FROM OUR OWN BOYS UNDER OUR OWN FLAG

That the efforts of Little Mother Lederman are appreciated by the Liberty boys who left the bay district for American Lake is evident by the following letter received by her this morning:

Mrs. Lederman, The Mother of Our Boys, Venice, California.

To our Dear and Highly Esteemed Mrs. Lederman: We, the undersigned Liberty boys from Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice, of district No. 3, wish to thank you and all the other dear mothers who have so willingly devoted their time and pains to giving us the grand send-off.

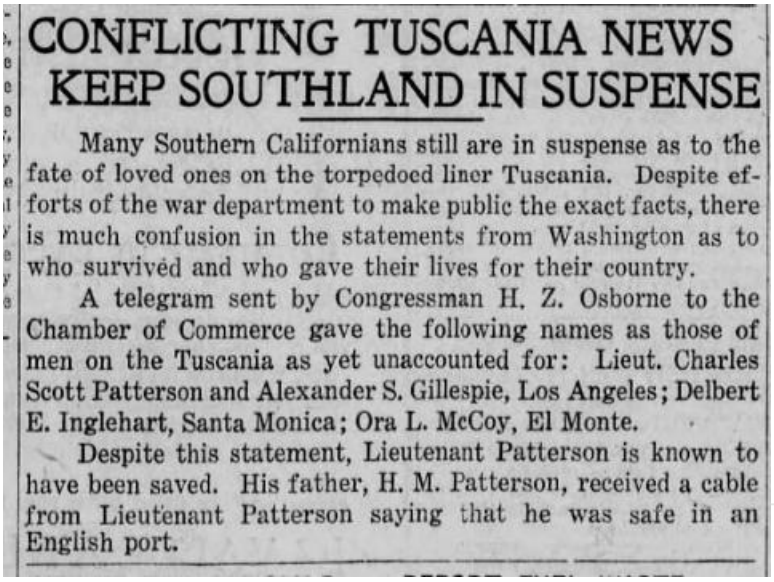

We thank you very kindly for the little boxes and we assure you they are highly appreciated. Love from all of us.

CONFLICTING TUSCANIA NEWS KEEP SOUTHLAND IN SUSPENSE

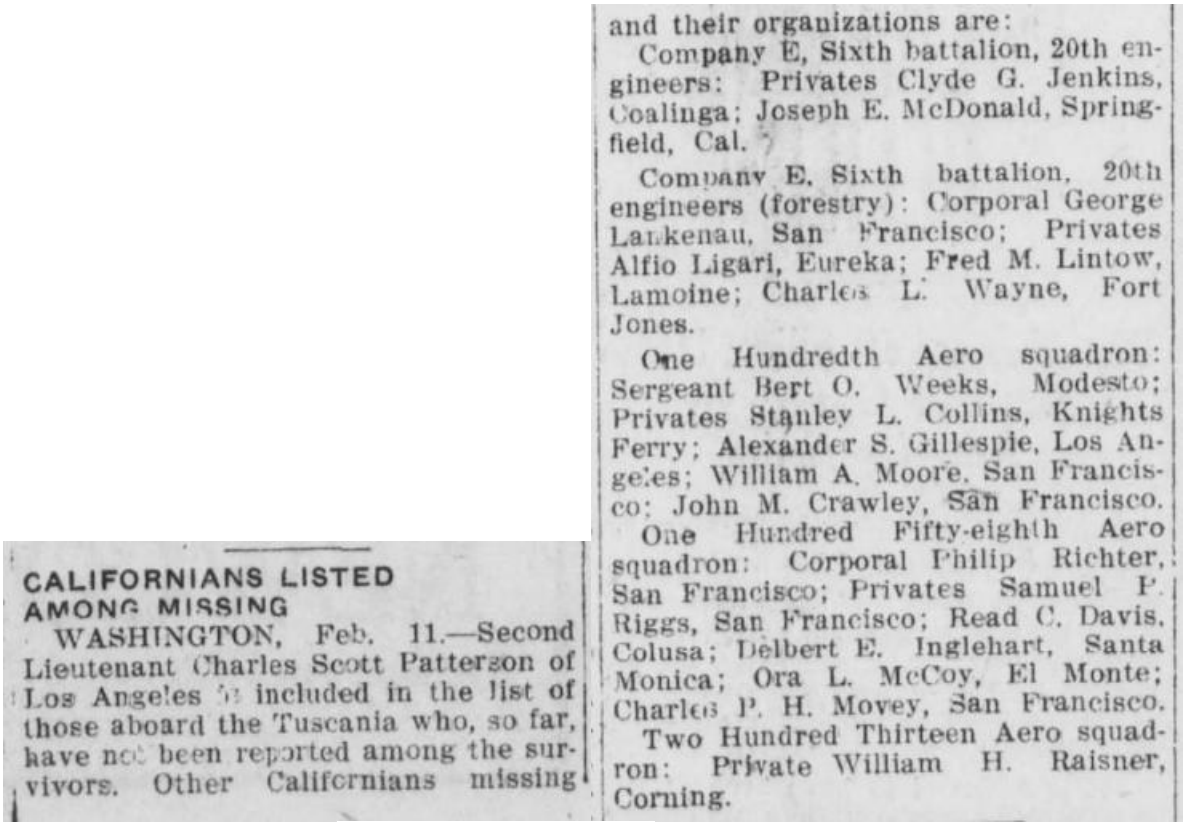

Many Southern Californians still are in suspense as to the fate of loved ones on the torpedoed liner Tuscania. Despite efforts of the war department to make public the exact facts, there is much confusion in the statements from Washington as to who survived and who gave their lives for their country.

A telegram sent by Congressman H. Z. Osborne to the Chamber of Commerce gave the following names as those of men on the Tuscania as yet unaccounted for: Lieut. Charles Scott Patterson and Alexander S. Gillespie, Los Angeles; Delbert E. Inglehart, Santa Monica; Ora L. McCoy, El Monte.

Despite this statement, Lieutenant Patterson is known to have been saved. His father, H. M. Patterson, received a cable from Lieutenant Patterson saying that he was safe in an English port.

164 U. S. TROOPERS ON TUSCANIA LAID IN FOREIGN GRAVES

War's sorrow entered Southern California homes today.

Announcement from Washington showed that among the Tuscania's heroic dead were four boys of the Southland. Two were Los Angeles lads, one was from Santa Monica, and one was an El Monte boy.

THE DEAD

Claude W. Walker, Hotel Preston, 206 East Ninth street, Los Angeles.

Alexander S. Gillespie, 842 West Seventeenth street, Los Angeles.

Ora L. McCoy, El Monte.

Delbert E. Inglehart, Santa Monica.

Gillespie was a member of the 20th engineers. He was a son of Mrs. Agnes Gillespie and had two sisters, one in Los Angeles and one, a Mrs. Gerard, in Palms.

Mrs. Gillespie was visiting her daughter in Palms today when the news of her son's death was given her. She bore up bravely under the blow, though she almost collapsed with the first shock.

"Did His Duty," Says Mother

"My boy did his duty," sobbed Mrs. Gillespie. "I am proud of him. That's all I can say."

Walker was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Walker. He had not been in Los Angeles for a few weeks before he entered the army in Oklahoma. He first was assigned to Camp Travis, Tex. He was selected with five others from that camp "for dangerous service." Just what that was is not known. His mother received a letter from him a few days ago, just before he sailed on the Tuscania.

Walker was a man of magnificent physique and had qualified as a the heart to ask him not to answer the call."

Inglehart was a veteran soldier. He served three years in the Fourth United States cavalry, his enlistment having just come to an end when the war with Germany was declared. He reenlisted and was attached to the 100th aero squadron. He was 24 years old, a man of unusually powerful physique and an expert swimmer.

McCoy was one of the best known young men in El Monte. He was in business there and had been for years when he answered the call to the colors and became a member of the 20th engineers. He was 28 years old and had lived in El Monte practically all his life.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. McCoy. He was a member of the firm of McCoy Bros., cigar dealers, being associated with his brother Ben. The aged father was heartbroken when informed of the loss of his son, but was consoled by sharpshooter. He was an expert automobile driver. He was 30 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker had clung persistently to the hope that their son had survived.

Proud of Way He Died

"He was so strong and brave," said Mrs. Walker, "that it didn't seem possible he could have lost his life. It seems as if we could not bear the loss, but we must do the best we can. We can be proud of the way he died, at least."

Inglehart's death was the more heartrending to his mother, Mrs. Henry E. Inglehart, 2527 Lake street, Santa Monica, because she had twice dreamed since the loss of the Tuscania that her boy had come home to her.

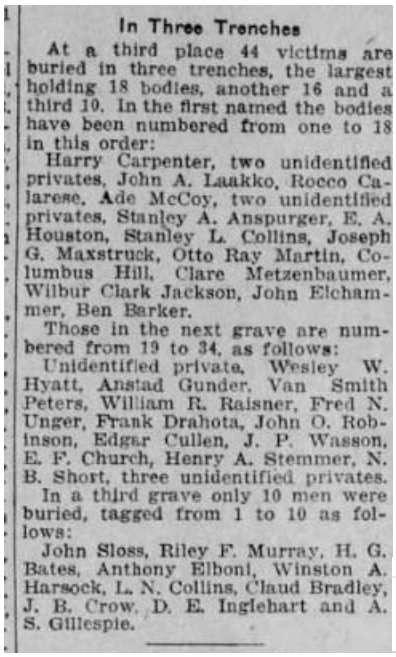

When the news of the sinking first came to Mr. and Mrs. Inglehart they refused to believe that their son had met death. The first night after she received the news, Mrs. Inglehart dreamed that she saw her boy saved from the sea and landing from a lifeboat. The night following, a dream came to her in which she saw Delbert entereing the front gate and stepping upon the porch of his home. The impression was so vivid upon her that it seemed when she first awakened as if the boy's homecoming were a reality.

"It seems as if his death couldn't be true," Mrs. Inglehart sobbed. "I was afraid when he left, but he wouldn't hang back and I didn't have

TWO GRIEF FILLED HOMES IN THE BAY DISTRICT

Two of the victims of the ill-fated transport Tuscania, who were identified and buried yesterday, have parental ties in the bay district. The boys are:

DELBERT INGLEHART, of 2527 Lake street, Santa Monica.

ALEXANDER S. GILLISPIE, formerly of 842 West Seventeenth street, Los Angeles, but whose mother now lives at 343 Villa City.

Both parents had hoped against hope that their boys might not be among the dead. Both boys had been reported among the survivors during the early news that came from the Tuscania. Not until yesterday was their identification fully established.

Alexander Gillispie was a brother of William Gillispie, in the employ of the Evening Vanguard.

Delbert Inglehart was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Inglehart. He had served five years in the United States cavalry and had been home but a short time before he was drafted. He was among the very first selectmen to be sent to Camp Lewis. His sister was but recently married to Lieutenant George Murray, at present at the Presidio.

Both boys had just attained their twenty-fourth year. Inglehart had been a member of the Washington school in Santa Monica and was the one who gave the alarm when that school was discovered on fire about ten years ago.

The parents, grief-stricken, surely have the extreme sympathy of everybody.

CIVIC SERVICE FLAG.

Santa Monica will Unfurl Banner in Honor of its Citizens who are Now Serving Their Country.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 19.—With Commissioner William H. Carter of the department of public works in his capacity as captain of the local Home Guards acting as master of ceremonies, and H. M. Gorham, member of the Santa Monica Bay district exemption board, as the speaker of the evening, the city service banner will be raised here for the first time on Thursday evening, with appropriate ceremonies. The municipal band will give a patrotic concert, and Home Guards, Boy Scouts, G.A.R. and other patriotic organizations, including the Red Cross and the British Ambulance Society, will have a part in the occasion, which takes place in front of the City Hall, from whose tower the banner will fly.

The civic service flag already contains 208 stars, each one of which is given individuality by the initials of the man it represents, worked by the hand of a sweetheart, mother or wife of the soldier. The flag itself is the handiwork of Mrs. George Sutors, wife of the custodian of the City Hall. It measures 16x24 feet. It is planned by the Home Guards, under whose auspices the banner was made, to take it down every two weeks and add stars for other men going into service. There is room for 300 of these tokens on the banner.

There are six gold stars on the flag, including one for Delbert E. Inglehart, who lost his life on the Tuscania.

SPECIAL TRIBUTE TO SANTA MONICA BOY.

STREWING OCEAN WITH FLOWERS FEATURE OF MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, May 25.—The first of Santa Monica's soldier boys to be lost at sea in this war will be remembered next Thursday when the usual ceremony of honoring the nation's dead lost in naval combat is observed by the strewing of the ocean with flowers after public memorial exercises on the Municipal Pier.

Sergt. Delbert E. Inglehart, who lost his life when the United States transport Tuscania was sunk by a Hun torpedo, and the first local boy in the United States service to die at sea since the entrance of America into the war, is the one who will be especially remembered. The day's memorial programme will be carried out under the auspices of Stephen Jackson Post, G.A.R., of this city, under the direction of Commander William M. Sanders, Adjt. F. C. Grant, and Harry J. Engelbrecht, the latter being the marshal of the parade.

The G.A.R. veterans and the ladies' auxiliaries of that organization will leave from the City Hall at 9 a.m. to decorate the graves of comrades, returning in time to take a place in the parade that leaves the City Hall at 10 o'clock for the Municipal Pier.

In addition to the strewing of flowers on the ocean by school children and the members of patriotic organizations, the exercises will include an oration by Dr. Lewis Thurber Guild, pastor of the East Hollywood Methodist Church, and editor of the Santa Monica Outlook; an address to veterans, by Commander Sanders; patriotic songs by Sam V. Carlisle; an address by Mayor S. L. Berkley of this city; the singing of "America" by a quartette, and the audience, and the benediction by Rev. Walter F. Troeger.

In the parade will march Mayor Berkley and other city officials, platoon of police headed by Chief F. W. Ferguson, the Municipal Band, Santa Monica Home Guards, in command of Capt. William H. Carter, City Commissioner of Public Works; Sons of Veterans, G.A.R. Ladies' Circle, G.A.R., Red Cross officials and nurses in uniform, Westlake Military School cadets, Boy Scouts, school children, and citizens.

RAISE OVER $500.

More than $500 was raised last night at the Empire Day dance given by British-born residents of this community in the Santa Monica Bay Cities' Chapter House for the benefit of the American Red Cross, it was announced today by Frederick P. Lee, who planned the affair as an appreciation of what the American Red Cross had done for the British forces.

TRIBUTE TO SEA HEROES.

Memorial Services in Bay Cities Impressive.

Speaker Makes Special Plea for Gen. Wood.

Tyson Returns from "Somewhere in Nevada."

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, May 30.—This city and Venice today observed Memorial Day with services of prayer and patriotic appeal in the churches, in compliance with the President's proclamation, and with the usual naval ritual, that includes the strewing of flowers upon the ocean in memory of the nation's heroes who have died at sea. This observance of the day, the most extensive in the history of the city, owing to the patriotic feeling engendered by the present war against the Kaiser and kultur, was rendered doubly solemn by the fact that six Santa Monica heroes have already given their lives in this war, one of them, Sergt. Delbert E. Inglehart, having gone down when the Tuscania was torpedoed, his death adding the sixth gold star to the Santa Monica city service flag. For him many flowers were strewed upon the ocean today.

The observance began at 9 a.m. when the G.A.R., the Women's Relief Corps and the G.A.R. Circle left for the cemetery laden with flowers for those veterans who sleep there.

Rev. C. S. Maddox of the First Baptist Church, who accompanied the patriotic organizations to the cemetery, there delivered an eloquent address to the unknown dead.

Exercises were held later at the municipal pier, where Dr. Lewis Thurber Guild was the orator of the day. He made a strong plea for the placing of Gen. Leonard Wood in active service in France, declaring that he was one of the best generals in the American army. He declared that one of the most important things before the country today was to ascertain what political influence was keeping him from his rightful place.

Body of Santa Monica Hero On Way Here

"To those who devoutly died for their country it is right that people come and pray at their tomb," wrote Raymond Poincare, president of France, in the back ground of a symbolic poster which France sent in appreciation of Delbert Inglehart, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Inglehart of 236 Central avenue, Ocean Park.

He gave his life when the Tuscania went down February 5, 1918. His body will arrive in Santa Monica late next week for military honors.

The service of Inglehart who was 23 years of age, was honored in Scotland with the 160 other boys who made the supreme sacrifice and his body was laid at rest on the shores of the island of Isly. His father and mother sent for the body a month ago, and it will lie in state in the parlors of J. W. Todd until the arrangements for a military funeral have been completed by the city of Santa Monica and the American Legion.

It will be held from the Christian church of Ocean Park where his father and mother worship.

Inglehart was the first Santa Monica boy to make the supreme sacrifice overseas.

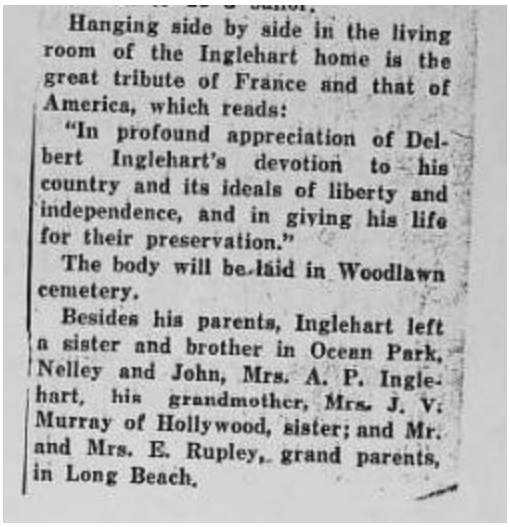

He had been in the regular army for four years, stationed at Honolulu. In June of 1917 he came home on reserve and was employed as a bus driver. He was called to Camp Lewis in October.

About February 1 the transport Tuscania steamed across the sea. On the fifth, she entered the channel between Ireland and Scotland. The rest of the thrilling tragedy of the great boat and her gallant crew was told the Ingleharts by one of the officers:

"About 8 o'clock the giant torpedo struck us and we began to sink rapidly. The night was pitch dark. The wind roared, and the sea raged and tore mightily. It was so cold that many of us were half frozen, and the water turned to ice as it dashed up on our decks. About a quarter of the life boats were destroyed by the torpedo, else we would not have lost the 164 of our 2000 boys. According to his drill, Inglehart got into the boat reserved for him and others of his comrades. Heroically Inglehart and his friends, picked up dozens of drowning boys who had no boats. As far as I know the boat Inglehart was in did not find shore in that tempestuous blackness until 2 o'clock in the morning. They were dashed upon the rocks and mangled and crushed to death. We found Inglehart and his comrades several days later lying dead against the great pitiless rocks of Scotland's coast."

Inglehart was a mechanic in the 158th Aero Squadron, though he was with the Fourth Cavalry during his service in Honolulu. He was born in Muskegon county, Michigan, in 1884.

His mother declares that ever since he was a little boy it had been his ambition to be a sailor.

Hanging side by side in the living room of the Inglehart home is the great tribute of France and that of America, which reads:

"In profound appreciation of Delbert Inglehart's devotion to his country and its ideals of liberty and independence, and in giving his life for their preservation."

The body will be laid in Woodlawn cemetery.

Besides his parents, Inglehart left a sister and brother in Ocean Park, Nelley and John, Mrs. A. P. Inglehart, his grandmother, Mrs. J. V. Murray of Hollywood, sister; and Mr. and Mrs. E. Rupley, grand parents, in Long Beach.

SANTA MONICA TO HONOR HERO DEAD.

CITY PAYS HOMAGE TO SOLDIER KILLED WHILE ENGAGED IN RESCUE WORK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 8.—In order that the city of Santa Monica as well as the American Legion may have the opportunity of honoring Delbert Inglehart, a military funeral will be held when his body arrives here from Scotland late next week.

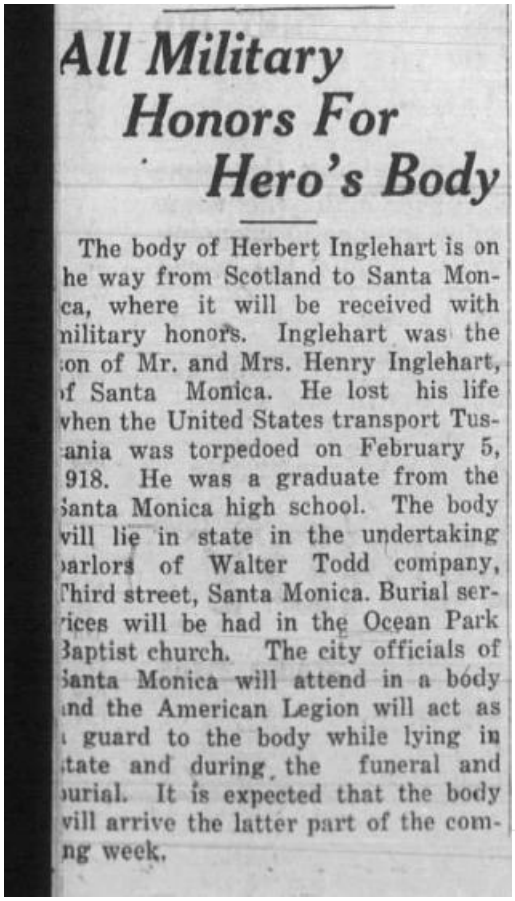

Inglehart, aged 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Inglehart of 236 Central avenue, Ocean Park was killed Feb. 5, 1918, when the transport Tuscania went down in the channel between Scotland and Ireland. Inglehart was to have served in France with the One Hundred Fifty-eighth Aero Squadron.

The body, which has rested on the coast of the island of Islev for two years, will lie in state in the undertaking establishment of Todd & Co., until arrangements are completed for the impressive military cortege and service.

The Inglehart family is in receipt of a certificate honoring the bravery of their son, by President Poincare of France, and of a like certificate from the American government.

Inglehart, according to his commanding officer, was dashed against the pitiless rocks of Scotland's coast, after he had taken several drowning men into his lifeboat, and was crushed to death.

DELBERT E. INGLEHART FUNERAL TOMORROW

Funeral services for Delbert E. Inglehart of the 158th aero squadron of Southern California will be held tomorrow at the Rose Avenue Christian church of Ocean Park.

Inglehart died February 2, 1918, when the transport on which he was being taken to France was torpedoed off the coast of Ireland. With 32 other comrades he was buried in Ireland, the body being exhumed and brought to America a few weeks ago.

Astonishing that two years later, the date of the sinking has been forgotten – sunk NOT on 2 Feb but on 5 Feb 1918 – "Los Angeles (CA) Evening Express" Saturday 23 Oct 1920 p 15

Body of Californian Received from Army Cemetery Overseas.

Funeral services for Delbert E. Inglehart, of the One Hundred Fifty-eighth Aero Squadron of Southern California, will be held tomorrow at the Rose-avenue Christian Church of Ocean Park, at 2:30 p.m.

Mr. Inglehart died Feb. 2, 1918, when the ship in which he was being transported to Europe was torpedoed off the coast of Scotland. The body was washed ashore with the bodies of thirty-one of his comrades, and since then has been in one of the foreign army cemeteries. The body arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, and was taken to the home of Mr. Inglehart's parents, 237 Central avenue, Ocean Park. Interment will be at Woodlawn Cemetery, Santa Monica.

SOLDIER'S FUNERAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 22.—The body of Delbert Inglehart, Ocean Park boy, who was killed on the coast of Scotland, when the transport Tuscania was sunk by a German torpedo, arrived in Santa Monica this afternoon, and will lie in state at the undertaking establishment of J. W. Todd, until Monday, when the American Legion, Santa Monica Post, will hold a military funeral for him. Inglehart who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Inglehart of 236½ Central avenue, Ocean Park, was 22 years of age. According to his commanding officer, he died bravely, trying to save the lives of his comrades. The funeral will be held from the Rove-avenue Christian Church, at 2:30 Monday. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

On Trial Charged With Keeping Illegal House

The trial of Mrs. Marie Taylor, accused of keeping a disorderly house on Raymond avenue, Santa Monica, began today before Justice A. A. Weber, sitting for Police Judge M. R. King. The defendant demanded a jury trial.

The cases of Mrs. Hazel Inglehart and William Lower, charged with violating the Santa Monica rooming-house ordinance, will be heard later.

Woman is Found Guilty of Charge

Before Judge Weber, acting for Police Judge M. R. King, in the Santa Monica police court yesterday, Mrs. Marie Taylor was found guilty of maintaining a house of assignation on Raymond avenue in that city. She will be sentenced on Friday.

William Lawlor, who was a candidate for director of the Santa Monica municipal band, who, with Mrs. Hazel Inglehart, was arrested in the Raymond avenue house at the same time as Mrs. Taylor, will be in court for his examination on August 19.

Mrs. Inglehart, who was an alleged inmate of the Taylor house, and was known as Mrs. Gregory, was a witness for Mrs. Taylor. She is a ward of the juvenile court and will be turned over to the juvenile authorities for violating her parole.

FORMER FIRE CHIEF FACES BIGAMY QUIZ

Ex-Santa Monica Official Denies Earlier Marriage; Prosecutor Goes Slow

Too many wives were credited by deputy sheriffs to Edward D. Marshall, former assistant fire chief of Santa Monica, who yesterday was jailed on a charge of suspicion of bigamy. Deputies Brewster and Croushorn arrested Marshall, who is 38 years of age, at 408 West Broadway, Glendale, where he lives with his wife, Mrs. Hazel Inglehart Marshall. They were married September 26, 1921. According to the deputies, an Edward D. Marshall married Martha Lebeaude on May 9, 1912. Marshall denies this marriage.

Marshall left the Santa Monica fire department six weeks ago, but has applied for reinstatement. After hearing an application for a complaint of bigamy yesterday, Dep Dist.-Atty. McIsaac expressed belie that if there had been any bigamy, it was outlawed by the statute of limitations.

Repatriate Dies After Operation

Charles E. Cady, 45, who prepared the food for American prisoners at Hongkong before their evacuation to the United States, is dead at Inglewood after undergoing an emergency operation.

A former ship's steward on luxury liners, Cady took over the job of conserving and preparing the scanty provisions allowed the United States nationals after Hongkong fell, and was credited with keeping illness and deaths among them at a minimum. He returned to America last Summer on the exchange ship Gripsholm.

His privations while a prisoner broke his health and he died in a hospital Wednesday night. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

To whom it may concern:

Dear Sir:

Mr. Chester E. Inglehart operated a number of different boats for me over a period of the last twenty years. He has always been very neat in appearance and has kept the boat neat and clean.

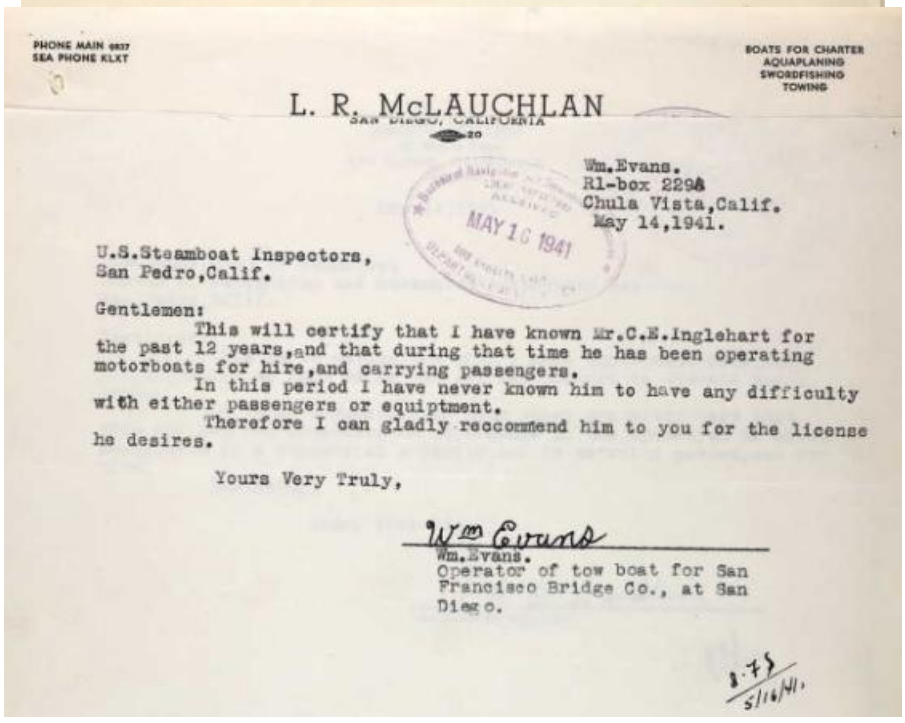

He is excellent in the handling of the boat. He has never had any accidents or any complaints from the passengers. I'm sure you'll find him truly satisfactory.

Respectfully yours,

SPEND 12 HOURS CLINGING TO BOAT

PAIR SAVED OFF LAGUNA

Clinging for 12 hours to the mast of a fishing boat, six miles off the coast of Laguna Beach, Chester E. Inglehart, captain of the 26-foot craft 27A383, and a friend, Bernard "Bill" Weil of Newport Beach, who made the fishing trip with him, were picked up early yesterday afternoon by four young men from Ontario who were cruising around the coast near Laguna.

The young men were D. E. Gates of 130 East California boulevard, C. B. Shadey and Mel Munson of 418 East Transit avenue, and George Youngblood, 114½ Pleasant street, Ontario. Six flares were sent up during the night by the men but were unnoticed by airplanes which flew overhead several times or by a purse-seiner which passed them.

It is thought that the boat may have been overloaded since so large a load never had been carried on it before. That a slow leak developed in the hull is thought to be a possibility. The men both are recovering at their homes, Capt. Inglehart living at Costa Mesa with a sister, Mrs. Louise Bechtold. They are confined to their beds and are suffering from exposure and from swallowing large quantities of sea water.

Two-ton Catch

Capt. Inglehart and Weil set sail for the San Onofre fishing banks Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock. Running into a unusually large school of mackerel they fished until 8 p. m., when it is estimated they had aboard about two tons of fish. They headed their boat toward Newport and three hours later were about six miles off the coast.

Weil was asleep in the cabin when Inglehart noticed that the boat seemed to drag. Going to the cabin he found it filling with water and both he and Weil put on life belts. Water filled the cabin and stopped the engine and the boat soon began to sink.

Became Delirious

As the hours passed both men became delirious at times, Weil's thoughts being of his wife and family of young children. Several times one or the other lost his hold on the mast to be rescued by his companion. With the coming of day the men believed that some boat could see them, but 12 hours had passed before they were sighted by the crew on the speed boat. The men seeing the speed boat about five miles away, in a last desperate effort, waved a white shirt.

Evening News Photo-Engraving

Wild Boat May Have Hit Him, Police Claim

Diligent search was continued today for the body of a Santa Cruz part-time commercial fisherman and Santa Cruz Portland Cement company employe—31-year-old Clyde R. Gillenberg—whose open skiff with auxiliary motor was found cruising empty in aimless circles about a half-mile off lighthouse point late yesterday afternoon.

Chief of Police Al Huntsman today issued a request to all fishermen to search for the body of the 15-year local resident, father of a four-year-old son, who was believed drowned when hurled overboard from his 16-foot boat.

According to police, Gillenberg had been fishing and apparently had either been knocked overboard by the boom of his sail, had been jerked into the water by a surge as he started his motor, or had fallen overboard and had been hit by his boat as it ran in circles.

Police reported today that speedboats of all deep sea barge companies at the wharf had scouted the water in the area since early this morning for a sign of Gillenberg. His 10-pound leather coat and hat had been found near his boat yesterday. The former apparently had been abandoned in his death struggle, police indicated.

ON LOOKOUT

Meantime, all local fishing boats have been ordered to be on the lookout.

Searchers today reported it was impossible to grapple in the area, due to the craggy bottom and due to inability to determine where he might have gone down. Authorities indicated an accident was responsible.

The last to see Gillenberg alive, it was reported, were Michael Gangloff and John Pinkham, fishermen, who were near the vicinity of his boat.

It was said they had been close together all day but that about 3:15 they decided to go in. They started, but when about a block away Pinkham saw the Gillenberg boat running free and in circles. He and Gangloff returned to the scene and chased the free boat. After catching it, they used it for about half an hour hunting for him.

FOUND COAT

Meantime Chester Inglehart, skipper of a fishing barge, had come by and reportedly found the hat and coat in the water.

The empty boat was brought in by Pinkham and the outboard motor was taken to police headquarters.

Gillenberg had been employed at the cement plant at Davenport for the past four years and prior to that worked for Dick Watson at the Unique Smoke shop, it was said.

Surviving are his wife, Emma Ayers Gillenberg, of Santa Cruz, and a son, John Lain, 4.

Last night, immediately after report of the accident came to the wharf, a Stagnaro boat was hurriedly dispatched to the scene. On it were Stago Stagnaro, Joe Costella, Inspector Elmer Geyer, Officers George Cavanaugh and Holman Chaplin.

It was reported at the wharf today that the search was abandoned about noon today when the body was not sighted.

WEDDING AT HIGH NOON

A pretty wedding at high noon today, united in marriage Miss Sadie A. Inglehart of 2533 Lake street, Ocean Park, to James V. Murray of the New York Motion Picture company.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother in Ocean Park, the Rev. W. A. Wright officiating.

The bride was a charming vision in a blue taffeta frock made short, and enshrouded insoft filmy shadow lace, with corsage of white rose buds. The bridesmaid, Miss Effie Baker, wore a smart little model of white crepe de chine and carried a shower of carnations. The groom was attended by Chester Inglehart, brother of the bride.

A wedding dinner followed the ceremony; and tonight the young couple will be tendered a reception in Columbia hall.

Following the short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Murray will be at home at 2533 Lake street, Ocean Park.

Slick Streets

8 Killed In L.A. Traffic

Eight persons were killed in traffic accidents early today and last night, with five of the deaths attributed to accidents on rain-slick streets.

The deaths raised the year's traffic toll in Los Angeles city and county to 200, compared with 169 for the corresponding period last year. Dead were:

Wilbur Henning, 19, of 10118 Arleta Ave., Pacoima.

Robert Olson, 39, of 20202 Mayall St., Chatsworth.

Raymond H. Orozco, 22, of 4021 La Rica Ave., Baldwin Park.

Donald Sadler, 38, of 18352 Keswick St., Reseda.

Joseph Lee Allen, 56, of 2823 Bellflower Blvd., Bellflower.

Frank Alexander, 68, of 533 W. Sixth St., Long Beach.

Mrs. Ada Elizabeth Kraft, 58, of 2464 First St., La Verne.

John Inglehart, 59, of 1953 Chestnut Ave., Long Beach.

Henning and Olson were victims of a headon collision of their cars during the rain early today at Wilbur Avenue and Devonshire Street in Granada Hills.

WIDOW CRITICAL

Olson's wife, Leona, 39, suffered critical injuries.

Wet pavement was a factor in the accident fatal to Orozco. Pomona police said he was a passenger in a car that skidded against a traffic island and light standard at Holt and Bellevue Avenues in Pomona at 3:35 a.m. today. He died nearly eight hours later in Pomona Valley Hospital. Driver Darryl Vaughn, 22, of 3883 Baldwin Park Ave., Baldwin Park, suffered serious injuries.

Sadler was found dead today, 12 hours after his car plunged over a 300-foot cliff off Malibu Canyon Road, 2½ miles east of U.S. Highway 101A.

Allen lost control of his car on wet pavement. He was killed when it struck a center divider on Rosecrans Avenue near Paramount Boulevard.

Alexander was killed when struck by a car as he walked across Sixth Street at Daisy Avenue in Long Beach. Driver Donald H. McCann, 25, of 634 Magnolia Ave., Long Beach, was booked on suspicion of felony drunk driving.

HIT TRAINS

Mrs. Kraft was killed when her car collided with the Santa Fe Chief at the Carrion Road crossing in La Verne.

Inglehart was killed when his car struck the side of a freight train engine at the East Alameda Street crossing in Wilmington.

MRS. CURTIS MAKES TESTIMONY CHANGE

Declares in Affidavit That She Was Not Wife of Ogden Man But of His Cousin.

Indicating that Mrs. Ruella P. Curtis, as she was known in Ogden, is now at Evanston, Wyo., and going under the name of Ruella P. Nicholson, a letter was received in Ogden yesterday bearing an affidavit in which the woman who became notorious because of her efforts to kidnap the Nicholson children, declares that she is not the former wife of the Nicholson in Ogden, but that she married his cousin, who is now dead. During the trial of habeas corpus proceedings, Mrs. Curtis claimed that she was the legal wife of Edward Nicholson at the time that her stepdaughter married him.

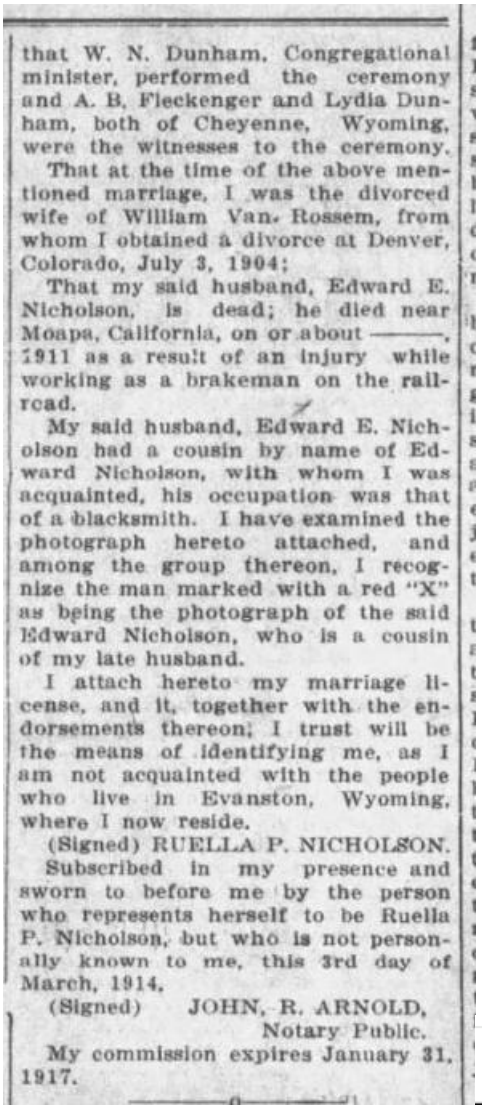

The affidavit was accompanied by a photograph of the Nicholson now in Ogden and also with the marriage certificate, which had been a matter of court record here.

Court officials in Ogden, who are zealously guarding the two little children following Judge Harris' order to take them from custody of all relatives, have been puzzled as to Mrs. Curtis' whereabouts. They believe she has located at Evanston as the nearest city to the home of the children and outside the court's jurisdiction, as contempt proceedings here still hold against her. The affidavit received yesterday in full is as follows:

The State of Wyoming, County of Uinta—ss.

I, Ruella P. Nicholson, being first duly sworn to on my oath depose and say:

That I am the identical person who was joined in the bonds of matrimony with Edward E. Nicholson at Cheyenne, Wyoming, on November 4, 1904, that W. N. Dunham, Congregational minister, performed the ceremony and A. B. Fleckenger and Lydia Dunham, both of Cheyenne, Wyoming, were the witnesses to the ceremony.

That at the time of the above mentioned marriage, I was the divorced wife of William Van Rossem, from whom I obtained a divorce at Denver, Colorado, July 3, 1904;

That my said husband, Edward E. Nicholson, is dead; he died near Moapa, California, on or about ———, 1911 as a result of an injury while working as a brakeman on the railroad.

My said husband, Edward E. Nicholson had a cousin by name of Edward Nicholson, with whom I was acquainted, his occupation was that of a blacksmith. I have examined the photograph hereto attached, and among the group thereon, I recognize the man marked with a red "X" as being the photograph of the said Edward Nicholson, who is a cousin of my late husband.

I attach hereto my marriage license, and it, together with the endorsements thereon, I trust will be the means of identifying me, as I am not acquainted with the people who live in Evanston, Wyoming, where I now reside.

(Signed) RUELLA P. NICHOLSON.

Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me by the person who represents herself to be Ruella P. Nicholson, but who is not personally known to me, this 3rd day of March, 1914.

(Signed) JOHN, R. ARNOLD,
Notary Public.

My commission expires January 31, 1917.

Married.

Today at the home of the bride's parents in Hope, occured the marriage of Miss Mamie Englebright to Wm. Engle. The ceremony took place at three o'clock, Rev. B. F. Webb officiating. Only a few friends and relatives were present to witness the marriage and offer congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Engle will reside at their farm near town. All unite in wishing them joy and prosperity.

Mamie Englebreit Engle (1881-1971)

WM. J. ENGEL

Wm. J. Engel, a resident of Hope for many years, died September 16, 1925, at Acampo, Calif., following a brief illness of two days. While he had not been very well for several years and was on a special diet for some time he was out and around, attending to the chickens and other chores up to the evening before. At supper time he spoke of being dizzy and a little later was feeling worse and was urged to retire, which he did. During the fore part of the night he spoke of this sickness as being too severe to stand and then turned on his side, after which he lost consciousness and passed away about 2 p. m., the following day.

Mr. Engel left Hope two years ago this fall with his family in search of better health and they were nicely settled out there and he apparently was greatly benefitted.

Wm. J. Engel was born in Hope, Kans., March 10, 1875, and was aged 50 years five months and 29 days. He was united in marriage to Mamie Engelbright in July 1899 and is survived by his wife and five children, Roy, Floyd, Irvin, Kenneth and Pearl, all of Acampo. Four brothers and four sisters are also left to mourn his loss, They are Fred, of Lodi, Cal.; Henry and John of Hope; Edward of St. Louis; Emma Miller of Marion, Kans.; Louise Reuscher of San Benito, Tex.; Rose Lauer of Elmo; Ida Ohmart of San Benito Tex.

Funeral services were held at the Hale & Bawden chapel, conducted by Rev. C. H. Stevens of the Congregational church. The Woodmen of the World had charge of the services at the cemetery.

Will Engel was quite well known and liked by every one around Hope. A jovial, happy, disposition, kind and loving to his family and a good neighbor. He was greatly missed when he left Hope, but every one wished for himself and family success in their new location. He will be more than missed by his family.

missed by his family.

The Dispatch joins in extending sincere sympathy to Mrs. Engel and her family, as well as the brothers and sisters.

IMPROMPTU WEDDING

Paul Baxter and Miss Pearl Englebright Wed at Home of Grandparents

A quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Armstrong, 1008 North Broadway, when their grandson, Paul Baxter, of Blythe, Cal., was married to Miss Pearl Englebright of Stockton, the young people announcing their intentions but a few moments before the ceremony.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Ruth Armstrong, aunt of the groom, the couple entered the living room where Rev. J. A. Stevenson met them and performed the impressive ring ceremony.

After congratulations and music, the young couple motored to Los Angeles, and will later go to San Diego where they will spend their honeymoon. They were entertained last night at the home of the groom's father.

Mr. Baxter is well known in the northern part of the county where he has always lived until his recent move to the Palo Verde Valley, where he has been engaged in the cotton industry until his call to the colors. The romance had its start in the bride's visits to her sister at Blythe.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Armstrong, Frank Baxter, Mrs. Fannie Tedford, Tommy and Margaret Tedford, Berta, Ruth and Will Armstrong.
