 4 Jun 1920 in Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co. UT. Leo was the son of Patrick M. Rohan & Delia McNalley/McNally. Leo was born 14 Nov 1895 in Scranton, Lackawanna PA on 14 Nov 1895. On their license, Winifred claimed a birthdate of 13 Mar 1898, daughter of Michael Donoher & Mary Keegan.

Winifred Rohan petitioned for a divorce in Silver Bow Co. MT on 23 Feb 1923 against L.J. Rohan claiming that he had failed to support her for over one year. The divorce was granted in May 1923.

Leo Joseph Rohan remarried & died 7 Nov 1939 Newport, Campbell KY. He is buried with wife Mary Jane (1894-1939) in Saint Stephen Cemetery, Fort Thomas, Campbell KY, F; 181194506.

"Winifred Donoher" obtained a marriage license in Oct 1923 in Los Angeles Co. CA with "Joe Rohan" - her ex-husband's older brother, Joseph Patrick Rohan - born 8 Dec 1890 Scranton, Lackawanna PA, died 6 May 1962 Butte, Silver Bow MT, the son of Patrick M. Rohan & Delia McNally. He is buried in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Butte, Silver Bow MT, F: 132359898.

On 6 Dec 1925, Winifred & Joseph Rohan's son Brendon Joseph Rohan was born in Helena, Lewis & Clark MT.

When Winifred's father Michael Donoher died 21 Jan 1927, she is listed as surviving daughter Mrs. Joseph Rohan of Butte MT.

In the 1930 census for Butte, Silver Bow MT, conducted 3 Apr 1930, living at 7 N. Henry St.:
Joseph Rohan, 39 PA, father b. Irish Free State, mother b. NY, age 32 at 1st marriage, salesman, cigar store
Winnifred, 32 MT, parents b. Irish Free State, age 25 at 1st marriage [wife]
Brendon J., 4 MT [son]

On 22 Dec 1930 in Butte, Silver Bow MT, Winifred Rohan was appointed guardian of 11-month-old Lolita Duffy, whose father Luke Duffy, 3-year-old brother & 5-year-old sister had been killed in a dynamite explosion at their Butte MT home a few months earlier. Winifred was a cousin of Luke Duffy. Lolita's grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzpatrick of Anaconda MT, also requested custody of the child, which also gave the guardian her estate of $1,500 from her father Luke's life insurance policy.

According to a newspaper account, Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Rohan & family moved to San Francisco CA in 1932. According to her obituary, Winifred moved to CA ca. 1936 (35 years prior to her death).

Complicating genealogical research is that Joseph Patrick Rohan's brother Frank S. Rohan (1878 PA – 1940 MT, F: 156461045) also married a woman named Winifred (or Winnifred) – Winifred Annie Carkeek (1883 England – 1977 CA, F: 202635077) who lived in MT but died in CA. Newspaper citations from the 1930s in Butte MT newspapers should be viewed with caution. Winifred Carkeek Rohan's first name is often spelled Winnifred in newspaper accounts.

Joseph Rohan, son Brendon & adopted daughter Margery Lolita apparently returned to Butte, Silver Bow MT, where in the 1940 census, conducted 2 Apr 1940, Joseph Rohan (48 Scranton PA), a cigar clerk in a cigar store) lived with his children "Branden" Rohan (14 Butte MT) & Margery Rohan (11 Butte MT) in the household of his brother-in-law John Duggan (48 Butte MT, night chief, police department) & his wife Irene Duggan (48 Scranton PA). Irene Rohan Duggan is Joseph Patrick Rohan's sister. Brandon is listed as John Duggan's nephew & Margery as his niece.

Frank & wife Winifred Howard resided in San Bruno, San Mateo CA in the 1940 census, conducted 26 Apr 1940, listed as husband & wife.

However, F. Howard (age 41) & Winifred Rohan (age 43), both residents of Los Angeles CA, obtained a marriage license in Dec 1941 in Santa Clara Co. CA.

Frank & Winifred lived in the same city in the 1950 census (conducted 11 Apr 1950).

Notes:

Pre-war:
Born as Charles O. Dean. By the time he registered for the WWI draft on 5 Jun 1917, he had become Frank Orvile/Orville Howard in the US Army.

But he returned home from war & married using the name Charles Orville Dean in 1919.

An article in the Seattle WA "Post-Intelligencer" of Saturday, 27 Sep 1919, page 4, offered this explanation.
Known as "Frank Howard" in the US Army, Charles O. Dean petitioned to change his name in Superior Court in Seattle, King WA on 26 Sep 1919. He said he was born 18 Aug 1898 [i.e. 8 Aug 1898) in NY; his mother was Margaret E. Dean. In 1907, his father disappeared, never to be seen again.

At age 11, Charles ran away from home, ending up in Yakima WA. At age 14 he assumed the name of Frank Howard & enlisted under that name in the Army, from which he was discharged 17 Jun 1919. Since he had married Nan Eva Fields 2 months earlier as Charles O. Dean, he brought to court permission from her for the name change, as she would also be affected.
