BUTTE MAN DESCRIBES HIS EXPERIENCES ON TUSCANIA

DAVE HUDTLOFF.

Lieutenant Hudtloff in Letter to His Wife Gives Eyewitness Account of Torpedoing of the American Troopship, the Rescue and Reception in an Irish Village.

Picked up unconscious from the turbulent waters of the Irish sea, following the torpedoing of the S. S. Tuscania and now safe in a little village near Londonderry, Ireland, Second Lieutenant D. G. Hudtloff, in a letter to his wife, Mrs. Hudtloff of 1028 West Porphyry street, gives the first eye-witness account of the terrors of the sea catastrophe which cost the lives of so many American soldiers.

Mr. Hudtloff, who was commissioned a second lieutenant from the Presidio and was unattached with the troops aboard the Tuscania, fought in the insurrection in the Philippines when he was 15 years old. He volunteered early in the present war. He was not injured in the Tuscania wreck and quickly recovered among the kindly North of Ireland people from the effects of his ducking.

Interspersed with his story of the torpedoing of the American transport are sidelights on life in Ireland, which are interesting to Butte. His letter, which has been loaned the Post by the kindness of Mrs. Hudtloff, follows in full and his many friends will be glad to learn of the details of the disaster, the fortunate rescue of so many of our boys, the warm greetings they received in the Irish village and the determination, which water could not chill, to keep on towards Berlin:

When Torpedo Hit.

Feb. 9, 1918.

"Dear Wife: It's been a long time now since I have had any news from you, over a month, but when I do finally get your mail, I'll get it all in a bunch. I suppose you have been quite excited over the news of the torpedoing of our troops. We were the first of the American troops to get it, and I will tell you just as much as I can.

"To begin with, Feb. 5, at 6 p. m., I was standing in the smoking room and had just folded my life belt, so as to carry it over my shoulder. As I put my arm through the sling the torpedo hit. The noise it made I will never forget, and the shock of it jerked my life belt from me and all the lights went out with the explosion.

The Ship Tilted.

"I was standing directly over the explosion on the starboard side (right side) and got the full benefit of it. The ship shook herself like a horse and tilted over towards the side hit. Being dark I could not find my life belt and tried to get to my state room, but could not get there for the crowd. All I had on was my uniform and campaign hat; no gloves, no overcoat.

"I made right for the top deck, where my boat was. The first boat on that davit was just going down and my boat was the third that should have gone down, but the rope was either cut or snapped, for there was no rope to let the other boats down and I ran forward to see what could be done.

Into the Water.

"When I was too close to the edge I was either pushed or slipped, or fell, I don't know which. But I hit something and then there was a blank space. Later I found myself in a crowded life boat and pretty soon a destroyer pulled along side of us and, under hard job, landed on the destroyer. I can still see its number, H-17. When I set my foot on the boat I felt just like it was land. I was wet from top to bottom. The Tommies on the destroyer surely treated us good.

Acted Like Men.

"There were quite a few broken bones amongst our men, but they behaved themselves fine. Our destroyer stood by for a long time and picked up boat after boat and all were taken off. The ship stayed afloat for how long I don't know. We finally made for this place and landed at 4 a. m, Feb. 6. The people here were the same to us as though we were in our own country. Every man was taken care of and sent to some place, and 11 of the officers were sent to this place. They gave me a pair of woolen socks and a muffler and I am well taken care of.

Everything Lost.

"We didn't save a thing, everything is gone, but the government is going to make good, I think. At least that was what I was told. I'm glad I'm still here. I don't mind getting shot, but I want a fighting chance with the Huns and I know that I can get my limit before they get me. But that water looked awful cold to me to be buried in, believe me. Some of the British officers invited us up to the club for dinner and they surely are royal entertainers. We made friends right from the start.

"Tell Dick Brimacombe that H. L. Joseph from Michigan is here with me. He was in the same bunch and we met here. He knows Dick and Mrs. Brimacombe well. Ellis is here also.

also.

Just Like Home.

"I'm in Ireland, the northern part, and it is sure an interesting place. These people here are just splendid, and when I go along the streets and hear the brogue I feel like I'm going along Anaconda Road, up in Dublin Gulch, and I feel quite at home. You'll have to come to this country after the war.

"When our boys got off the destroyer which brought us to land, the first thing they spied was a Ford auto. The cheer that that old Lizzie received was more than I ever heard, or any president of the United States ever received. It made me laugh. The boys had been a little down-hearted, but when they saw the Lizzie they all were Americans again. I can tell you this better than I can write it. To see that old Ford did those boys more good than if they had seen Old Glory flying.

Old Glory Waving.

"The next day I happened to stand in the window of the American consul and on the building the United States flag was waving as free and independent as ever. A bunch of our men came marching by and as I stood there looking down I saw every man look up to Old Glory and salute and smile and all were themselves again.

"Well, I have told you all I can tell you this time. Hoping you are well and happy, I am your loving husband.

"DAVE."

They Are Securing a List of the Men in Butte Who Are Ready to Join Montana's Greater National Guard

THE RECRUITING COMMITTEE.

Major Jesse B. Roote, at the left of the picture, started the movement in Butte by which efforts are now being made to secure the names of 600 men who are ready and willing to go to Mexico should the emergency arise. Captain Wilbur Brinton is in the center of the picture. He is a member of the committee. Dave Hudtloff, the third member of the committee, is devoting his entire time to collecting recruits. His office is located on the second floor of the old Independent Telephone company's building on West Granite street.

If Carranza fails to hold the Mexican people in check and if the punitive expedition into Mexico after Villa develops into a real war, 600 young men of Butte will be ready for the front as the result of a spirited mass meeting held several nights ago and because of the tireless effort during the past few days of the three committeemen appointed at the meeting. These are Maj. Jesse B. Roote, Capt. Wilbur Brinton and Dave Hudtloff, the latter a Spanish-American war veteran.

Each day since the office in which names are received has been opened a steady stream of young men has flowed into the second floor of the former Independent Telephone company's building on West Granite street. Friday Mr. Hudtloff reported that about 225 names had been secured and that within a few days it is expected that the 500 mark will be passed.

"We are not recruiting men," said Major Roote yesterday. "We are simply lining up the men who, in case of war with Mexico, will be ready and willing to form a part of a new regiment, should one be created in Montana.

Believes War Inevitable.

"Some people believe that war with Mexico is now inevitable. I believe so, too. When the president is empowered to do so by act of congress he will no doubt call upon the national guard for duty on the Mexican border. The guard, as it now stands, is not sufficient and the new army bill provides for a big increase. This will mean more regiments of soldiers and at least one more regiment from Montana.

"We met in a mass meeting the other night and discussed the situation. At that meeting it was the consensus of opinion that, should the governor want another regiment from Montana, he should not have to wait long from Butte.

"It is true that in every small town in Montana there are men waiting for the chance to form companies. Butte doesn't want to be behind time, but, on the other hand, Butte wants to be first. That is the reason why we are collecting the names of men who will offer their services when the time comes.

"If the Second Montana regiment is called to the front it will go to Mexico and Butte will not be represented in it. But, if a second regiment goes to the front, which is certainly possible, we want to have not only one but four companies of Butte men. Butte and Silver Bow county do not want to be left out and we won't be if there is an occasion for our services."

Opinion of Regular.

During the past week a regular army officer passed through Butte and called at the recruiting station. He was on his way to dispose of some mining property in Idaho because he expects to be called to Mexico within a few days.

"I like the spirit I find here," he said. "It shows that Butte is not lacking in patriotism. I wish there were more offices like this over the country where young men are volunteering their services even before such services are asked of them. It's fine."

Many Ex-Soldiers.

The list of 200 names now on hand includes many former regular soldiers. With a few exceptions the entire list contains the names of men who have seen some military training. Some fought in the Spanish-American war, while others secured their training in military schools. Many of those who have signed to date are professional men and college graduates. Others are miners.

The committee is having no trouble at all securing the names of engineers proposed for the engineering corps. A special committee was appointed at the mass meeting to get a list of engineers who are willing to go to Mexico if needed. This committee is having no trouble at all and will have more than enough names for a full company within a day or two.

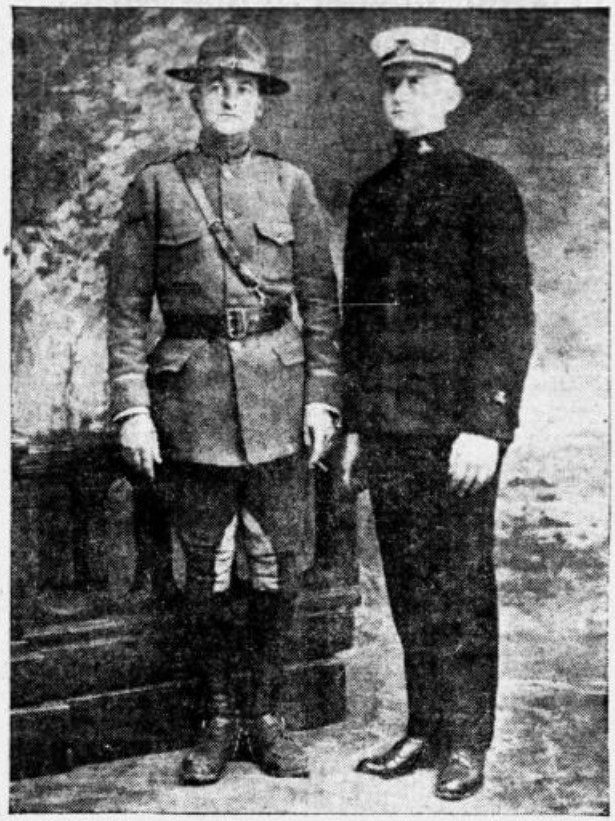

According to ex-army men, the engineering branch of the service is by far the most interesting. Upon the engineers will fall the work of erecting bridges, surveying roads and other work which calls for the efforts of technical men.

TWO BUTTE BOYS WHO ARE "OVER THERE."

DAVE AND ARTHUR HUDTLOFF.
Brother and son, respectively, of Rev. Martin Hudtloff of Butte. This picture was taken in France.

The following interesting letter is from Lieut. David Hudtloff, brother of the Rev. Martin Hudtloff:

"Have had several nice letters from you but could only send postal cards in return, but this last coincidence surely calls for a letter.

"I had heard that Arthur was in the east and came to the conclusion that sooner or later I would see him here and had been looking for him on every incoming boat, I being quite sure that Art did not know of my being in this place. So here about a week ago a certain boat pulled in and tied up and my men got o nthe boat immediately and got busy, then by chance some one heard Art's name and immediately asked if he had a brother here and Art was told that his brother was very near. In the meantime Art tried to get me on the phone. I went at once to the docks at 1:30 a. m., and Art was just coming off duty so we had a fine reunion and midnight pleasure meeting, and unless you have been in a foreign country and under present circumstances, you cannot imagine what a pleasure it is to meet a friend fro myour home, and double is the pleasure if it happens to be a relative. Well, in some places I was Art's brother and then, again, his uncle. But it made no difference. Art and I had a good visit and I'm sorry he left so soon.

"I had dinner with Art aboard the ship and he had dinner with me at my camp. I got a good idea of Art's position, and that boy which I left home is no longer the boy I knew, but is a man with the responsibility of two men. He has a large gang of engine men and mechanics to handle, and the entire responsibility of keeping the machinery going is his.

"Hope Art lands safe in Butte after his trip back to the States."

Letter From Son.

The following is a letter from Mr. Hudtloff's son, Arthur, who is a warrant officer in the navy:

"I am very thankful that you are all well. I am feeling fine and dandy again. Have not caught up for the sleep I lost on sea. In the navy we haven't time for sleep now. It is a steady grind. But I like the work. I had some thrilling experiences on the trip across. Now I am glad I had the opportunity to live through such experiences. It won't be long before I am out at sea again. However, before I go I am anticipating a few days' furlough and will try to come home. When I left Dave I told him I would be with him by Christmas.

"We had some celebration last night in New York. I went up with some other officers. We were in the parade. The women threw flowers at us and nearly tore us to pieces. Even the older women, mothers of boys over there, came and shook hands with us and hugged us. We were showered with confetti. Finally we landed at the finest hotel and had a big dinner at midnight. We had a wonderful time. We felt rewarded for the hard times we had had. Wherever we go, the people cheer us. They even carried us through th streets, and we feel that it isn't a bad world after all."

AN ODD FISH POLE CANE

A cane that is not a cane but a fish pole is a Japanese novelty received this morning by William E. Hudtloff, cashier of the Citizens' State bank, from his brother, David Hudtloff, a corporal in the United States regular army who had occasion to spend several weeks in Japan the past year. The cane was purchased at Nagesaki. It is about an inch and a quarter in diameter, the outside being carved and the carvings painted in oriental colors. The bottom consists of a steel fitting which, when released, permits the cane to be lengthened five times its apparent length by a telescopic arrangement into a good sized and strong fish pole. The unique cane is made of bamboo.

M'TARNAGHAN QUITS AS THE SUPERVISOR

George McTarnaghan, for a long time supervisor of manual training in the Butte public schools, sent in his resignation last night to the trustees. The letter was written in New York. The former supervisor means to take a course in a school of technology in the East. Nothing was done toward selecting a successor.

Contractor Green told the board that the plastering work at the Franklin school building was tied up because of some labor dispute involving jurisdictional questions. He thought it would all be straightened out soon.

He asked for two weeks' extension of time on his contract, and it was referred to the building committee. His time was up yesterday.

Bids for taking the school census were received as follows: A. S. Laurens, 4 cents per name; George M. Rowe, 3¼ cents; David Hudtloff, 5 cents; Thomas W. Kerrigan and J. F. Taylor, 3½ cents; J. R. Silver, 4 cents. The bids were referred to the clerk in conjunction with the committee on teachers and school management. The census starts Sept. 1 and must be over by Sept. 20.

NONE AHEAD OF BUTTE IN BEING PREPARED

READY TO FURNISH A BATTALION OF MEN WHEN NEEDED.

RECRUITING TO BEGIN SOON

Place where those who desire may enlist will be announced within a day or two—Senator Myers acknowledges resolutions.

With prospects of peace long continued getting stronger every day, Butte may still present a war-time appearance before the coming week closes. An enlistment office will be opened, where those who are willing to go to the front as soon as there is a front to go to may register their names. Several names have been handed in already and more are coming today. The office will be opened for the purpose of recruiting for the Montana national guard, and several hundred men can be added before the present number is up to the war strength or full allowance.

Dave Hudtloff, who has seen service in the Philippines, now employed by the Butte Water company, has taken a three weeks' leave of absence and will conduct the recruiting station. Maj. Jesse B. Roote expects the military bill pending in congress to become a law within a very few days, and immediately after it is a law there will be a call for another full regiment of soldiers from Montana, if not more than this number.

WANTED, SIX HUNDRED VOLUNTEERS IN BUTTE

First Day of Enlistment Saw More Than Half a Hundred Names Go Down on the Books. Recruiting Stationed Opened.

The long-waited-for opportunity to enlist came yesterday when the station referred to in the foregoing communication was opened. Fifty husky young fellows, prompted by patriotism and filled with a desire to see service if there is any service to be seen, put their names down as fast as they could get up to Dave Hudtloff's desk. The hundred or more who have written to Maj. Jesse B. Roote for information have been advised to enlist at the earliest possible date, as the surest means of being in line when the call comes.

Governor Stewart, Adjutant General Greenan, Major Roote and many other state and guard officials are satisfied there will be no difficulty in getting Butte's quota of enlistments. Six hundred volunteer soldiers are wanted now, and more may be called for later.

The fact that preference will be given to those who have seen service in the militia, or in the armies that were organized in the past need not be discouraging for there is a strong belief that every guardsman in the United States within 60 days will hear the call to arms.

The attempt to secure enough engineers to pledge to enlist if the call comes to make up a company has met with more success than the most sanguine anticipated. Today may see enough pledges voluntarily given. The branch of the service has its attractions and offers unlimited opportunities for the service of the country.

WHERE TO ENLIST.

To the Editor of the Anaconda Standard, Butte, Mont.:

The committee appointed by the citizens' mass meeting to secure the names of persons who are willing to enlist in the national guard of Montana has opened an enrolling office on the second floor of the old Independent telephone building at 124 West Granite street, where all citizens of the United States between the ages of 18 and 45 years, inclusive, who are willing to enlist in the national guard of Montana may enroll their names. The office will be in charge of David Hudtloff during business hours.

All persons who desire to enroll their names are requested to call at the above designated office. The committee hopes that the number of persons who enroll their names will be an indication of the patriotism of the people of Butte.

NEWS FROM MEXICO AROUSES RECRUITS

REGISTRATION HEAVY OF THOSE WHO WANT TO FIGHT.

VETS CAN WAIT NO LONGER

Watching the battle from afar, they hasten to offer again their services if their country needs them. Most are experienced.

The last doubt about the ability of Butte to furnish enough men for at least one more regiment in the Montana national guard was removed yesterday, when a rush of applicants for places followed the receipt of news indicating a more serious condition in Mexico than has existed. The recruiting office on West Granite street was a busy place throughout the day. When the office was closed in the evening Dave Hudtloff, who is in charge, ocunted 75 names added yesterday, making a total to date of a few over 200.

"I talked personally with every one of the men," said Mr. Hudtloff, "and I am convinced of their loyalty and earnestness. They are a fine bunch of strong, clean, young fellows, and they would be a credit to any regiment. Yes, they want to see service—that's why they are enlisting. All are citizens, most of them by birth, and the majority so far offering themselves are Montana boys.

"I had one very interesting caller in the person of an aviator. He is promised to the government in case his services are needed, and for that reason his name cannot be given out.

"The men who have registered their desire to go include many professional men—engineers, electricians and trained workers in many vocations."

RECRUITING WILL BE STARTED IN BUTTE

Office for That Purpose Will Be Established Here the First of This Week.

According to Maj. Jesse B. Roote, judge advocate of the Montana national guard, a recruiting office will be opened in Butte the first part of this week at a location to be announced later, for the purpose of taking the names of men who may wish to enlist in the National Guard of Montana. That plan is in conformity with the effort to bring the militia to a war footing, as soon as the army measure has passed congress, which it is expected to do within a few days. That would mean that Montana would have to form another regiment of the national guard and bring the strength of the same up to the neighborhood of 1,800 men.

Major Roote says that the office probably will be located, for the time being at least, in the Lewisohn block or until a ground floor may be secured in a central part of the city. There have been dozens of applications received already by Major Roote and he says that there will be not the slightest difficulty in Butte recruiting all the men necessary, particularly for the engineering corps.

The recruiting office will be in charge of David Hudtloff.

Lieutenant Sheridan Opens an Office to Receive Recruits for Guard.

Butte will furnish between 100 and 150 recruits for the Montana national guard now that mobilization of the regiment has been ordered for duty on the border. Lieut. Charles A. Sheridan of Company A, Bozeman, arrived in the city this morning and immediately opened recruiting offices at Suite 9, First National Bank building, the offices occupied by Dr. Dan Donohue, commanding officer of the regiment.

Almost as soon as he had opened the office this morning Lieutenant Sheridan was besieged by applicants. Some 10 or 12 of these were members of the companies located in other cities of the state who applied for transportation to Helena in conformity with the mobilization order. A score or more were seeking enlistment as recruits and a majority of them have seen service.

Lieutenant Sheridan has ordered an attractive sign for the front of the building and has placed advertisements in the local papers.

ments in the local papers.

His first word of the mobilization came at 8 o'clock this morning in a telegram from Colonel Donohue, received by him at Bozeman. Previously he had been notified to be in readiness to open an office here and had been given detailed instructions.

Nearly a hundred applicants for enlistment in event of a call to the border were received a couple of months ago by Dave Hudtloff, an employe of the Butte Water company, who, in accordance with sentiment voiced at a preparedness meeting held at the courthouse, maintained an office for that purpose for two weeks at the old Independent Telephone building. Of these fully 90 per cent have seen service in the Spanish-American war, the regular army or state militia companies.

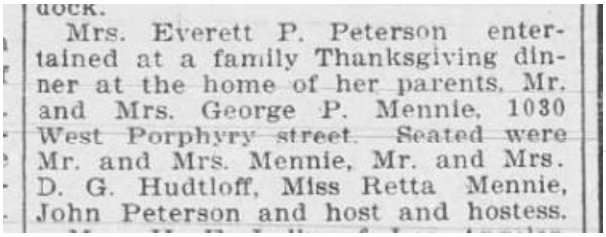

Two Chinamen, Thomas S. Gah and John W. Gow, were listed as aspirants for enlistment.

As fast as men are enlisted by the local office they will be sent to Helena with orders to report at Fort Harrison.

A telegram to the local offices of the Northern Pacific Railway company announced that orders for mobilization of the troops at Fort Harrison had been made. It stated that the guardsmen would probably entrain for Helena on Wednesday.

BUTTE PASTOR HAS THREE RELATIVES IN THE SERVICE

That a third member of his immediate family has been called to national service was the word received yesterday by the Rev. M. D. Hudtloff, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church. His brother, the Rev. Rufus Hudtloff, pastor of a Lutheran church at Shelby, Mont., has been assigned as a chaplain by the army and navy board. He will probably be required to serve in the navy.

Lieut. David Hudtloff, a brother of the Butte pastor, has returned to his home in the Colonial hotel, where he is spending the Christmas holidays with his family. He will leave for New York on Jan. 1 or 2, and he does not know what his course will be after reaching the eastern metropolis.

Arthur Hudtloff, the pastor's son, who is a machinist's mate at the torpedo station at Keyport, is visiting his parents during his Christmas furlough.

"HAVE ARRIVED SAFE" WIRES DAVID HUDTLOFF TO HIS WIFE IN BUTTE

An hour after Mrs. David Hudtloff, daughter of Mrs. George P. Mennie, read of the torpedoing of the Tuscania she received a cablegram from her husband, which read: "Have arrived safe. David." The place from which the cablegram had been sent was deleted by the censor. Mrs. Hudtloff and Mrs. Mennie were very much worried when they saw the dispatches in the papers, as they understood that their husband and son sailed a couple of weeks ago from New York for France. The general belief is that Mr. Hudtloff, who is second lieutenant in the artillery and trained at the Presidio, went over on a vessel ahead and is now in France. At any rate the cablegram this morning was a very cheering message.

David Hudtloff of 1028 West Porphyry street, formerly with the Butte Water company as inspector.

Mr. Hall, who lived at 725 West Granite street, is nephew of Mrs. Levi S. Wild and Mrs. Bryan Irvin. Richardson left Butte last August, visited his old home in Hancock, Mich., and there enlisted. Mr. Hudtloff, who served in the Spanish-American war, qualified for second lieutenant at the officers' camp at Presidio.

Butte Man Cables His Wife That He Escaped Without Injury.

Lieut. David G. Hudtloff, former employe of the Butte Water company, was landed safely in Ireland when the English transport Tuscania was sunk.

A cablegram announcing his safety was received yesterday by his wife, who resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Menis, 1028 West Porphyry street. There was nothing on the cablegram to indicate where it came from, but according to Mrs. Hudtloff, her husband had been in New York until a week ago.

Lieutenant Hudtloff left Butte Aug. 20, 1917, to enter the second officers' training camp at the Presidio at San Francisco. Later he was commissioned and left for the East to embark for Europe. He is with an artillery regiment.

"As cablegrams are sent only after an accident," said Mrs. Hudtloff, "I feel sure that my husband was on board the Tuscania. It is not permissible to send them any other time."

Lieutenant Hudtloff served six years in the United States army during the troubles in the Philippines.

VIVID STORY OF TUSCANIA

Lieut. Hudtloff Writes Wife of Experiences When American Vessel Was Torpedoed

The following, from a Butte, Montana, paper, will be of interest to Wausau people because Lieut. Hudtloff is a brother of W. E. Hudtloff, cashier of the Citizens' State bank of this city:

Word has been received by Mrs. Hudtloff, wife of Lieut. D. G. Hudtloff, formerly of 1028 West Porphyry street, from her husband, one of those on the ill-fated Tuscania, who escaped with only a severe ducking and who writes interestingly of his experiences on this tragic occasion when so many American soldiers lost their lives in the world's battle against the unspeakable Hun.

He says:

"Feb. 9, 1918.

"Dear Wife: It's been a long time now since I have had any news from you, over a month, but when I do finally get your mail, I'll get it all in a bunch. I suppose you have been quite excited over the news of the torpedoing of our troops. We were the first of the American troops to get it, and I will tell you just as much as I can.

Life Belt Ready

"To begin with, Feb. 5, at 6 p. m., I was standing in the smoking room and had just folded my life belt, so as to carry it over my shoulder. As I put my arm through the sling the torpedo hit. The noise it made I will never forget, and the shock of it jerked my life belt from me and all the lights went out with the explosion.

"I was standing directly over the explosion on the starboard side (right side) and got the full benefit of it. Being dark I could not find my life belt and tried to get to my stateroom, but could not get there for the crowd. All I had on was my uniform and campaign hat; no gloves, no overcoat.

"I made right for the top deck, where my boat was. The first boat on that davit was just going down and my boat was the third that should have gone down, but the rope was either cut or snapped, for there was no rope to let the other boats down and I ran forward to see what could be done.

Hauled on Life Boat

"When I was too close to the edge I was either pushed or slipped, or fell, I don't know which. But I hit something and then there was a blank space. Later I found myself in a crowded life boat and pretty soon a destroyer pulled along side of us and, under hard job, landed on the destroyer. I can still see its number, H-17. When I set my foot on the boat I felt just like it was land. It wet from top to bottom. The Tommies on the destroyer surely treated us good.

"There were quite a few broken bones amongst our men, but they behaved themselves fine. Our destroyer stood by for a long time and picked up boat after boat and all were taken off. The ship stayed afloat for how long I don't know. We finally made for this place and landed at 4 a. m., Feb. 6. The people here were the same to us as though we were in our own country. Every man was taken care of and sent to some place, and 11 of the officers were sent to this place. They gave me a pair of woolen socks and a muffler and I am well taken care of.

They Lose Everything

"We didn't save a thing, everything is gone, but the government is going to make good, I think. At least that was what I was told. I'm glad I'm still here. I don't mind getting shot, but I want a fighting chance with the Huns and I know that I can get my limit before they get me. But that water looked awful cold to me to be buried in, believe me. Some of the British officers invited us up to the club for dinner and they surely are royal entertainers. We made friends right from the start.

"Tell Dick Brimacombe that H. L. Joseph from Michigan is here with me. He was in the same bunch and we met here. He knows Dick and Mrs. Brimacombe well. Ellis is here also.

Well Cared For

"I'm in Ireland, the northern part, and it is sure an interesting place. These people here are just splendid, and when I go along the streets and hear the brogue I feel like I'm going along Anaconda road, up in Dublin Gulch, and I feel quite at home. You'll have to come to this country after the war.

"When our boys got off the destroyer which brought us to land, the first thing they spied was a Ford auto. The cheer that that old Lizzie received was more than I ever heard, or any president of the United States ever received. It made me laugh. The boys had been a little downhearted, but when they saw the Lizzie they all were Americans again. I can tell you this better than I can write it. To see that old Ford did those boys more good than if they had seen Old Glory flying.

Flag Was Flying

"The next day I happened to stand in the window of the American consul and on the building the United States flag was waving as free and independent as ever. A bunch of our men came marching by and as I stood there looking down I saw every man look up to Old Glory and salute and smile and all were themselves again.

"Well, I have told you all I can tell you this time. Hoping you are well and happy, I am your loving husband,

"DAVE."

LIEUT. HUDTLOFF PRAISES RED CROSS

Butte Officer Who Was Among Survivors of the Tuscania Writes From Londan.

A letter from Lieut. B. G. Hudtloff, posted in London and received by Mrs. Hudtloff yesterday, tells of the wonderful work being done by the Red Cross in England. So great is the task that has been undertaken by this society and so well is the London branch meeting the multitude of obligations imposed upon it, that he fails to find words that expresses his admiration for this important branch of army service. He stated in his letter that he would write at length at some future time to the local branch of the society and tells about the foreign Red Cross in detail.

Lieutenant Hudtloff has not been assigned to any company in the artillery as yet and will probably remain unattached until he reaches his destination in France. He was one of the survivors of the ill-fated Tuscania, which was sunk by a German submarine, but is none the worse for his experience.

Willard C. Hall, One Hundred and Seventh engineers, another Butte boy, who was a passenger on the Tuscania, has also been heard from. He wrote from Londonderry, Ireland, where he was awaiting orders which will call him to the battle front "somewhere over there."

Major Roote Writes About W. Hall, Who Had Thrilling Experience.

Considerable uneasiness among his many Butte friends was relieved today when word was received by Mrs. Jesse B. Roote from her husband, Major Roote, who is on duty at the American camp, Winchester, England, that Willard Hall, a well-known 19-year-old Butte boy who is with the 107th engineers, is safe at the American camp. Young Hall was on the Tuscania, although this was not known to his Butte friends until now. However, as he was to sail at about the date the Tuscania left, his grandmother, Mrs. Belle Bryan Irvine of this city, and others feared that he was on the ill-fated ship. Not hearing from him occasioned alarm. Hall is a nephew of L. S. Wild, secretary of the Silver Bow club.

Major Roote, who left Butte last spring and who arrived in Liverpool Christmas day, is still at Winchester. He has entirely recovered from a recent illness. Mr. Roote writes in part:

"Willard Hall is here. I learned this today. He has been here about ten days. Another Butte soldier came up to me today, introduced himself and said that Willard was here. Willard was on the Tuscania when the ship was torpedoed on Feb. 5 between Scotland and Ireland. He was picked up out of the water by means of an iron hook and pulled aboard a British torpedo boat destroyer, and landed at a small town on the coast of Ireland. He is perfectly well and just as much a kid as two years ago.

"He lost all of his money and all his clothes except those he had on when he left the ship. Each enlisted man survivor of the Tuscania was given about $10 in cash a few days ago at the headquarters. Willard told me tonight that he spent all of his time at the Y. M. C. A. before he got back to his quarters. He said that he had not been court-martialed yet, but that he had been given two weeks' extra duty as a kitchen police. He was in the water only a few minutes."

The major writes that he also met Dave Hudtloff and Russell D. Ellis, Butte officers, who were on the Tuscania. He saw Paul McCormack of Billings, and other Montana officers who were on the submarined ship.

RED CROSS DOES EXCELLENT WORK

Letter of Appreciation From Tuscania Survivor, D. G. Hudtloff.

The following letter of appreciation for work done by the Butte chapter of the Red Cross from Lieut. David G. Hudtloff, formerly of Butte and now in an English "hut." He is one of the survivors of the Tuscania disaster. The letter follows:

"May I take this opportunity—a quiet evening in an English hut—of sending to the Butte chapter of the Red Cross a note of appreciation and praise for the great organization of which you are a working unit.

"Undoubtedly I am not the first man in uniform from the home district who has been helped, comforted and cheered by the Red Cross workers. My recent experience was unique at least, and the aid of the American Red Cross more than ordinarily spectacular.

Gave First Aid.

"The first aid rendered my groups of Tuscania survivors was by local societies, for we were in the far north of Ireland, far from Belfast and Dublin representatives, and still further from the London headquarters; yet the first man in American uniform to reach us was a Red Cross officer from London, who brought money to supply the needs of the moment and the authority to command any comforts for the injured.

"This first impression of Red Cross efficiency and ability to be 'on the spot' has only been enhanced by our subsequent experiences. At every turn we have enjoyed comforts and been afforded conveniences that meant much to both officers and enlisted men—all of us share the great obligation.

Free of Red Tape.

"Your money is wisely spent, so it seems to us, and is always available in any amounts for emergencies. You are free of the red tape of the war department. Your knitted comforts and clothing are now being worn by 2,000 men of the torpedoed transport, who still await the distribution of new equipment by the local quartermaster department. Imagine the predicament of these men if there was not the great independent organization of the Red Cross.

"I sincerely hope that the local chapter is working with unabated enthusiasm and growing prosperity, and wish you the best of luck and thanking you all for your part in this work, I am very sincerely,

"LIEUT. DAVID G. HUDTLOFF,

First Man in Uniform From Home to Reach Tuscania Survivors Is a Member of Order.

Back of the American Red Cross are the people of America. Back of the Butte chapter are the people of Butte. If in the mind of any reader of the Standard there lurks the faintest doubt as to the efficiency of the Red Cross, he should read what Lieut. David G. Lieutenant Hudtloff is a Butte man. He is the brother of the Rev. M. D. Hudtloff and the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Mennie. He is well known in Butte, where he held a position with the water company, which he resigned to serve his country.

His letter, which has just been received, follows:

Red Cross Drive is On.

The great Red Cross drive recently heralded began in Philipsburg Monday morning and has been in progress all the week. # BUTTE MAN, TUSCANIA SURVIVOR, IN ENGLAND

Lieut. David Hudtloff, a resident of Butte and a Tuscania survivor, is now safe in England, according to messages received yesterday by relatives here. Lieutenant Hudtloff, a member of the Twentieth engineers, sailed on the ill-fated transport, which was sunk by a German U-boat. He was rescued after thrilling experiences. He writes of a trip in Ireland and of seeing many things of interest in London and the surrounding country.

Westminster abbey and many other of the old cathedrals and churches throughout England are great sights to the Americans, he says. On one night when he was in London, the city was the scene of a German air raid, which he describes in his letter.

HUDTLOFF FAMILY WELL REPRESENTED

The Rev. Martin Hudtloff of St. Mark's Lutheran church has gone to attend the Lutheran convention of the district at Kramer, N. D. While on the trip he will also visit his mother at Wauson, Wis., and his two younger brothers, who are about to enter the service of the government. One brother, Paul Hudtloff, is in the engineer service, and was one of the survivors of the Tuscania, which was torpedoed off the Irish coast. Another brother, the Rev. Rufus Hudtloff, has left his charge in Shelby, Mont., and gone to Louisville to become a chaplain in the army. The Rev. Martin Hudtloff has a son in the naval service.

Rev. Martin Hudtloff of St. Mark's Lutheran Church of This City Has Son and Four Brothers in Service.

ARTHUR HUDTLOFF,
recently promoted to warrant officer in the navy.

Four brothers and a son in the service of his country—in the army or navy—and the son, who wears the blue, recently appointed to the rank of warrant officer—this is the proud boast of Rev. Martin Hudtloff, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church of this city.

The pastor's son is Arthur Hudtloff, who is taking the naval engineering course at Stevens' institute, Hoboken, N. J. He enlisted at Bremerton, after giving up his studies at the University of Washington, Seattle, where he was enrolled in the mechanical engineering department.

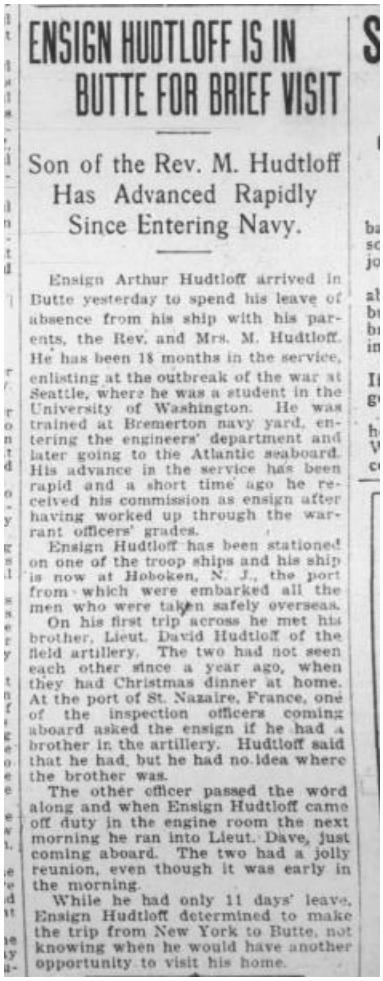

One of the brothers is Lieut. David Hudtloff, who previously served two enlistments and saw service in the Philippines in the Spanish-American war. Lieutenant Hudtloff was commissioned after attending the officers' training camp at the Presidio, San Francisco, and he is now serving in France with the field artillery. He was formerly in the employ of the Butte water company.

Lieut. Rufus H. Hudtloff, another brother who was pastor of the Lutheran church at Shelby before the war, is a chaplain in the service. He is believed to be in France.

Private Ben H. Hudtloff, another brother, a chemist by profession, enlisted in Wisconsin and is now at Camp Grant, Illinois.

Conrad Hudtloff, the fourth brother, is in the service, assigned to a training course at the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Rev. Martin Daniel Hudtloff is David's half-brother. Rufus, Benjamin & Conrad are also half-brothers. "Butte (MT) Miner" Sunday 25 Aug 1918 p 11

ENSIGN HUDTLOFF IS IN BUTTE FOR BRIEF VISIT

Son of the Rev. M. Hudtloff Has Advanced Rapidly Since Entering Navy.

Ensign Arthur Hudtloff arrived in Butte yesterday to spend his leave of absence from his ship with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. M. Hudtloff. He has been 18 months in the service, enlisting at the outbreak of the war at Seattle, where he was a student in the University of Washington. He was trained at Bremerton navy yard, entering the engineers' department and later going to the Atlantic seaboard. His advance in the service has been rapid and a short time ago he received his commission as ensign after having worked up through the warrant officers' grades.

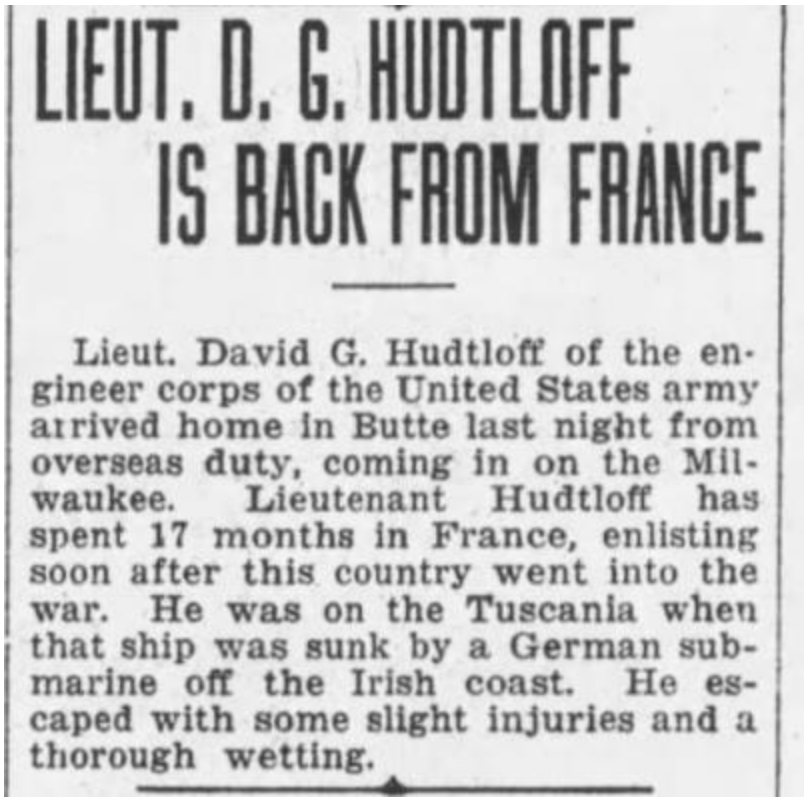

Ensign Hudtloff has been stationed on one of the troop ships and his ship is now at Hoboken, N. J., the port from which were embarked all the men who were taken safely overseas.

On his first trip across he met his brother, Lieut. David Hudtloff of the field artillery. The two had not seen each other since a year ago, when they had Christmas dinner at home. At the port of St. Nazaire, France, one of the inspection officers coming aboard asked the ensign if he had a brother in the artillery. Hudtloff said that he had, but he had no idea where the brother was.

The other officer passed the word along and when Ensign Hudtloff came off duty in the engine room the next morning he ran into Lieut. Dave, just coming aboard. The two had a jolly reunion, even though it was early in the morning.

While he had only 11 days' leave, Ensign Hudtloff determined to make the trip from New York to Butte, not knowing when he would have another opportunity to visit his home.

TUSCANIA SURVIVOR AND ARGONNE VET AT ROTARY

Club Hears Stories of Two Butte Men Home From Adventures Overseas.

First-hand stories of the war supplanted the arranged program at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club yesterday, when Lieut. David G. Hudtloff and Private Joe Toole recounted some of their adventures overseas. Lieutenant Hudtloff was on the Tuscania when the ship was torpedoed off the Irish coast early last year. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American war as well as the world conflict.

Private Toole was an employe of the Butte Electric Railway company before entering the service. He saw active service in the Argonne-Meuse sector during the two months that preceded the signing of the armistice, and was a member of the Ninety first division.

Other guests at the luncheon were Attorney Robert L. Clinton, who recently returned to Butte from Florida, and A. B. Whitredge, Y. M. C. A. worker for boys. W. McC. White was welcomed to membership in the club.

The talk of John H. McIntosh on "Physical Efficiency in Business," which was scheduled for yesterday's meeting, was postponed until some future meeting.

future meeting.

The matter of Rotary backing for the proposed memorial auditorium was referred to by President Tom Davis and applauded heartily by the club members. As the time was entirely taken up, however, by other matters, no action was taken.

The "on-to-convention" committee reported that arrangements were practically complete for taking 125 Montana Rotarians on a special train to the annual meeting at Salt Lake next month.

ROTARY CLUB BIG CIVIC AID

Organization Has Done Much Constructive Work, the Annual Report Shows; Soldiers Talk at Luncheon.

The great amount of constructive work done during the past year by the Rotary club is shown in the annual report which was read at the weekly meeting of the organization in the Butte grill yesterday noon. Secretary Charles Austin stated that leading speakers from all over the nation and that a great amount of civic work had been boosted through the efforts of the club.

The new president, Tom Davis, presided and thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him and requested their greatest co-operation in order that the maximum amount of work might be done. W. MacWhite was introduced as a new member, and the resignation of Charles Henderson accepted.

An interesting account of his experiences on the Tuscania was given by Lieut. David Hudtloff, who was overseas in he service of supplies. The speaker told how he had lost his lifebelt after the vessel was torpedoed, and finally wandered around until he found the upper deck; leaping into the water he was hit by a lifeboat. When he recovered his senses he found that he had been picked up by an English torpedo boat.

A. B. Whittridge, who recently arrived here as boy secretary of the new Y. M. C. A., asked the co-operation of the club in the work he plans on doing here.

Other speake were Robert L. Clinton, Joe Toole, a returned A. E. F. man, and J. R. Wharton.

BAGDAD VETERANS OF WAR HONORED BY MEDAL GIFTS

Nobles of Temple Who Served Receive Tokens of High Esteem.

Advocation of American Ideals Salient in Addresses at Gathering.

Bagdad temple honored its war heroes last night by bestowing a medal of honor upon them through its war committee, composed of Charles Austin, chairman, W. P. Mitchell and George W. Moore.

George Shelton spoke on the "Unity of Purposes Inspired by Faith and Hope in the Future." His address was patriotic throughout for the services rendered by those who were fortunate enough to have been sent overseas as well as those whose duty kept them at home.

Earl Genzberger spoke on his adventures and gave many stories of the war as it actually appeared to him. He also told of his connection with the French university at Toulouse.

Ideals Fostered.

Tom J. Davis addressed the nobles on "The Spirit of Patriotism Which Should Not Be Permitted to Be Demobilized." He also advocated the carrying on of the great ideals for which America fought. Mr. Davis made a speech filled with pathos on the death of Charles Jewell, a member of Bagdad temple who was true to his ideals and died for democracy.

Dr. Harold Schwartz told of the medical attention received by the wounded in the zone of warfare.

Ensign David Hudtloff, one of the survivors of the Tuscania, told of his experiences when that ship went to the bottom.

W. J. Knowlton was attached to a machine gun unit and he gave several stories of incidents on the battlefield and also told of being wounded and confined in the hospital for eight months, when he was returned to the front line trenches in the Chateau-Thierry sector.

Dave Jones of Anaconda and H. W. Burton of Butte also told of their experiences overseas.

Tribute to Service.

References were made of the distinguished service rendered by Lieutenant Colonels Roote and Stivers, and Major Harold Blake of Anaconda. The services were very impressive and the boys were given a real shrine welcome.

The medal which was given to each man who was in the military service of the United States during the great war, is of bronze, with the name of the recipient engraved on a little bar which is connected with the coinage by a chain on the face and two American flags crossed, beneath is the Masonic emblem and under that is the inscription "Pro Patria."

Those who received the medals were:

Gold Star.

Charles Jewel, Company B, Sixteenth infantry; killed on patrol duty in France.

CARDS ON POLES VIOLATION OF LAW

City Electrician Roberts Gets Political Advertisements of Many Candidates.

Candidates for political office who have had their advertising cards nailed on telegraph and telephone poles will be haled into police court as soon as complaints and warrants have been issued.

A few weeks ago the city electrician announced that it was a violation of the city ordinance to nail cards on the telegraph poles, and stated that offenders would be arrested for infraction of the law.

Nothing further was thought of the matter, apparently, until Monday noon when he appeared at Chief Murphy's office with more than 70 cards which he had removed from the poles. The place where each card was located is marked on the evidence and the police court officials were busy until a late hour Monday night making out the complaints and warrants. The U. S. navy recruiting department is one of the defendants, and the Butte Business college is also named.

The candidates and other offenders whose cards were taken from poles and for whom warrants were issued Monday night are: C. A. Blackburn, B. K. Wheeler, Peter J. Kelly, P. W. # CANDIDATES DAY IN POLICE COURT

Many Fined For Placing Political Card Advertisements on Telegraph Poles; Some Appeal From Judge's Decision.

A number of local political candidates for county and state offices, whose cards had been tacked on telegraph poles, were in police court Tuesday on a charge of violating a city ordinance. Judge Grimes assessed each with the minimum fine of $5. One of the first candidates to be fined, Elmer O. Binder, had his fine remitted by the mayor and it was common talk around the city hall Tuesday that the mayor would be kept busy remitting the fines of every one who had been found guilty.

At the morning session the following were fined: Elmer O. Binder, Judge I. G. Denny, Lou Freudendstein, W. W. McDowell, Howard McIntyre and John J. Murphy. Freudenstein was the only one to make a fight, but it availed nothing and he was fined the same as the others.

At the afternoon hearing Mrs. Joanna Grigg, Gus Stromme, S. W. Billings, David Hudtloff, N. A. Rotering, the Butte College of Telegraphy, C. A. Blackburn, P. J. Kelly and Phil G. Sullivan were found guilty and fined $5 each. Rotering, Blackburn, Kelly and Sullivan appealed and the bonds were made $100 in each case.

"Many of you Go-Getters will be met with the criticisms of the "Y" in Europe during the past few years. Suggest to such objectors that they interview such men as Colonel Stivers, Major Berrien, Colonel Witherspoon, Dave Hudtloff and other citizens of our community, and get some real facts. It is immaterial to us what the "Y" is doing in Europe or what it is doing anywhere in the country. We are only interested in the Y. M. C. A. of Butte, a Montana corporation, directed by residents of Silver Bow County and operated by a Board of Directors and trustees, who are citizens of the community in which we live. We are not accountable to the dictation or direction of any national body and our organization is as independent of the national Y. M. C. A. which has its headquarters in New York, as we are of the Western Iron Works in the city of Butte. In the operation of the building, we are accountable and amendable to the same laws as any other corporation in the state of Montana, and there is only one way in which such work can be successful, which is to pay its bills, and if we can't pay our bills I believe there are plenty of men ready to take this building over and use it for purposes other than for which it was designed.

TRAIL OFFICE AT THOMPSON PARK

Sub-bureau to Be Opened Tomorrow at Community House.

A sub-bureau of the Yellowstone Trail office will be opened tomorrow morning at the community house at Thompson park and the office will be in charge of Dave Hudtloff. This announcement was made today by Arthur Mattson, manager of the Yellowstone Trail office in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

"The object of opening the sub-bureau," said Mr. Mattson this afternoon, "is to take care of the large number of people who reach the city late at night, early in the morning or on Sundays when this office is closed. The office will be equipped with a complete stock of maps and the like and everything furnished at this office will also be found at the community house.

"By opening this office we will be able to furnish better accommodations to the travelers who wish to get an early start or who spend only Sunday going through Butte."

The sub-bureau will be under the supervision of the main office and a telephone has been installed at the Thompson Park community house in order to have immediate communication with the uptown headquarters.

CASEY USES HIS BOOTS WHEN FISTS GET TIRED

Danny Maloney Badly Battered in Street Fight; Treated by County Physician.

Fists, boots, a battered face and a footrace featured in a street fight at the corner of Galena and Arizona streets this afternoon when Joe Casey attacked Danny Maloney. As a result Maloney was taken to the Columbia hospital where he was dressed by Dr. Frank Williams, city physician. He had been knocked down at the first blow or two and then Casey, unable to reach the man's face with his fists, applied his boots.

Maloney became badly battered up with his nose, mouth and face bleeding profusely. Casey then took to his heels but Dave Hudtloff discovered him and started pursuit. After several blocks of racing Casey was overtaken and placed in jail within a few minutess by Officer Van Orden.

STRANGER FINDS NEW FISHING HOLE

Californian Declares He Caught String in Nine-Mile Canyon.

"Any fishing around here?" a lanky Californian asked Dave Hudtloff of Thompson inn early yesterday morning. "Never heard tell of any," the stranger was informed. And before the surprised eyes of Mr. Hudtloff, who swears that there isn't an inch of that ground or a drop of water about that place that he is not well acquainted with, the Californian took his rod and reel and set to.

In a short time he held up a string of 50 good sized fish, which he declared on his honor as a "native son" came out of the stream. "They made good eating too," Mr. Hudtloff told Arthur Mattson of the Yellowstone trail bureau on his visit with the office in the chamber of commerce rooms during the day.

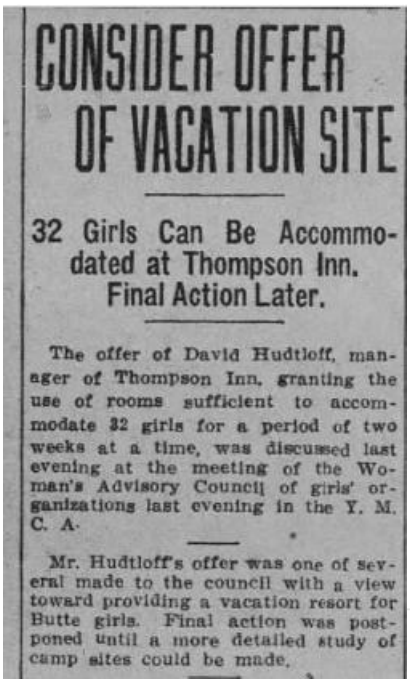

Mr. Mattson announced yesterday that the trail bureau conducted at the Nine Mile canyon last year has been reopened with Mr. Hudtloff again in charge. It will work in conjunction with the uptown office, giving free road information, handling maps and bulletins. "The travelers coming in late at night or in the early morning will find accommodation at the Nine Mile and also those desiring information on Sunday when the uptown office is closed," Mr. Mattson said.

Many tourists are taking advantage of the excellent offerings in the canyon to camp. There are about 14 parties there at the present time, who were completely unmindful of the rain. The uptown office had its usual busy day yesterday. About 10 cars were registered in and conditions of the roads due to the rain were explained.

Two youngsters about 8 years old paid the bureau a visit. "We want a good road map," they said to Mr. Mattson. "Where are you going?" he inquired. "Well," one of them answered in the haughty manner of a retired bank president, "we're thinking of taking a bicycle trip about the state and want a map."

They got it.

HARDING WAY SPRING TEMPORARILY FIXED UP

Dave Hudtloff of the Nine Mile Yellowstone Trail Bureau Gets Busy.

The spring in the turn half way up the Harding way has been fixed up so that the tourists can get a fresh supply to water their machines as well as to scoop up some of the cool liquid for drinking.

Last night Dave Hudtloff, in charge of the branch bureau of the Yellowstone Trail which is located at the Nine Mile, took up some pipes and temporarily fixed up the spring. The county commissioners are talking about fixing it up permanently.

The roads to the west of here as far as Missoula are good, according to word received today by Arthur Mattson, in charge of the local office. There was considerable rain in the Madison and south of Ennis the highway is wet and slippery. The trail east is wet and slippery from Jefferson Island to Three Forks. The roads from Butte to Whitehall are fine, the reports state.

CAMPERS PLEASED BUTTE FINE HOST

That Is Report Autoists Make to Trail Manager Arthur Mattson.

"Every tourist a booster," is the verdict of Arthur Mattson, manager of the Yellowstone trail bureau in Butte, after looking over the high recommendations accorded the Butte tourist camp and the city as a whole. All of the tourists who registered yesterday spoke in terms of highest praise for the camp of the Kiwanians and also for the Nine Mile camping ground, of which Dave G. Hudtloff is the manager.

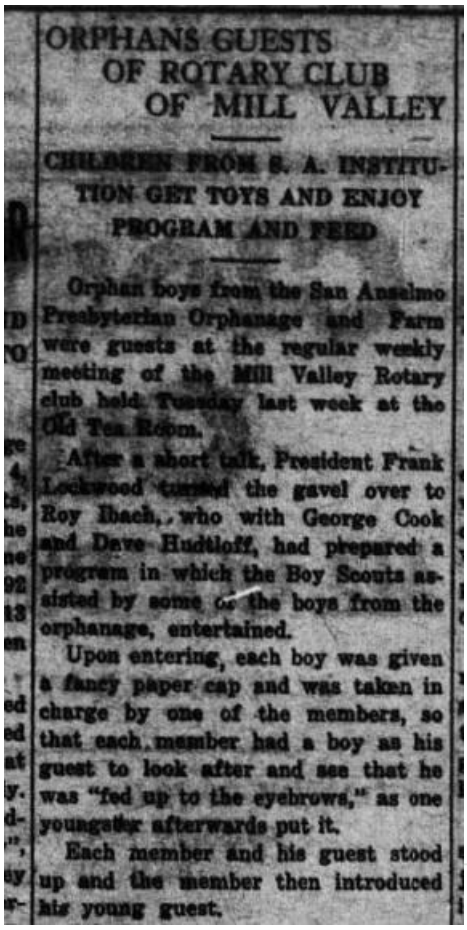

"Your tourist park is certainly A No. 1," Antone Steen and family of Canton, S. D., told Mr. Mattson. Mr. Steen and his family are en route to California and intended to camp for a day or so at the Nine Mile.

"That was more than a week ago and even now we are loath to go," Mr. Steen said. "We appreciate all that has been done for us at the grounds. We consider the site ideal and Mr. Hudtloff an excellent host." Mrs. W. J. Bigelow of Detroit and family, who are en route to Los Angeles, also spoke in praise of the Kiwanis camp. "There is nothing at the camp that isn't of the finest," she said. "The accommodations, especially the up-to-date plumbing, can not be surpassed by anything we have found thus far."

E. E. Rogers and party of Seattle, en route to Topeka, declared the camp was a compliment to the state.

Other tourists who stopped at the trail bureau yesterday were R. Muchell of Grand Forks, N. D., going to the Pacific coast; W. J. Halfer, Great Fals, to Butte and return; Edward Placket, Minneapolis to Yellowstone park; F. Giese and family, Canton, S. D., to California; E. S. Canoff, New York to Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hanlin, Indianapolis to Los Angeles.

ORPHANS GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB OF MILL VALLEY

CHILDREN FROM S. A. INSTITUTION GET TOYS AND ENJOY PROGRAM AND FEED

Orphan boys from the San Anselmo Presbyterian Orphanage and Farm were guests at the regular weekly meeting of the Mill Valley Rotary club held Tuesday last week at the Old Tea Room.

After a short talk, President Frank Lockwood turned the gavel over to Roy Ibach, who with George Cook and Dave Hudtloff, had prepared a program in which the Boy Scouts assisted by some of the boys from the orphanage, entertained.

Upon entering, each boy was given a fancy paper cap and was taken in charge by one of the members, so that each member had a boy as his guest to look after and see that he was "fed up to the eyebrows," as one youngster afterwards put it.

Each member and his guest stood up and the member then introduced his young guest.

Two Mill Valley Landmarks Soon To Pass Into Ancient History

(Editor's note: This "Reporter's Notebook" was the last column written by Larry Lovett before his unexpected and untimely death early yesterday.)

Two landmarks in Mill Valley are about to pass into ancient history. The first is the water district property adjacent to the Mill Valley City Hall, about to be purchased by the city for future city hall expansion. First acquired by the water district around 1911, it originally had a two-story barn at the rear of the property adjacent to the creek and a small cottage on the front street.

Mrs. Preston Burris, the former Mrs. David Hudtloff, tells us that when her late husband was water district superintendent in the area, they lived in the cottage from 1924 to 1936. The upper floor of the rear barn was used as an office and the lower floor for tools and equipment. It also sheltered their chickens. But in 1936 the barn was razed and the cottage altered to make the office now in use today.

Removal of the Mill Valley establishment will mark the end of the water district's remaining outlying office. Office manager Mildred Owens will presumably go to the San Rafael headquarters and maintenance supervisor Jarl Klockers will take over at the district's new Mill Valley yard to be built near the city's sewer plant.

"San Rafael (CA) Daily Independent Journal" 26 Oct 1959 p 9

Last Vestiges Of Mill Valley Landmark Gone

Workmen today were burning the scraps from the small, wood shingled office of the Marin Municipal Water District next door to the Mill Valley City Hall.

Demolition of the building to make way for a 30-car municipal parking lot was completed yesterday.

Sitting under a grove of tall redwood trees next to the city hall, the onetime home was a landmark, being the place for years where Mill Valleyans paid their water bills.

SINCE 1911

It was acquired by the water district about 1911. Originally there was a two-story barn at the rear.

Mrs. David Hudtloff, now Mrs. Preston Burris of 201 Eldridge avenue, Mill Valley, lived with her first husband in the cottage from 1924 to 1936, while Hudtloff was superintendent of the Southern Marin section of the water district.

PAID BILLS

During this period, water bills were paid in the barn, which contained a shop on the ground floor and an office upstairs. The barn, which was razed in 1936, also sheltered the Hudtloffs' chickens.

Hudtloff died in 1944 and Mrs. Hudtloff married Burris in 1948. Burris died this year.

People now pay their bills by mail at the Marin Municipal Water District, 874 Fourth street, San Rafael, or at Mill Valley banks.

Mrs. Burris said the small house contained a living room, bedroom, kitchen, two porches and a bathroom. "I can remember having beautiful sweet peas going up the side of the house," she said. "We spent a very happy 12 years there."

FIRST MONTANA CASUALTIES

The Tuscania was the first ship carrying American troops en route to France to be sunk, and Americans across the country were stunned. The exact toll from the loss of Tuscania is unknown, with 210 soldiers and crew "Killed in Action" being commonly accepted. Many of those who had made it to lifeboats later died when their light craft were smashed against the rocky shorelines. At least 39 of the 384 crewmen aboard perished in the boiler rooms. The heroic action of Royal Navy escort ships, coupled with the leadership and discipline among the soldiers, saved a remarkable 2,187 men.

RED CROSS "ON THE SPOT"

A Montana veteran of Philippines service during the Spanish American War and a survivor of the Tuscania, 2nd Lieutenant David G. Hudtloff of the Field Artillery, wrote a letter to his home chapter of the Red Cross:

To the Red Cross Chapter, Butte, Mont. - May I take this opportunity, a quiet evening in an English hut, of sending to the Butte chapter of the Red Cross a note of appreciation and praise for the great organization of which you are a working unit.

Undoubtedly I am not the first man in uniform from the home district who has been helped, comforted and cheered by the Red Cross workers. My recent experience was unique at least and the aid of the American Red Cross more than ordinarily spectacular.

The first aid rendered my groups of Tuscania survivors was by local societies, for we were in the far north of Ireland, far from Belfast and Dublin representatives, and still farther from the London headquarters; yet the first man in American uniform to reach us was a Red Cross officer from London, who brought money to supply the needs of the moment and the authority to command any comforts for the injured.

Your money is wisely used, so it seems to us, and is always available in any amounts for emergencies. You are free of the red tape of the war department. Your knitted comforts and clothing are now being worn by 2,000 men of the torpedoed transport, who still await the distribution of new equipment by the local quartermaster department. Imagine the predicament of these men if there were not the great independent organization of the Red Cross!

I sincerely hope that the local chapter is working with unabated enthusiasm and growing prosperity, and wish you the best of luck, and thanking you all for your part in this work, I am very sincerely,

LIEUT. DAVID G. HUDTLOFF, F.A.N.A., American expeditionary Forces, France.

ALBERT W. TREGEAR CAUGHT UNDER CARLOAD OF STULLS.

JAMMED, MANGLED, BURIED

Joseph Williams of Walkerville is also victim, but escapes serious injury—Accident at Stewart mine —Tregear leaves bride of year.

Caught under an avalanche of rolling, pitching, tumbling stulls that broke from their bindings as would water through a wrecked dam, Albert W. Tregear was fatally crushed in an accident in the Stewart mine coal and lumber yard on North Main street during the unloading of a flat car at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Joseph Williams, another member of the gang, was also drawn into the whirl, but escaped fatal injuries. Tregear expired, as a result of a fractured skull, as the rescue party placed him in an ambulance, while Williams was helped into a carriage and taken to his home in Walkerville.

Tregear was an estimable youth of 22 years, who had lived most of his life in Butte, where he numbered hundreds of friends. He was formerly in the employ of Uncle Sam as a mail collector, but had worked under his father-in-law, George Mennie, on the surface at the mine the past two years. He married Mr. Mennie's daughter a year ago and lived at 1,017 West Silver street.

Tregear was one of a crew of half a dozen men who were engaged unloading the railway car when the accident occurred. It is to be known that stulls are timbers from 4 to 6 inches in girth and from 12 to 16 feet long. In this case they were piled from six to eight feet high on the car and held by stakes on either side, bound together on top with wires. The crew had sawed the stakes almost through on the south side of the car, planning to let the stulls roll off into the yard in that direction. Tregear and Williams used a ladder to reach the top of the load on the north side. They clipped the binding wires and, to the chagrin of every one, the released stulls, several hundred in number, burst through the stakes at the north end, carrying the two men along and burying them under the falling mass. Both were quickly extricated and it was then found that the right side of Tregear's head was smashed in and life was fast ebbing. Williams retained consciousness and suffered apparently from nothing more serious than bruises. He escaped the brunt of the fall. A surgeon's examination later, however, led to the discovery of evidence of internal injuries, the seriousness of which only time will tell.

Tregear's body was removed to Richards' undertaking rooms. No arrangements will be made for the funeral till instructions are received from former Under Sheriff Howard Bailey in Tacoma, who is Tregear's stepfather.

A. W. TREGEAR CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER LUMBER PILE

Carload of Stulls Breaks Loose From Moorings and Falls on Mine Employe.

After being fearfully crushed under the weight of a huge pile of stulls which rolled off of a car in the lumber yard of the West Stewart mine yesterday morning, Albert W. Tregear, a well-known Butte young man employed at the mine, died from his injuries as he was being placed in an ambulance from the hospital.

Tregear and a fellow employe named Joe Williams were engaged in unloading the car when the accident occurred. They had just removed the stakes on one side of the car which held the lumber in place, and were sawing away the outside frame when, without a moment's warning the stulls began to fall the wrong way, and soon Tregear was buried under the pile. One side of his head was crushed in and he sustained several broken ribs and internal injuries.

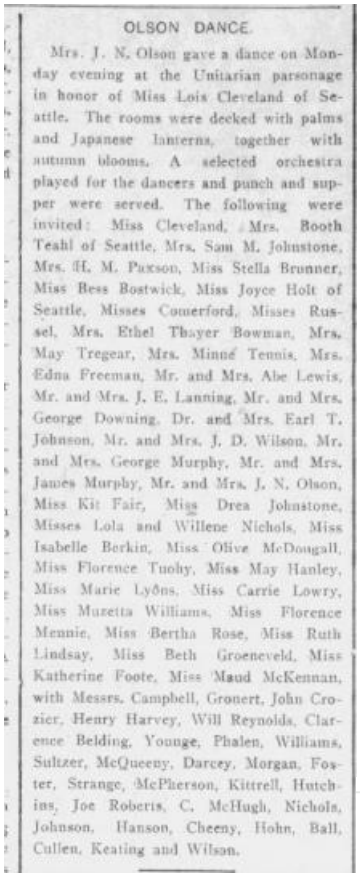

He was extricated from the heap by fellow employes, and doctors and an ambulance were summoned. The ambulance had just arrived and Tregear was being placed inside when he died.

The body was taken to Richards' undertaking establishment by direction of the coroner and an inquest will be held there this afternoon.

Thegear was 22 years of age, and spent the greater part of his life in Butte. He is survived by his young wife, to whom he was married less than a year ago. The couple lived at 1017 West Silver street.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE MENNIE,
Who on Wednesday celebrated their silver wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mennie, both well known in the city and actively interested in lodge and social circles, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Wednesday, March 8.

In the evening they were the recipients of a genuine surprise from a number of their intimate friends. The ladies of a whist club of which Mrs. Mennie has been a member for a half dozen years conspired together and, inviting their husbands, descended upon the Mennie home. The surprise was complete, but soon the quiet family group had changed into a gay and animated party. The invading company brought elaborate and delicious refreshments and a beautiful set of sterling silver forks as a gift to Mrs. Mennie. The evening passed off joyously in playing cards and in genial sociability. Beautiful flowers were presented the silver wedding bride by her nephew, George Voelker, and each one of her three daughters gave her pretty and useful sterling silver articles.

Mr. and Mrs. Mennie were married 25 years ago in Ishpeming, Mich., and 21 years ago they came to Butte, where they have lived continuously ever since. Three daughters, Mrs. May Tregear, Miss Florence Mennie and Miss Retta Mennie, comprise their family, their only son having died in infancy. Mr. Mennie during all the years he has resided in Butte has been in the employ of W. A. Clark as surface foreman at the Original and West Stewart mines. Since the transfer in ownership he has been employed at the Elm Orlu in a similar capacity. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mennie are prominent in lodge circles, each belonging to several societies. Mrs. Mennie is a prominent member of the Woman's club and parents and daughters alike have a wide acquaintance in the city. Their home is a spacious and attractive residence in West Broadway, one of the substantial homes built in that section during the past few years.

The friends who so delightfully surprised Mr. and Mrs. Mennie and added their good wishes to the other joys of the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Mead Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Eberly, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Neil, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Parmalee, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Probst, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reckseck, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Osenbrug, Mrs. Ida Macauley, Miss Jessie Macauley, Miss Gladys Neil, Miss Rita Henderson and Miss Cedric Kittrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Mennie, Mrs. Tregear and the Misses Mennie and George Voelker were additional members of the party.

Elaborate Luncheon.

The season has not registered a more brilliant affair than was the elegantly appointed luncheon given by the Marion White Arts and Crafts club, Thursday, at the Silver Bow club, when 83 guests were entertained. The occasion was the fifteenth anniversary of the organization of the club. Two long tables were laid in the form of a hollow square and down the entire length of both were rustic baskets filled with pink tulips and quantities of foliage carrying out the colors of the club, pink and green. Pink and green wafers and ribbons completed the decorations. The birthday cake, which held all the symbols, was iced in white and covered with pink roses and candles and rested in front of the president, Mrs. Nelson Gunn. The place cards were dainty little bristols of pink holding hand-painted flowers in white and various tints, the artistic work of Miss Dora Reichert.

"The Gypsies' Story" followed and was cleverly given. The Gypsies were: Mrs. B. Driscoll, Mrs. May Hudtloff, with Mrs. Shoemaker, soloist. Each wore the Gypsy dress with hair hanging down over their shoulders. Mrs. Shoemaker sang, and then Mrs. Hudtloff read the cards and made a prophecy for the members. Mrs. Shoemaker foretold what was in store for the club in 1930. She saw many parks and streams, gorgeous buildings and lastly an imposing stone structure which was to be the home of the Marion Whit Arts and Crafts club.

FOR MRS. HUDTLOFF.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. George Mennie, Mrs. Everett Peterson and Mrs. M. J. Erker were joint hostesses at a Kensington given at the home of Mrs. Erker, 2715 Edwards avenue, in honor of Mrs. David Hudtloff. The affair was in the nature of a farewell compliment to Mrs. Hudtloff, who left the following morning to join her husband at the Presidio, San Francisco.

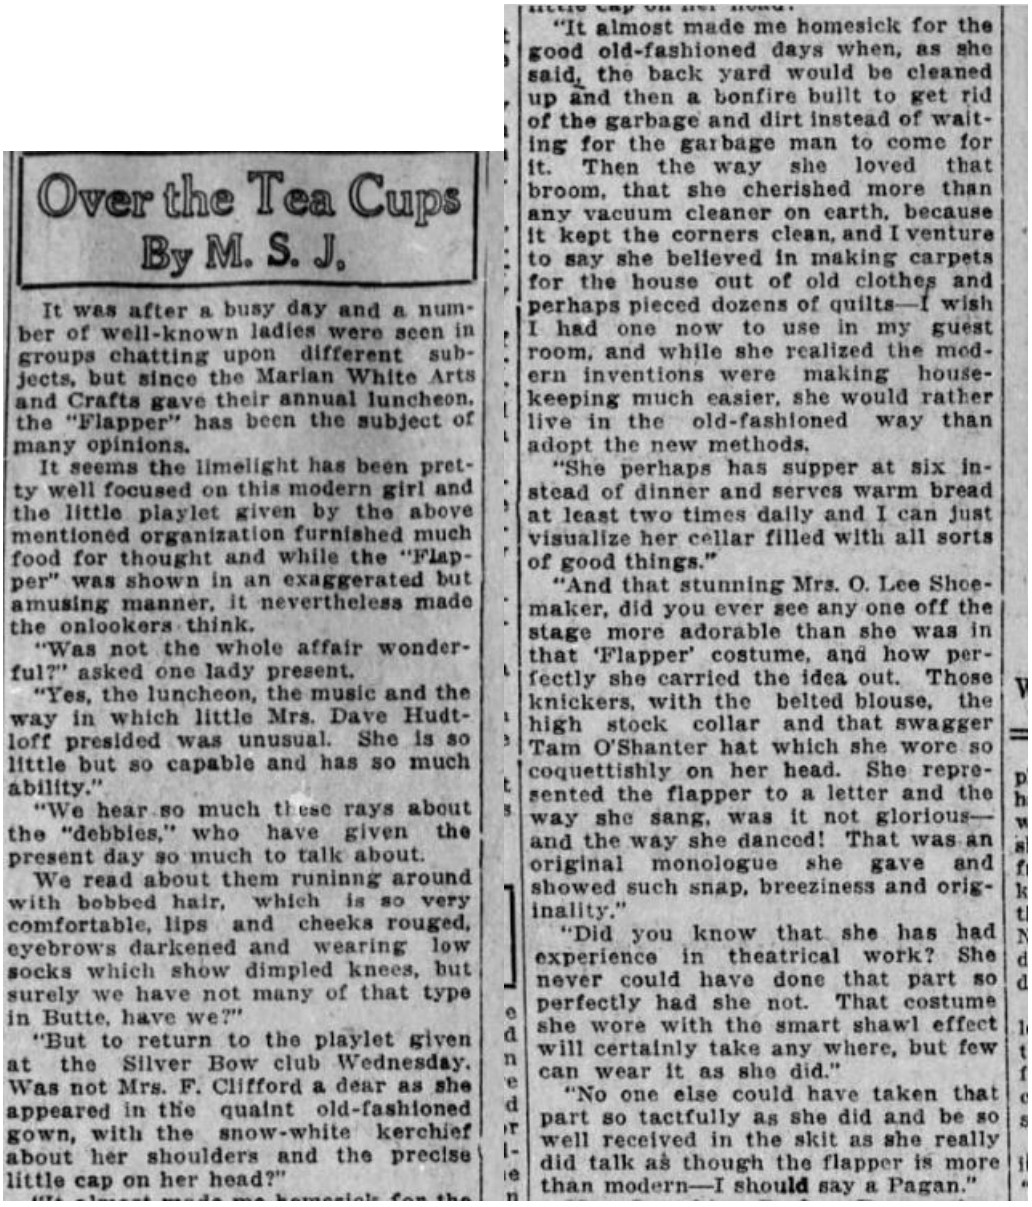

The house was prettily decorated with pink and green, asters being used in profusion.

An elaborate tray luncheon was served, with the color scheme carried out in the refreshments.

The guests were all very close friends of the honor guest and were about 30 in number.

The afternoon was devoted to sewing and conversation.

By M. S. J.

It was after a busy day and a number of well-known ladies were seen in groups chatting upon different subjects, but since the Marian White Arts and Crafts gave their annual luncheon, the "Flapper" has been the subject of many opinions.

It seems the limelight has been pretty well focused on this modern girl and the little playlet given by the above mentioned organization furnished much food for thought and while the "Flapper" was shown in an exaggerated but amusing manner, it nevertheless made the onlookers think.

"Was not the whole affair wonderful?" asked one lady present.

"Yes, the luncheon, the music and the way in which little Mrs. Dave Hudtloff presided was unusual. She is so little but so capable and has so much ability."

"We hear so much these rays about the "debbies," who have given the present day so much to talk about.

We read about them runinng around with bobbed hair, which is so very comfortable, lips and cheeks rouged, eyebrows darkened and wearing low socks which show dimpled knees, but surely we have not many of that type in Butte, have we?"

"But to return to the playlet given at the Silver Bow club Wednesday. Was not Mrs. F. Clifford a dear as she appeared in the quaint old-fashioned gown, with the snow-white kerchief about her shoulders and the precise little cap on her head?"

"It almost made me homesick for the good old-fashioned days when, as she said, the back yard would be cleaned up and then a bonfire built to get rid of the garbage and dirt instead of waiting for the garbage man to come for it. Then the way she loved that broom, that she cherished more than any vacuum cleaner on earth, because it kept the corners clean, and I venture to say she believed in making carpets for the house out of old clothes and perhaps pieced dozens of quilts—I wish I had one now to use in my guest room, and while she realized the modern inventions were making housekeeping much easier, she would rather live in the old-fashioned way than adopt the new methods.

"She perhaps has supper at six instead of dinner and serves warm bread at least two times daily and I can just visualize her cellar filled with all sorts of good things."

"And that stunning Mrs. O. Lee Shoemaker, did you ever see any one off the stage more adorable than she was in that 'Flapper' costume, and how perfectly she carried the idea out. Those knickers, with the belted blouse, the high stock collar and that swagger Tam O'Shanter hat which she wore so coquettishly on her head. She represented the flapper to a letter and the way she sang, was it not glorious—and the way she danced! That was an original monologue she gave and showed such snap, breeziness and originality."

"Did you know that she has had experience in theatrical work? She never could have done that part so perfectly had she not. That costume she wore with the smart shawl effect will certainly take any where, but few can wear it as she did."

"No one else could have taken that part so tactfully as she did and be so well received in the skit as she really did talk as though the flapper is more than modern—I should say a Pagan."

Mrs. Josephine Daskan Bacon gives her ideas of the "Flapper" in the following little talk:

"Of course, I don't pretend to defend the modern girl and all her pranks," continued Mrs. Bacon. "I certainly believe that where there is smoke there is fire.' Surely we all see enough to convince us of that, but I believe there is going to be a shadow, a happy medium between the old-fashioned girl and the little baby vamp.

"There is one question which puzzles me and which will have to work itself out. The girls say they do all these things to please the men, and the men, in turn say they tolerate many things to please the girls. Whom shall we believe?"

"And are the young men who run about with these girls marrying them?" I asked.

"That is a question which many are asking," resumed Mrs. Bacon. If the young men do marry these girls and leave the old-fashioned girl unwed, then, perhaps, girls of the future will be justified in following in their peppy sisters' footsteps. If, on the other hand, these girls are merely used as gay companions, and the plain, good, quiet litt] girl is given the fireside chair and wedding ring, of course conditions will change.

"Then it has often occurred to me," philosophized Mrs. Bacon, "that perhaps all this seeming wildness in young women is merely the spirit of suppression which women felt before the suffrage movement. Mothers have been kept in the background so long that their daughters glory in their freedom. Now that mothers have gone out the door and left the key in the latch, their daughters are coming out after them."

"Perhaps after they have had a good look at the world they will go back to the fireside and not care so much to be frank, smoke cigarettes and wear clothes which shock the sane and staid," I suggested.

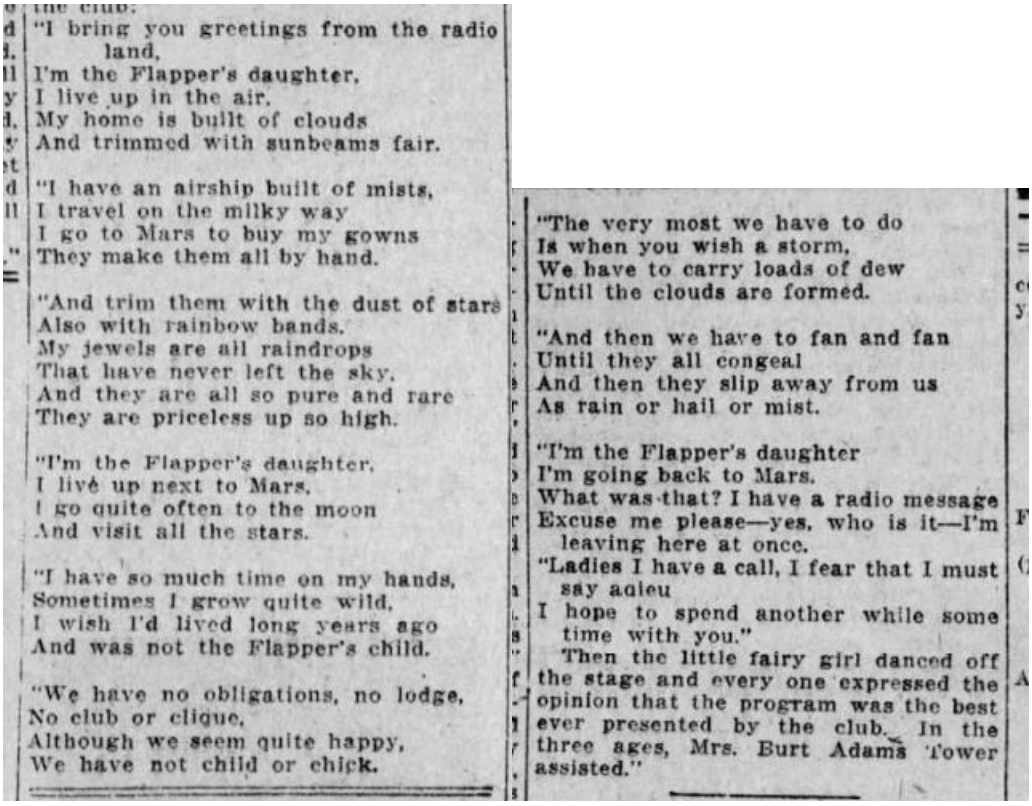

"There will be a change, depend upon it," optimistically replied Mrs. Bacon. "Girls move in groups. Five years hence we shall have a different group."

"And it may just be that some of these very girls who did as they pleased will make the most sophisticated and strict mothers," I laughed. "They will probably pride themselves with, 'My daughter shall never do the things I used to do!'"

"Did you not think that lovable little Myrtle Elvers was an artist as "The Flapper's daughter?"

She looked like something good to eat when she appeared all in fluffy flesh-colored tulle, silver, pale green and all the other tints of the rainbow. And the way she spoke and danced was a revelation. I have seen grace and beauty but it seems that she embodied everything that could be beautiful.

Of course she sang and talked to music and we will give her little speech, which was written by Mrs. F. Clifford, who is a wonderful factor in the club:

the club.

"I bring you greetings from the radio land,
I'm the Flapper's daughter,
I live up in the air,
My home is built of clouds
And trimmed with sunbeams fair.

"I have an airship built of mists,
I travel on the milky way
I go to Mars to buy my gowns
They make them all by hand.

"And trim them with the dust of stars
Also with rainbow bands,
My jewels are all raindrops
That have never left the sky,
And they are all so pure and rare
They are priceless up so high.

"I'm the Flapper's daughter,
I live up next to Mars,
I go quite often to the moon
And visit all the stars.

"I have so much time on my hands,
Sometimes I grow quite wild,
I wish I'd lived long years ago
And was not the Flapper's child.

"We have no obligations, no lodge,
No club or clique,
Although we seem quite happy,
We have not child or chick.

"The very most we have to do
Is when you wish a storm,
We have to carry loads of dew
Until the clouds are formed.

"And then we have to fan and fan
Until they all congeal
And then they slip away from us
As rain or hail or mist.

"I'm the Flapper's daughter
I'm going back to Mars.
What was that? I have a radio message
Excuse me please—yes, who is it—I'm leaving here at once.
"Ladies I have a call, I fear that I must say adieu
I hope to spend another while some time with you."

Then the little fairy girl danced off the stage and every one expressed the opinion that the program was the best ever presented by the club. In the three ages, Mrs. Burt Adams Tower assisted."

ANNUAL LUNCHEON.

With perfect setting, the Marian White Arts and Crafts club observed its seventeenth or "flapper" birthday on Wednesday at 1 o'clock in the Silver Bow club. Covers were laid at the luncheon for 65 guests and each of the tables held the club colors, pink and white, carried out in roses, spring flowers and ferns. At the president's table, a large birthday cake, surrounded by seven smaller ones graced the board. Mrs. Dave Hudtloff, retiring president, gave a splendid address of welcome saying:

"I greet you, on this, the seventeenth anniversary of our birth as a club. We grew from a tiny tot with Grandmother Gunn to baptize us and helpful and loyal mothers to raise us. And now we have reached the 'flapper' age, 17, with what rapture she gazes into the future with shining eyes and bright smile. Her aspirations are big and wonderful, no task too great. Life seems all too short to do the things she plans. Criticism! Yes, it is true. Her dresses are short, her galoshes flap, she bobs her hair; she rouges her face, but then, doesn't her mother, too? But with all her independence she is sweet and dear, she is smart, too. We can be proud of her, for she has her classes in art and literature; she excels in china painting, dances divinely; she has her charities; is interested in social service reform and she ever has a happy smile and kind word for all.

"Seventeen! The magic age. The confidence of 17 in her ability to meet the world is amazing and if we could only look into the future, as through a crystal and see the wonderful things which she will no doubt accomplish, we would be astonished, but we can only shake our heads and wonder.

"Her experience now at 17 is so much more valuable to her, in this age than was that of her mother, that we are possessed with a longing to know what the 'flapper's' daughter will be.

The 'Flapper' Age.

"And so our club, after all, we are only 17 short years old. It is true we have made mistakes and will make others, but when we think of the years we have ahead to rectify these mistakes, when we realize the things we have accomplished in the past, what wonderful modern conveniences in comparison to our grandmother's day, we can call ourselves fortunate that we live in this age. And organized and conducted, not only for our own self improvement, but for progress in matters both social and civic, our clubs have been, are being and will be a power in civilization. So organized we will reach the goal. We must spend more time in self advancement and in finding ways for public betterment. Not spend our time in that form of absorbing conversation known as small talk, which rises the climax in wondering what is to become of the 'dreadful young people' of today. We must show tolerance and generosity toward our young people and we must supply healthy entertainment for them. And with cooperation of the club women this should not be a task. And dear friends, in closing let me say that while our 'flapper' age is the problem of the day, yet she is our daughter and we must all help by placing before her the highest of ideals. Youth must be served.

"If I had youth no chains of fear should bind me;
I'd brave the heights which older men must shun.
I'd leave the well-worn lanes of life
behind me,
And seek to do what men have never done.
Rich prizes wait for those who do not waver;
The world needs men to battle for the truth.
It calls each hour for stronger hearts
and braver;
This is the age for those who still have youth."

The incoming president, Mrs. George B. Cain, was introduced by Mrs. Hudtloff and was enthusiastically greeted. She gave an address of welcome to the guests. She wished them members of the club before the next birthday and spoke of the honor which had been tendered her when she was elected president.

A short history of the club was given by Mrs. J. W. Gunn, in whose home the club was founded, and who has since been known as the mother and sometimes the grandmother of it. She gave the following facts regarding the early history of the organization:

"As mother or grandmother of the club, as they sometimes call me, I have been asked to give a short history of the first few years of its existence, so that our new members may know something of how and why it was begun. A number of things happened to make a group of ladies, who were interested in arts and crafts, decide to start a club to take up this work, and to start in time to join the state federation, which was to meet in Deer Lodge for the first time since it was organized, so a meeting was arranged to meet at my home on April 14, 1905. There were 17 ladies present and 11 others who had sent in their names, the meeting being at my home I declined to run for president and suggested Mrs. T. A. Grigg act as temporary chairman and afterwards nominated her for president and she was elected for the first year. The manner of conducting the club was discussed and much of the plan we worked out then is still in force.

"Mrs. Marian White, a prominent art critic, was visiting E. S. Paxson at the time, and after a great deal of discussion her name was chosen to head our club.

"E. S. Paxson and Mrs. Marian A. White were made honorary members. The first list of officers was as follows:

"President, Mrs. T. A. Grigg; first vice president, Mrs. E. S. Paxson; second vice president, Miss Lucy Kemper; recording secretary, Mrs. Elliot Hopkins; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Gunn; auditor, Mrs. Violet Gilbert.

"It was voted to join the State Federation and the next meeting to finish the organizing was to be held at Mrs. Grigg's home on April 19, 1905."

The musical numbers of the afternoon included the song, "A Spirit Flower," and "Rose in the Bud," sung by Miss Gladys Neal, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Walter Forsyth. Mrs. Maurice Summonds then sang "Little Mother of Mine," and "Cradle Song," and was also accompanied by Mrs. Forsyth. A play, "The Three Ages," was a cleverly acted affair. It was written by Mrs. C. F. Clifford and interpreted by Mrs. Clifford as mid-Victorian; Mrs. O. Lee Shoemaker as the flapper, and little Myrtle Elvers as the flapper's daughter. Mrs. Shoemaker sang a number of beautiful songs and Miss Elvers danced during the course of the little drama.

Those who were invited to observe the club's birth were Mrs. Sam M. Johnstone, Miss Irene Farrell, Mrs. D. Hudtloff, Mrs. Cain, Mrs. J. D. Wilson, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Hirsch, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Steinborn, Mrs. A. Doull, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. Margetts, Mrs. C. H. Smith, Mrs. J. H. Russell, Mrs. Brenner, Mrs. J. W. Gunn, Mrs. G. A. # Former Residents Are Visitors in City

George P. Mennie, widely known former Butte resident, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. David G. Hudtloff, has arrived in Butte from his home at Mill Valley, Calif. They expect to spend the next three months in the Mining city.

Mr. Mennie left here in 1930 to make his home in the California city and this is his ninth trip back to Butte in the summertime for a visit. It has been 15 years since Mrs. Hudtloff last visited here.

A resident of the Mining city for 40 years, Mr. Mennie was active in mining and fraternal circles. For many years he served as surface foreman for the W. A. Clark interests at local mines. He served as master of Mount Moriah lodge No. 24, A. F. and A. M., in 1901 and ranks as the oldest living past master of the lodge.

"I'm always mighty happy to get back to Butte and visit with old-time friends," he said. "After all, there's no place in the country like Butte and you can't duplicate the old friends. We drove up from California, stopping on the way at Virginia City and Reno, Nev., and Twin Falls, Idaho. We are anticipating a most enjoyable summer back here at our old home."

Mrs. Dave Hudtloff will leave for San Francisco in about a week to be near her husband, who is in the officers' training division at the Presidio.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Peterson have come in from Wolf creek, where their summer home is located and are at present at the home of Mrs. Peterson's mother, Mrs. George P. Mennie, on West Porphyry street. Mr. Peterson expects soon to join the officers' training corps at the Presidio.

Church in Town of Wien Founded Sixty Years Ago

CONGREGATION WILL CELEBRATE SUNDAY

Pastor Who Served Parish In Late Nineties Will Preach Jubilee Sermon

Edgar, June 15—(Special)—Tomorrow promises to be red-letter day for St. John's Evangelical Lutheran congregation in the town of Wien, whose house of worship is located five miles east of here. For tomorrow has been selected as the day on which the congregation will celebrate the sextieth anniversary of the founding of the first Lutheran parish in the town by the Missouri Lutheran synod, and also the twentieth anniversary of the dedication of the present church edifice.

Arrangements for the celebration, which has been planned by the pastor, the Rev. E. Malueg, consist of three jubilee services—one in German, beginning at 10 a. m., one in English, beginning at 2:30 p. m., and the last in German, at 8 p. m. The Rev. A. F. Imm, Lenzburg, Ill., who served the parish from 1896 to 1899, will deliver the jubilee sermon at the morning service; the Rev. S. E. Rathke, pastor of St. John's church, Auburndale, will preach in the afternoon, and the Rev. Fred Kersten, pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran church, Nekoosa, will speak at the evening service.

First Services in 1862

Owing to the loss of the early church records the exact date of the organization of the congregation is in doubt, but the fact is established that the first services in this vicinity were held in 1862 by the Rev. J. J. Hoffman, then pastor in the town of Berlin, who performed the sacraments of baptism and communion at irregular intervals. In 1867 the Rev. J. F. William Hudtloff was ordained pastor in the Berlin church and gave the Wien group more frequent attention. The organization of the congregation was effected in 1869.

The first resident pastor was the Rev. William Weber, now at West Bend, who served one and one-half years. He was followed by the late Rev. William Erck, who was succeeded two years later by the Rev. F. H. Reichmann. During a period of several years which followed the departure of the latter in 1884 the congregation became divided, and the group which remained loyal to the Missouri synod was served by the Rev. F. Siebrandt, then pastor at Spencer.

at Spencer.

A reorganization of the congregation followed on Feb. 20, 1885, and until 1888 various student pastors served among them K. Schmidt and O. H. Restin. Neighboring pastors also assisted in the services, including the W. C. Brink, then at Athens; the Rev. Joseph Fiehler, stationed at Colby, and the Rev. J. H. Todt, who was in charge at Spencer.

Erected New Church

The Rev. Christian Becker became resident pastor in 1895, since when the church has had a steady growth. He was followed in turn by the Rev. A. F. Imm, who served from 1896 to 1899; the Rev. L. R. Heilberger, who remained one year, and who is living in retirement at Detroit, Mich.; the late Rev. Joseph Oesch, who served from 1900 to 1909, and under whose administration the congregation but the beautiful church, whose dedication anniversary is being observed.

The Rev. F. A. Schlemann, who is now at Golden Lake, Ontario, Canada, served from 1909 to 1913, and was followed by the Rev. E. H. Buerger, who remained 10 years, and who is now a professor at the Lutheran high schol, Milwaukee. The Rev. O. Dobratz, now at Pecatonica, Ill., served from October, 1923, to Aug., 1924, and Jan. 25, 1925, the present pastor took charge.

Pastor Educated at Concordia

The Rev. Mr. Malueg, who graduated with the class of 1905 at Concordia college, was stationed at Emerald, St. Croix county, before coming to the town of Wien. One of his daughters, Agatha, graduated last year from McKinley high school, Marshfield, and this week completed the rural teachers course at Central State Teachers college, Stevens Point; another daughter, Florina, has completed two years of work in the Marshfield high school, and achieved high scholastic honors the past year.

Founded in 1869

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran parish, town of Wien, which was founded in 1869, erected the church building pictured herewith 20 years ago. By odd coincidence the anniversaries of the founding of the parish and the dedication of the present church building will be celebrated on the same day.

Jubilee Services for Young Folks Sunday At Naugart Church

Ladies' Aid Society to Observe Anniversary July 5; History of Parish

Diamond jubilee services will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran church at Naugart for the young people of the congregation. All young people, including those of neighboring congregations are invited. The Rev. H. W. Baxmann, pastor of St. Paul's church, town of Pine River, Lincoln county, will be in charge of the services.

St. Paul's congregation at Naugart observed its diamond anniversary Sunday with a picnic at the Butt-Ebert grove, which was well attended. The Rev. Paul Schedler, Fall Creek, preached in German during the forenoon service and the ladies' aid society choir and Alfred H. Schram, Merrill, sang. Mr. Schram's selection was "The Lord is My Shepherd."

In the afternoon, the Rev. F. F. Selle, Milwaukee, preached in German and the Rev. Mr. Schedler in English. Mrs. Paul Roehrs and Mrs. Herman Redlich, Wausau, sang. Dinner and supper were served by the ladies of the congregation. St. Paul's church band furnished music for the day.

Celebration, July 5

Another special jubilee service will be conducted Sunday evening, July 5, in commemoration of the fifteenth anniversary of the St. Paul's ladies' aid society. All neighboring congregations are invited. The Rev. Walter Piehler, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, town of Maine, will preach.

Nearly eighty years ago, what is now the town of Berlin, became settled with Lutheran immigrants from Germany. At that time there were no churches nor schools in the neighborhood and these early families were served by a missionary, a Rev. Mr. Streeter, whose field of activities covered nearly half the state of Wisconsin.

In 1861 he sent an assistant into this area, the late Rev. J. J. Hoffmann, who served all the Lutherans north of Wausau. On March 11, 1861, the congregation at Naugart was organized with nearly all the residents of the town of Berlin as members. The Rev. Mr. Streeter installed the Rev. Mr. Hoffmann as pastor and the church was christened the "Evangelical Lutheran Congregation of the Town of Berlin."

Had Eighteen Missions

The Rev. Mr. Hoffmann preached at eighteen stations at that time. In 1865 the Missouri synod sent another assistant, the Rev. Samuel Estel, who was installed as assistant pastor of the Naugart congregation on May 25. During the winter months he taught school at Four Mile Creek, where he also served as pastor.

A year later the Rev. Christian Markworth was called as an assistant by the congregation from the seminary at St. Louis, Mo. He also served congregations in Wausau and the town of Wausau. In that year the Naugart congregation held its first mission festival.

In 1867 the Rev. Mr. Hoffmann was called to Portage county and the congregation extended a call to the Rev. J. F. W. Hudtloff, who was installed July 3, 1867. In that year the members decided upon the name, "St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran" church for the congregation.

First Church

In 1867 St. Paul's erected its first church and the dedication was on March 2, 1872. The Rev. Mr. Hudtloff was called to Belle Plaine in 1872. The Rev. Andrew Schroedel was called to serve St. Paul's and the Trinity congregation, a mission near the Marathon-Lincoln county line.

In 1877 four acres of land were purchased for $150 from John Seefeldt for the site of a two-story parsonage. In that year a school house was also erected of logs. In October, 1881, the Rev. Mr. Schroedel was succeeded by the Rev. William Bergholz who served for eight years and who was eventually called to Wrightstown. The Rev. J. G. Glaeser was the next pastor and a new school was built. The Rev. Mr. Glaeser went to Tomah in 1899 and the Rev. Herman Brandt then served the congregation for four years. During his pastorship, a new, larger church was erected and was dedicated in 1904. In that year the Rev. Theodore Hartwig was called, as the Rev. Mr. Brandt had accepted a call to Neillsville.

New Parsonage

In February, 1913, Trinity congregation near the Lincoln-Marathon county line called its own pastor, the Rev. William Fischer. The Rev. Mr. Hartwig was called to Hartland and the Rev. Henry Geiger then served the Naugart congregation thirteen years. In 1916 a new parsonage was erected and in 1921 a ladies' aid society was formed. In the latter year the Rev. Mr. Geiger was called to Randolph and the Rev. William Parisius was called to Naugart. In 1931 ahe latter retired due to a heart ailment and the Rev. Herman A. Handrich, the present pastor, was installed on October 11 by the Rev. Herman Daib, Merrill.

St. Paul's congregation has 350 members, 250 communicants and seventy-five voting members. Parochial school is held during May and June each year and confirmation instructions are given once each week during the year. Sunday school is held regularly during a nine months' term, from April to December. A Bible class with thirty-five members meets once each week.

The beginnings of St. John's go back to 1860, when the Frederick Hamanns, the William Garbrechts, and Karl Marquardt arrived in the dense pine forest that then covered what is now the town of Wien.

At their request, in 1862, the Rev. J. J. Hoffmann, of the town of Berlin visited them in order to baptize several children. After July, 1867, the Rev. J. F. Wilhelm Hudtloff visited the town of Wien at regular intervals. According to later reports he assisted St. John's in organizing in 1869.

At first members met for worship in their log cabin homes. Later they worshipped in the town hall, better known then as "the old school house," which stood across from where St. John's American Lutheran Church on county "N" stands today.

'Aunt Chris' presented with diamond pendant

Miss Christiana Hudtloff of San Luis Obispo, whose life has been dedicated to her church and to the young people who have come under her guidance, has been honored with the 50-year diamond pendant award of the Lutheran Church.

The award was made at a Rally Day service on Sept. 29 when Pastor Stanley A. Quebe of Zion Lutheran Church called Miss Hudtloff to the front of the congregation where the pendant was presented by Harlan Werner, superintendent of the Sunday school.

Miss Hudtloff began a teaching career in 1909 in Wisconsin. During World War I she was a war worker in Washington, D.C., and after the war transferred to the U.S. Indian Sevice. From then until 1950 she taught at Minoninee Indian reservation in Wisconsin, the Navajo reservation in Tuba City, Ariz., and the Sioux reservation at Pine Ridge, S.D. On her retirement she received a gold medallion, for "Distinguished Service" to the department.

"Aunt Chris," as she is known to her friends, moved to San Luis Obispo to be near a nephew, Joseph Hudtloff, and began a long service to Zion Lutheran Church as Sunday school teacher. She has also made it a point to take care of all the bulletin boards at the church, a work which she will continue, as well as serving as substitute teacher in the Sunday school.

The chancel of the church was filled with young people on Rally Day, scores of whom had attended her classes and been guided in the Christian faith by her help.

Miss Hudtloff, now 78 years of age, said "It's wonderful to live this long to have something this nice happen to you."

Rev. Hudtloff Resigns; Fill Vacancy Soon

The resignation of Rev. Rufus Hudtloff, for more than 11 years the pastor of St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran church here, has been tendered to the congregation and at a meeting of voting members Monday night, was accepted with regrets.

Rev. Mr. Hudtloff has been away since the first of June, due to his health, and is now at Milford, Ia., with a brother, Ben, principal of the high school there. He has been improving quite rapidly the past few weeks but would be unable to resume his pastoral duties by the early part of September when Sunday school and confirmation classes reopen for fall work. Although his recuperation has been progressing satisfactorily, he felt that it would be better for him not to return to his duties for a year, and therefore tendered his resignation.

The pastor's illness was the result of a breakdown he suffered, and he conducted his last services here the last Sunday in May. He then went to Madison, where he was a hospital patient for 10 days, after which he was accompanied to Milford by his brother.

Mrs. Ernestine Hudtloff, mother of the pastor, is still a resident of Stevens Point but plans to return to Wausau, her former home. Her daughter, Miss Christiana Hudtloff, a teacher in an Indian school in South Dakota, who came here to spend the summer, will assist her mother in moving.

Rev. Mr. Hudtloff left his congregation in fine condition. It has enjoyed a natural growth under his leadership, and during his pastorate much was accomplished. The church basement was renovated and new church windows were installed. The pastor did outstanding work among the young people of his congregation.

Mr. Hudtloff was a chaplain in the World war and was at the front in France during major engagements. Following the war he returned to Wausau, and came to Stevens Point in April, 1920. He attended Central State Teachers' college here during part of his pastorate. He enrolled in September, 1928, and was graduated on July 25, 1930, when he received a bachelor of education degree in the high school department.

Arrangements to fill the vacancy are under way. A number of pastors are being considered and it is likely that a call will be extended to one of them and a new pastor engaged by early fall.

Hold Funeral Here Monday For Minister

The funeral of Rev. Rufus Hudtloff, former pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church here, who was killed by a North Western train near Janesville early Thursday morning, will be held in Stevens Point Monday afternoon. There will be services at the Boston funeral home at 1:30 o'clock, followed by services at the church at 2 o'clock. Burial will be at Wausau.

Rev. P. Roehrs of Zion Lutheran church at Wausau will have charge at the funeral home. At the church the altar services will be conducted by Rev. W. F. Ludwig, the local pastor. Dean H. H. Kumnick of Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind., a close friend of Rev. Mr. Hudtloff, will deliver the sermon in English. Rev. F. Kretzschmar of Immanuel Lutheran church at Wisconsin Rapids, vice-president of the North Wisconsin District of the Missouri Synod, will deliver a brief address in the German language. Burial services at Wausau will be conducted by Rev. E. H. Bertermann of Trinity Lutheran church at Wausau, former pastor of St. Paul's in this city.

The remains of Rev. Mr. Hudtloff were brought from Janesville this morning. Ben Hudtloff, a brother of the pastor, is enroute here from Milford, Iowa. His mother, Mrs. Ernestine Hudtloff, is residing at Schofield.

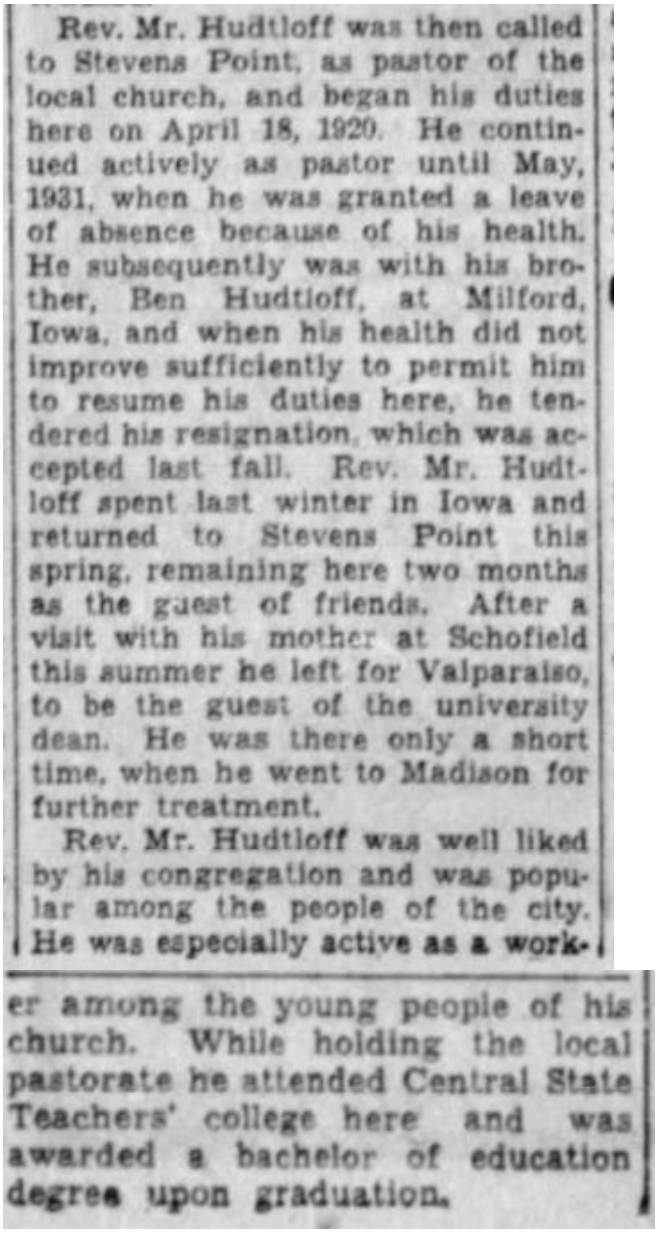

The body of Rev. Mr. Hudtloff was found on the main line of the railroad tracks one mile east of Tiffany. Identification was made through letters in his pockets. The section man who found the body and county authorities who investigated were unable to determine definitely whether the pastor was walking along the tracks or riding on the train.

Blood marks were found on train No. 514 of the North Western road, which leaves Janesville for the south at 4 a. m., and it is believed this is the train that killed Rev. Mr. Hudtloff, railroad officials informed Coroner E. J. Overton of Janesville.

Rev. Mr. Hudtloff had experienced a nervous breakdown more than a year ago and he was recently at Valparaiso, where he was the guest of Dean Kumnick. He then came back to Wisconsin and was a mental patient in Bradley Memorial hospital, Madison. It has not been learned how he happened to be near Janesville.

The pastor was born at Belle Plaine, Wisconsin, February 19, 1892, a son of Rev. and Mrs. William Hudtloff. He spent his boyhood at Wausau, where he attended Zion school. Upon graduation he entered Concordia college of Milwaukee, taking a six-year course preparatory for the ministry, concluding his studies at Concordia seminary, St. Louis, Mo.

His first charge was at Shelby, Mont., where he served a short time. He then enlisted in the United States army, in the early days of the World war, serving as chaplain in the 127th Infantry, 32nd division. He served at the front overseas and his war experiences, it is believed, brought about, to some extent, the nervous breakdown he afterward suffered. Upon returning to this country and receiving his honorable discharge, he taught school and preached at Merrill and Wausau.

Rev. Mr. Hudtloff was then called to Stevens Point, as pastor of the local church, and began his duties here on April 18, 1920. He continued actively as pastor until May, 1931, when he was granted a leave of absence because of his health. He subsequently was with his brother, Ben Hudtloff, at Milford, Iowa, and when his health did not improve sufficiently to permit him to resume his duties here, he tendered his resignation, which was accepted last fall. Rev. Mr. Hudtloff spent last winter in Iowa and returned to Stevens Point this spring, remaining here two months as the guest of friends. After a visit with his mother at Schofield this summer he left for Valparaiso, to be the guest of the university dean. He was there only a short time, when he went to Madison for further treatment.

Rev. Mr. Hudtloff was well liked by his congregation and was popular among the people of the city. He was especially active as a worker among the young people of his church. While holding the local pastorate he attended Central State Teachers' college here and was awarded a bachelor of education degree upon graduation.

INFORMATION SOUGHT BY WAKE ISLAND POST

Editor The Advertiser:

Wake Island Post No. 23 of the American Legion, Department of Hawaii, on December 7, 1941, had forty-seven members whose dues for 1942 had just been forwarded to Department Headquarters. Information has been obtained which indicates that thirty-five of the members were defense workers, who are now believed to be prisoners of war in Japan. The former mainland address of each of these men has been obtained and his Legion card for 1942 is being forwarded to that address, hoping that it will be received by the next of kin; but, no information has been received about the home address or present status of the following members:

REV. M. D. HUDTLOFF, PIONEER MINISTER, SUCCUMBS SUDDENLY

Beloved Butte Clergyman Had Been Pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church for Past Forty-one Years.

Pioneer Pastor Is Dead

THE REV. M. D. HUDTLOFF.

The Rev. Martin D. Hudtloff, 65, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church for 41 years, and dean of Lutheran pastors in Montana, died suddenly at 9 o'clock last night at his home, 221 South Montana street. Although in failing health for the past two years, his death was unexpected and came as a great shock to his legion of friends in Butte.

The beloved pastor held his usual services yesterday morning and had a busy day afterwards, including two baptisms. Always faithful in his calls on the sick, it was while on a brief errand of this nature that death overtook him. A parishioner who is ill had been taken for a drive, and as the car stopped in front of the pastor's home he walked cut to the curb. It was while chatting with those in the car that he faltered and slumped to the ground. He died a half-hour later.

The body was removed to the Sherman & Reed mortuary. Funeral arrangements are pending receipt of word from relatives. His son, Martin J. Hudtloff, assistant state director of the Montana Relief association, was summoned from Helena. Another son and daughter are expected here for the funeral. In addition, he had five brothers and sisters, some of whom are in Butte. His wife died in 1929.

Widely Known.

Perhaps no clergyman in Montana was more widely known or more sincerely loved. Coming to Butte with his bride in September, 1893, he began here his first real service in the ministry. Although unused to the ways of a frontier country, and particularly a mining camp, he soon developed a fondness for Butte and its people—a love that he never forsook, and which grew with the years.

His first church services were in a building on Silver street, just across from the Emma mine. Later the congregation worshipped in a Finnish hall on North Wyoming street, and a few years later, through the efforts of the pastor and his wife, ground was purchased at the corner of Montana and Silver streets and the present edifice erected. In addition, Mr. Hudtloff served missions at Deer Lodge, Anaconda, Gold Creek, Pioneer, Twin Bridges, Virginia City Bozeman and Missoula. His wife accompanied him on all his trips and played the organ at services.

Three years ago his congregation honored him at a public reception on the occasion of his thirty-eighth anniversary in Butte. This was repeated last year, when he had served the community 40 years. He served 20 years as president of the Montana Lutheran conference.

Son of Pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Hudtloff was born Nov. 10, 1868, at Wausau, Wis., the oldest of 14 children. His father was the Lutheran pastor there, and it was in deference to his frequently expressed wish that his son embraced the ministry. At the age of 14 he entered Concordia college at Milwaukee, where he remained four years, after which he entered another college of the same name at Fort Wayne, Ind., graduating in 1888. He then began his theological training at St. Louis. His first charge was at Steen, Minn., where he served two years, and organized several missions. In 1892 he married Miss Julia Detloff of Burnett, Wis.

Surviving relatives include his mother, Mrs. E. Hudtloff of Scofield, Wis.; two sons, Martin J. and Arthur G. Hudtloff, the latter superintendent of schools at Tacoma, Wash.; a daughter, Mrs. Esther King of Detroit, Mich.; five brothers, Paul Hudtloff of Butte, Cooney Hudtloff of San Francisco, Dave Hudtloff of Mill Valley, Cal., Theodore Hudtloff of Redwood Valley, Cal., and Ben Hudtloff of Milford, Iowa; four sisters, Mrs. Ed Eno and Mrs. Tim Keefe, both of Butte, Miss Alma Hudtloff of Scofield, Wis., and Miss Christiana Hudtloff of Pine Ridge, S. D.; three grandchildren, Betty Ann and Janet Hudtloff and Patricia Helen King.

Funeral Services Will Be Conducted Monday Afternoon at Home and Grave

William Emil Hudtloff, cashier of the Citizens State bank of Wausau, passed away at his home, 810 Franklin street, at 5:20 o'clock this morning. The immediate cause of his death was acute dilatation of the heart. About a week ago he was compelled to go to bed and his condition seemed to gradually improve until yesterday afternoon when his temperature went higher. Until midnight last night he rested comfortably, but later complained of pains. The end came quietly and quickly.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the family home by Rev. Donald S. West of Ironwood, Michigan, former associate pastor of the Presbyterian church of Wausau. At the grave in Pine Grove cemetery the Masons will conduct the services. Friends are requested to omit flowers.

The deceased was born in the town of Berlin, Marathon county, July 13, 1871, and was the son of Rev. and Mrs. William Hudtloff, early residents of this county. In 1884 the family moved to Shawano county. The deceased attended school at Belle Plaine and the High school at Shawano, afterwards entering the First National bank of Shawano, where he remained for nineteen years. When elected to the office of register of deeds of Shawano county he was assistant cashier in the bank. In 1907, after serving one year as register of deeds, he became cashier of the Citizens State Bank of Wausau when it was organized, and served in that capacity until his death.

In 1898 the deceased was united in marriage with Miss Zora Harden of Augusta, Wis. Surviving are his widow, his mother, Mrs. William Hudtloff of this city, and ten brothers and sisters, Rev. # WM. E. HUDTLOFF PASSES AWAY

CASHIER OF CITIZENS STATE BANK DIES SUDDENLY

William E. Hudtloff, cashier of the Citizen's State bank, passed away on Friday morning, August 8th, 1919, at 5:20 o'clock, at his bome, 810 Franklin street, in this city. Mr. Hudtloff had been confined to his home for a few days, but no one thought his case was serious until Wednesday night, when his condition became critical. His death is a great shock to our people, as he was a comparatively young man, full of vigor with promise of a long life before him. The immediate cause of his death was acute dialation of the heart.

In honor of the memory of deceased the Citizen's State Bank was closed the entire day Monday, and the other banks of the city closed during the afternoon, the day of the funeral. The flags at all banks were placed at half mast.

William Emil Hudtloff was born in the town of Berlin, Marathon county, on the 13th day of July, 1871. He was a son of Rev. and Mrs. William Hudtloff, who came to this county in 1865, from Germany. His father was one of the early ministers of the Lutheran faith in this section. In 1884 he went to Shawano county with his family to reside and died in Wausau in 1903.

Deceased attended public school at Belle Pleine, Wis., and High school at Shawano, and afterwards entered the First National bank in that city, where he remained for nineteen years. He was elected to the position of register of deeds of that county, and after serving one year he was induced to come to Wausau in 1907 and take the position of cashier of the Citizen's State bank, which was organized in October of that year. Mr. Hudtloff has proven a financier of ability and through his efforts the Citizen's State bank has become recognized as one of the strong banking institutions of our city. In 1907 it was capitalized for $50,000; the capital stock was later increased to $100,000. Its last report made in July showed the bank's total resources to be $1,052,995.37. During his life in Wausau, he had taken active interest in its growth and prosperity and was to be found working in the front ranks of every important movement undertaken. During the trying times of the late war, ing the trying times of the late war, he seized every opportunity to assist in the Liberty Loans and other work. His death while an irreparable loss to his family and friends, is also a distinct loss to our city.

Besides the bank, Mr. Hudtloff was connected with a number of Wausau's most prosperous institutions.

Deceased was united in marriage with Miss Zora Harden, of Augusta, Wis., on June 29th, 1898. He is survived by his widow, his mother, Mrs. Wm. Hudtloff of this city, and ten brothers and sisters, viz.: Rev. Rufus Hudtloff, chaplain of the 161st depot brigade, Camp Grant, Ill.; Miss Alma and Theodore Hudtloff, Sacramento, Calif.; Misses Martha and Lena and Rev. Martin, Paul and Benjamin Hudtloff, Butte, Mont.; Christian Hudtloff, Washington, D. C., and Conrad Hudtloff, of Wausau.

He was a member of Forest Lodge, No. 130, F. & A. M.; Wausau Chapter, No. 51, R. A. M.; St. Omer Commandery, No. 19, K. T.; Marathon Chapter, No. 123, O. E. S.; Marathon Lodge, No. 145, K. of P.; Royal Order of Moose, Wausau Club, Wausau Country Club, Wausau Rotary Club, and Wausau Chamber of Commerce.

Deceased was also a devoted member of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The funeral services took place from the home, at 2:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon, Rev. Donald S. West, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ironwood, officiating. The Masonic order was in charge at the cemetery, the ritual service being conducted by J. A. Rowley, W. M., with Rev. West as chaplain. The Masonic orders attended in a body and there was a Knight Templar escort. Interment was in Pine Grove Mausoleum.

PAUL HUDTLOFF DIES SUDDENLY IN HOME HERE

Funeral Rites for Prominent Resident Will Be Conducted on Thursday.

Paul Hudtloff, a prominent Butte business man for many years, Republican party leader and president of the Butte Chamber of Commerce, died suddenly yesterday at noon while preparing to leave his home, 1415 West Porphyry street, for his office. He had been in poor health several years. Death was believed the result of a heart attack.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at White's funeral chapel with the Rev. H. W. Moehring of St. Mark's Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in Mount Moriah cemetery, close to the grave of his brother, the Rev. Martin D. Hudtloff who died several years ago.

Mr. Hudtloff was particularly prominent in the Butte Y. M. C. A., of which he was vice president and a member of the board of directors. His connection with the "Y" dated back to 1916 when plans were made for the present imposing structure on West Park street. He belonged to no lodges.

Born in Wisconsin.

Mr. Hudtloff was born at Berlin, Wis. His father was a German Lutheran minister who for years was pastor of a Lutheran church at Wausau. It was there that the youth received his education. His oldest brother, the late Rev. Martin Hudtloff, who had followed in the footsteps of his father, had accepted a call to the St. Mark

Lutheran church in Butte and it was he who induced his younger brother to come West.

Arriving in Butte in the early nineties, Mr. Hudtloff's first job was as a clerk at the Mitchell and Mussigbrod sanitarium at Warm Springs. This was before the institution was taken over by the state.

When the Spanish-American war was declared in 1898, young Hudtloff was one of the first in the Mining district to enlist. He was stationed in the South, but did not see active service in Cuba. He was a member of the same company of which Col. D. G. Stivers was then captain and the late Frank W. Haskins was a lieutenant. He served under both until discharged in 1899.

Following his return from the service, Mr. Hudtloff's first job was on the Butte hill. Later he was in the employ of the late F. Augustus Heinze in a clerical capacity until Heinze disposed of his Butte interests in 1906. He was married in April of 1906, his brother in Butte performing the ceremony at the St. Mark parsonage. Then the newlyweds left for Vancouver, B. C., where Mr. Hudtloff was assigned a managerial post of a property owned by the Heinze interests. The young couple remained there two and a half years, when they returned to Butte. This city had been Mr. Hudtloff's residence continuously since.

WITH BUTTE AND SUPERIOR.

He was named chief clerk for the Butte and Superior Mining company after his return from British Columbia. He held that post for several years when he resigned to enter business for himself. He formed a partnership with S. D. Marquin in the lumber commission business. The firm furnished timber and stulls to mining companies. Later Mr. Hudtloff took over the business himself. His offices in recent years have been in the O'Rourke building. Of late years he had also conducted a wholesale lumber business.

Other business connections were with the Universal Bond and Mortgage corporation, of which he was vice president, and the Inspiration Gold Mining company, of which he was president for several years. He was also associated with several other mining enterprises.

Always a staunch Republican, Mr. Hudtloff had been a leader in Silver Bow county Republican circles for more than a quarter of a century. His first activities in the political field were in connection with the Heinze group. From that time until his recent illness he gave freely of his time and efforts for his party's welfare. For the past score of years he had served as chairman of the Silver Bow County Republican central committee. His counsel was often sought by state Republican leaders and it was often stated that Silver Bow county never had a Republican leader who was better informed on party matters than he.

CIVIC ACTIVITIES.

When the Butte Chamber of Commerce was reorganized in 1920, Mr. Hudtloff was one of its most active supporters. He had been a member of the board of directors since and for more than a decade served as vice president and as a member of the board's executive committee. He was elected president in October, 1938, when Dr. Peter Potter resigned to leave the city on an extended vacation. He was re-elected president of the Chamber at its annual election last May.

In addition to his other civic associations, he had been an active member of the Butte Rotary club since 1920. For many years he was a member of the old Silver Bow club and was connected with the Butte Country club for the past quarter of a century. He was also a director of the Butte chapter of the American Red Cross.

Surviving relatives include his widow, Mrs. Rose A. Hudtloff; two brothers-in-law and four sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eno and Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Keefe, all of Butte; Miss Alma Hudtloff of Wausau, Wis., and Miss Christina Hudtloff of Pine Ridge, S. F. Lyons, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Lemuel Ingraham, both of Houlton, Maine, and several nieces and nephews.
